N.Y.C. TRAIN FROM CITY HITS TRUCK AT MATTOON, ILL., ONE MAN KILLED

More Than 12 Persons Injured — 9 Cars of Streamliner Derailed in Crash at Unguarded Crossing.

One man was killed and more than 12 persons injured when a New York Central streamliner, which left Union Station at 10:30 a.m. today, struck a truck at a crossing in Mattoon, Ill. Mattoon is about 125 miles northeast of St. Louis.

The collision, at 12:39 p.m., four minutes after the 11-car passenger train left the Mattoon depot, derailed nine cars.

Gary Bryant of Mattoon, driver for an asphalt company, was thrown from the truck and killed. The crossing, unprotected by warning devices, is known as Monroe Crossing.

Twelve stretcher patients were admitted to Mattoon Memorial Hospital. All were passengers or train crew members. Most of the passengers had boarded the diesel streamliner here, with some getting aboard at Mattoon.

In addition to the stretcher cases, a number of passengers were treated for less serious injuries.

The truck was demolished and a section of track was torn up. The mine derailed cars overturned, only two cars remaining on the tracks and upright.

Ambulances, physicians and first-aid workers were rushed to the scene from Charleston and Mattoon after word of the derailment was received.

The streamliner, whose next stop was Indianapolis, was due in New York about 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

BOARD RELENTS, LETS U.S. BEAR ENTER BRITAIN

LONDON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Aurora, an American polar bear, won the right today to enter Britain.

After a two-hour conference this morning, officials of the Government Board of Trade decided to lift the bar on Aurora's entry.

Aurora was shipped here from a Chicago zoo as a gift to Manchester's Bellevue zoo, but the Board of Trade at first refused to let her in.

Gerald Iles, Bellevue zoo superintendent, called the bar "fantastic." The Board of Trade had said: "Polar bears are not essential imports so they are barred. As we do not allow commercial zoos to buy polar bears in America, we cannot allow them to accept them as gifts. That might lead to abuse."

Aurora's failure to pick a mate from among five polar bears at Chicago's Brookfield zoo led to her presentation to the Manchester zoo, which has an eligible mate.

COLLEGE STUDENTS TO GET CHANCE TO GRADE TEACHERS

ELMIRA, N.Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—The teachers at Elmira College for Women will grade their students as usual at the end of the first semester this year and then the students will have their turn. They are going to rate the teachers.

The faculty has approved the plan unanimously, with the idea that it will help teachers improve techniques.

The teachers will be scored on such matters as sense of humor, fairness of examinations and how interesting classes are. The girls will not have to sign the rating sheets but must give their scholastic averages.

Two Severe Storms Strike City, 20 Persons Hurt, Damage Heavy

JOSEPH H. ROBLEY JR., Frankfort, Ind., manages wry smile as he surveys damage caused by hailstones to top of his convertible. Robley, who was driving across MacArthur bridge when storm struck, also suffered a facial cut.

—By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

THOMAS R. MURPHY, 1044 Hickory street, points to his eye which was cut and bruised when a large hailstone struck him as he was closing a window at his home. He was treated at City Hospital.

Heaviest Rainfall in 4 Years — Hailstones Large as Golfballs, 65 M.P.H. Winds.

Two severe storms, one accompanied by heavy hail, struck the St. Louis area last night, breaking windows, knocking down tree limbs, disrupting electricity to many homes and causing injuries to about 20 persons.

The rainfall, which continued today, was the heaviest in four years. The wind at times reached a velocity of 65 miles an hour. Some hailstones were as large as golf balls.

Rainfall totaled 2.22 inches in downtown St. Louis and 2.44 inches at Lambert-St. Louis Field in the 24 hours that ended at 8 a.m. today, giving the metropolitan area its heaviest rain since Aug. 12-13, 1950.

From 8 a.m. until 3 o'clock this afternoon, an additional three-quarters of an inch of rain fell, bringing the total so far this year to 21.13 inches, compared with a normal of 28.75 for the period since Jan. 1.

The Weather Bureau issued a warning that conditions favorable to tornadoes would occur tonight along a 100-mile area extending from west central to east central Missouri. However, it was emphasized that meteorological experts cannot pinpoint the locale of a tornado.

Arriving from the northwest shortly after 6 p.m., the first storm, which included wind, rain and hail, struck parts of St. Louis county, particularly University City and Brentwood, and swept through St. Louis and over to the East Side.

Windows Shattered.

The hail shattered windows in many homes in an area extending south from Union Station to Geyer avenue, between Twelfth and Eighteenth streets. Plate-glass windows in many downtown buildings also were broken.

Most of the injured were cut by flying glass, although Thomas R. Murphy, a clerk, 1044 Hickory street, suffered a cut and bruised eye when struck by a large hailstone as he started to close a window in his home.

Hailstones tore holes in the tops of convertibles driven by Robert J. Roy, 1206 South Eighteenth street, and Joseph H. Robley Jr. of Frankfort, Ind., as they were driving across MacArthur bridge. Both men suffered cuts from glass from shattered windshields.

Damage estimated at $10,000 was caused at Shaw's Garden by the hail, which broke 2542 panes in greenhouses. George H. Pring, superintendent, said the damage was the worst since the St. Louis tornado of 1927.

Broken glass covered the floors in 35 buildings at the gardens, 2315 Tower Grove avenue, including the floral-display houses and the plant-growing houses.

Hail riddled the greenhouse of Plant Exchange, Inc., wholesale florists at 2745 LaSalle street. All windows on the west side of the greenhouse were knocked out.

The storm caused damage of $6000 to $7000 at the City Hospital group of buildings, including Bliss Psychopathic Hospital and the nurses' home. Mrs. Edward G. Brungard, director of public welfare, announced.

She said about 700 window

EDUCATIONAL TV PROGRAMS START TONIGHT ON KETC

Educational television broadcasting will begin here tonight at 9 o'clock with Station KETC's first program. The one-hour opening telecast, on Channel 9, will be preceded by a test pattern.

Arthur H. Compton, board chairman of the city's educational television commission, will outline goals and policies of the station, and Martin Quigley, KETC's general manager, will introduce other members of the board.

An original play, "The Second Opportunity," will dramatize a free society's need for citizens capable of making independent judgments.

Other programs for adults will continue through Friday, each starting at 7:55 p.m. In-school shows for the classroom and an after-school show for children, "The Finder," will begin next Monday. Operating within the very high frequency band, the station may be tuned in on regular receiving sets, without converters.

BRITISH OFFICIALS COME TO RESCUE OF MIDGET BULL

LONDON, Sept. 20 (AP)—A plaintive plea on behalf of the miniature bull of Bahrein won sympathetic approval today from the British Admiralty.

Early this year the royal navy sent by the frigate Wild Goose a miniature Socotran bull for the Bahrein government's experimental farm. Bahrein is an independent sheikdom made up of several islands in the Persian gulf. It is under British protection.

A few days ago the following signal was tapped out to the admiralty:

"It would be much appreciated, particularly by the bull, if H. M. S. Dalrymple while in passage from Zanzibar to the Persian Gulf, could call at Socotra (an Indian ocean island south of Arabia) to obtain a mate of the same species."

Today, the Admiralty sanctioned the project.

BROWNELL CALLS FOR INQUIRY ON FHA, FORMER AID CLYDE L. POWELL

He Directs U.S. Attorneys in All Districts to Present Testimony on Criminal Conduct to Grand Juries.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP) — Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. today ordered a special grand jury convened here to investigate "possible bribery and other criminal conduct" in the federal housing program.

Brownell directed specifically that United States Attorney Leo A. Rover "present evidence of the activites of Clyde L. Powell," who resigned as assistant commissioner of the Federal Housing Administration last April 13 during Congressional investigations of alleged irregularities in the agency.

Brownell announced also that United States attorneys in all other districts across the country are being directed "to present to grand juries as soon as material is available full testimony concerning criminal conduct uncovered by the Administration's FHA investigations in their districts."

He said Warren Olney III, assistant attorney general for criminal prosecutions, was sending out these instructions.

Charges of 'Windfall' Profits.

Congressional investigators have asserted that numerous builders in various parts of the country made millions of dollars in "windfall profits" by getting FHA-insured loans on apartment projects which exceeded the actual cost of the projects.

Brownell's announcement made reference to this in relation to Powell. It said:

"While assistant commissioner, Powell had charge of the rental housing program which operated from 1946 to 1950. This program resulted in windfalls to speculators exceeding $51,000,000 alone in the 285 cases reviewed by the special investigations office set up by the present Administration in FHA."

Arrest Record Cited.

The department announcement also asserted:

"Powell, who entered FHA in 1938, rose to assistant commissioner despite knowledge of the former Administration of an arrest record, including conviction for jewel theft."

Powell, when called before the Senate Banking Committee during its investigation of FHA, declined to answer questions. He pleaded the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution which provides that a man may not be forced to give evidence against himself.

The Banking Committee put into its record a statement that Powell had a criminal record.

The Justice Department declined to say exactly when the grand jury will convene here. However, it was learned that Powell was served with a subpena last Friday for a grand jury appearance on Oct. 6.

SPARKMAN LINKED TO FHA LOAN DEAL

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 20 (UP)—A former Federal Housing Administration appraiser testified at a Senate committee hearing today it was "common knowledge" that Senator John J. Sparkman of Alabama brought pressure to bear in behalf of a loan for an apartment house whose builders are accused of making "windfall" profits.

The testimony was given by James Swan of Indianapolis, as Senator Homer E. Capehart's Senate Banking Committee opened two days of hearings in an investigation of "windfall" profits on more than $40,000,000 worth of housing projects in six states.

Swan said it was known in the FHA office in Indianapolis that Sparkman "was putting on the pressure in behalf of Essex House," a 14-story downtown Indianapolis apartment building. Last week, Federal Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole said the firm which built it realized a $253,800 "windfall" profit on its FHA loan.

Another witness, Patrick J. Smith, an attorney for an Indianapolis contractor quoted Marvin Warner, Cincinnati, president of the firm which got the Essex House loan, as saying Sparkman was "either interested in the deal or is backing us."

Clarence M. Dinkins, assistant counsel for the committee, asked both Swan and Smith if there was any tangible evidence Sparkman was involved in the loan. Both said no, it was just a rumor.

Dinkins said it should be pointed out that "even the rumors are quite stale" since the deal was made in 1950.

Sparkman is a member of Capehart's committee, but neither he nor any of the other 14 members of the committee, except Capehart, are attending the hearing.

Capehart said his committee probably will hold day-and-night hearings during its two days here.

By ALVIN H. GOLDSTEIN
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 20—Intensifying the campaign to prevent the seating of Red China's representatives in the United Nations, the United States today submitted a document listing 39 "acts of piracy" perpetrated since 1950 by the Peiping regime against the United States, Britain and other free nations.

The listing, viewed by U.N. observers as a United States effort to head off any attempt to reopen the seating question by focusing attention on the Red Chinese record, came as a prelude to the final session this afternoon of the eighth General Assembly and tomorrow's opening of the ninth Assembly.

The document, distributed here by United States Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. "for the information of the public," extended the tabulation of six Communist acts of aggression he submitted this month to the Security Council. Those were proved instances of attacks by Russian planes on United States aircraft in neutral territories.

Korean Issue Unsettled.

The eighth Assembly session recessed last December with the Korea peace question unsettled. This issue and more than 60 others will be turned over to the ninth Assembly.

United States Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is expected to arrive tomorrow to head the delegation in the opening days. He will make a policy speech later in the week.

The list includes 27 attacks on British ships or aircraft, five incidents involving the United States, two each involving Denmark and Panama, and one each against Norway, France and Portugal. One outstanding transgression on the list was the capture of three Americans who were released Sept. 12 after more than a year in Red Chinese jails.

The three men, Richard Applegate, Hong Kong correspondent of the National Broadcasting Co., Donald Dixon, a reporter for International News Service, and Benjamin Krasner, a retired sea captain, were accused of "intruding into Chinese territorial waters" when on a cruise near Hong Kong in 1953.

In his Security Council move to focus world opinion on Russian attacks against American planes on peaceful missions, Lodge pointed out that the conduct was "part of a pattern" of Communist belligerence. His complaint was prompted by the recent destruction by two Russian jet fighters of a naval weather patrol plane off the Siberian coast. One crew member was lost.

"In turn, this series of acts of piracy must be viewed as part of a still larger pattern," the United States spokesman asserted in introducing the list of Red Chinese offenses.

"I refer to the Chinese Communist record in Korea; the campaigns of extermination against the Chinese people themselves. . . . the boast of the Chinese communist leaders that they have the second largest army in the world—second only to the Soviet Union."

"Committed to Conquest."

"Within this larger pattern, the many violent actions off the Chinese coast over the past four years seem to reveal the basic character of the Red Chinese regime—a regime committed to any means whatever, but especially to violence, in orbs of conquest."

As in the Security Council previously, Lodge did not request U.N. action against the Communist transgressors. But the declaration was accepted as more than an expression of resentment or indignation.

As a political move in the world organization it offered support to nations who will vote against admitting Red Chinese

RADIOACTIVE RINGS FOR FINGERS ARE A NEW AID TO SAFETY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Radioactive finger rings are a new atomic age contribution to industrial safety, an Army specialist on atomic medicine said today.

Describing various uses of radioactive isotopes in medicine and in industry, Brig. Gen. Elbert DeCoursey, director of the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology, said in a talk at the opening exercises of the George Washington University School of Medicine:

"A woman must put her hand dangerously close to a cutting tool on a machine. She wears a ring that holds a radioisotope. The hand comes to the danger line, and a radiation detection instrument clicks high danger. This stops the machine."

MENDES-FRANCE OUTLINES OWN PLAN FOR BRINGING GERMANY INTO ALLIANCE

NINE MINISTERS RESIGN FROM VIET NAM CABINET

PARIS, Sept. 20 (AP) — Nine Viet Namese cabinet ministers handed their resignations today to Premier Ngo Dinh Diem, the French News Agency reported.

It quoted informed Viet Namese sources as saying Diem had not yet accepted the resignations.

Assassins struck twice in Indochina over the weekend. Laotian Defense Minister Kou Vora Vong was shot to death in Vientiane, Laos. Two other anti-Communist officials escaped bullets in Hanoi.

The crisis in Viet Nam came as a struggle between the Premier and the chief of staff of Viet Nam's army, Gen. Nguyen Van Hinh, resumed after a brief armistice. Diem is trying to oust the general.

Another cabinet member, Health Minister Pham Hum Chong, has been reported missing since Saturday.

Unconfirmed advices said he was arrested by the Caodaists, a religious sect, in a territory they hold north of Saigon when he went to rally ultra-nationalists to Diem's government. Other reports, also unconfirmed, declared Chong had deserted the government.

The assassination in the Laotian administrative capital—reported here by the French press agency—occurred at a dance at the home of Vice Premier Phoui Sananikone. Terrorists shot Vong to death and hurled hand grenades into the house, seriously wounding the wife of an unidentified foreign office official.

In Hanoi, meanwhile, terrorists fired on an automobile occupied by Hoang Nguyen, Viet Nam's information minister, and Biu Banhan, anti-Communist propaganda chief in the Red-encircled northern capital. Neither was injured.

In reply Diem summoned correspondents to his palace. He called Hinh a traitor and a rebel general who refused to obey orders.

Hinh announced yesterday that he had cabled former Emperor Bao Dai, Viet Nam's chief of state now in France, that Diem's government "is weak and a threat to the nation" and should be replaced.

The dispute started with the Premier's order to Hinh 10 days ago to quit his post and take a "special leave" in France. Hinh called the order an attempt to exile him and refused to obey.

Last week the two agreed on a truce under which Hinh was to designate his own successor and then would go to France, but at a time of his own choosing.

BLACK DENIES CALLANAN AND SHOULDERS BAIL

By JAMES DEAKIN
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20—Associate Justice Hugo L. Black of the United States Supreme Court declined today to act on requests by Lawrence Callanan, convicted labor racketeer, and former Police Lt. Louis Shoulders of St. Louis that they be released on bail while their appeals are pending.

In a brief statement "declining to act," Justice Black did not elaborate on his refusal to intervene in either case. However, the procedure is equivalent to denial of the requests for bail, a Supreme Court spokesman pointed out.

Attorneys for Callanan, former boss of Local 562, AFL Steamfitters' Union, transferred his request for bail to Justice Black after Associate Justice Tom C. Clark denied the petition last Thursday. Justice Black has overruled Justice Clark in other instances.

A similar request was filed with Justice Black Friday by attorneys for Shoulders. Justice Clark each had denied Shoulders's request last Aug. 13.

The former police officer was convicted of perjury as a result of his testimony in the Greenlease kidnaping case. Shoulders, who suffered a heart attack after the trial, based his plea for bail on his physical condition.

In denying bail for Callanan, Justice Clark rejected an argument that United States District Judge Rubey M. Hulen had gone beyond his proper function in a two-hour charge to the jury which convicted Callanan June 23.

AFL HEAD ASSAILS GOVERNMENT ON DROP IN ECONOMY

'Rising Profits Don't Balance Off Millions of Jobless,' Meany Tells Convention.

By EDWARD A. HARRIS
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20 — The real prophets of gloom and doom in this country are those who accept a slowed-down economy and growing unemployment with "smug satisfaction," President George Meany of the American Federation of Labor declared in his keynote address at the opening of the Federation's convention today.

With sharp sarcasm, Meany scored the "bluebird slogans" of Administration spokesmen who have called the business slowdown a "healthy readjustment," a "return to normalcy," and a year which is the "second best" of postwar days.

Profits and Unemployed.

"Rosy profit statements simply don't balance off the millions of unemployed," he said, citing present unemployment as 3,400,000. "You can't cancel out the workers' loss by the stockholders' gain."

For these millions of unemployed, he asserted, this is not their "second best year," but their worst year in a long time.

"Could we have won the last war," demanded Meany, "with the second best Army, the second best Navy and the second best Air Force?" He drew laughter when he added: "I've looked at many a secon best poker hand, too."

He expressed the hope that political adversaries of organized labor would come out "second best" in the coming congressional campaigns.

Meany quoted Assistant Secretary of Commerce Lothar Teetor as saying recently that depression talk was being indulged in by followers of Karl Marx. After assailing this line of reasoning, Meany said:

"Mr. Teetor should read up on the subject of Communism and then go down on his knees and

Roman Temple Found in Heart Of London to Be Covered Again

LONDON, Sept. 20 (AP)—A Roman empire temple uncovered here a few days ago by workmen starting a new office building seems doomed to be covered right up again after modern pilings are driven through its ancient stones.

Works minister Sir David Eccles picked his way about the dusty ruins for an hour today, then pronounced the death sentence:

"This is a very important find, but it is also an expensive and important site . . . it is quite impracticable to preserve this temple, and that is the view of the archeologists too."

The ruin lies in one of the most valuable commercial sites in London's City—the mile-square area serving as the financial heart of the British world.

The Times said several persons already had visited Eccles's office to protest "against the likelihood of this remarkable discovery being destroyed."

The contractors agreed to hold up work for two weeks to allow archeologists to make a complete plan of the temple for permanent record.

The temple dates back to the Second Century A.D. It has an area of about 60 by 20 feet, with a central chamber equivalent to a nave and two aisles divided by the bases of classical columns. There is a raised platform at one end, presumably an altar. Floors were made from oyster shells.

British Navy Gives In; 200 Wrens Permitted to Eat Out, Stay Slim

LEE-ON-SOLENT, England, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Royal Navy admitted defeat in a feminine battle of the bulge today and gave 200 girl sailors the right to stay slim.

The girls — members of the Women's Royal Naval Service (Wrens)—won permission to eat in restaurants near their barracks. For nearly a week they had boycotted the naval messroom, charging the food was ruining their figures.

Once permission was granted, most of the girls didn't want it. About 80 trooped off into town to eat salads and such. The great majority returned to the messroom and lunched on pea soup, steak pie, mashed potatoes and peas followed by tapioca pudding and jam sauce.

"Nothing fattening about that," said one male officer. Most of the girls seemed agreed it was a lot better than the grilled sausages, fried onions, boiled potatoes and suet pudding of a typical menu last week.

The girls' main complaint had been that the food was cooked for men and by men with no idea what a modern miss needs. Said one plump young Wren among the eating-out brigade:

"I finally revolted when my boy friend called me shipshape."

WOULD PERMIT BONN TO REARM UNDER BRUSSELS PACT PROVISIONS

Proposes Limits on Forces and Weapons, Would Accept 'Degree' of Supra-Nationality.

STRASBOURG, France, Sept. 20 (AP)—Premier Mendes-France called today for a new West European defense pact which he said could reduce French opposition to West Germany's entry into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The new organization, he said, could have a "degree of supra-nationality"—meaning some of the elements of a superstate. It was partly because the six-nation European Defense Community had too much supra-nationality in it that it was defeated in the French parliament.

Mendes-France spoke before the Council of Europe, made up of parliament members from the council's 15 nations.

Limitations on Arms.

The job of the new organization, which the French leader described as a changed and enlarged version of the Brussels pact of 1948, would be to set top limits to the armies and armaments of all member countries.

Any discrimination, he said, would be only on a "geographic and strategic basis."

(The United Press said Mendes-France called for an armaments control authority which would establish ceilings on arms, manpower and production, control the limitations on arms and distribute external aid, such as that from the United States. One of France's objections to the rearming of Germany has been based on the fear of resurgence of German military power.)

Basing the new European organization on the Brussels pact would meet one of France's objections to the EDC, which was that Britain refused to join it. The five-nation Brussels alliance bound France, Britain, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg to go to each other's aid in case of attack. Originally aimed at Germany, it was largely superseded by the later NATO agreement against Communist aggression, which includes the United States and Canada.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden revived the Brussels pact about two weeks ago when he proposed that it be enlarged by the admission of West Germany and Italy and substituted for the defunct EDC plan as a means of rearming Germany.

Speaks for 50 Minutes.

"Questions have arisen," Mendes-France said, "about the admission of West Germany to NATO. Once the organization that I have described is set up, the resistance to that in France would be greatly diminished."

The United States and Britain have been pressing for West Germany's entry into NATO since the French National Assembly killed the EDC plan which would have enrolled West Germans with the troops of France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg in a unified army.

France has been reluctant to agree to West German membership in NATO and it was clear today that the Premier would like to delay it until after his projected organization is set up.

Mendes-France spoke for 50 minutes, outlining his plan.

His forum, the European Council's assembly, was described by one member today as a consultative body that nobody consults. Its 132 delegates can do nothing without the unanimous approval of the upper house, a council of cabinet ministers. Though the council is formed on international parliamentary lines, it has no law-making powers.

Second-Best Solution.

The assemblymen were a little flattered at the attention from the French premier, a little disappointed that West German Chancellor Adenauer had not come to make the picture complete.

As partisans of a supra-national EDC, most of them could accept Mendes-France's ideas only as a second-best solution.

"We want to put the European machine back on the rails," he said.

At a news conference after his speech, Mendes-France was asked if he would veto West Germany entry into NATO.

"I never said so," he replied —speaking English for emphasis.

Asked what would happen if

Parliamentarian Disputes Senator's Contention Concerning Filling of Vacancy on Committee.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP) —Charles L. Watkins, the Senate parliamentarian, has upheld the validity of an elections subcommittee that issued a report critical of Senator Joseph R. McCarthy (Rep.), Wisconsin, early in January 1953.

One of the accusations brought against McCarthy in support of a pending resolution to censure him is that he was contemptuous of the Elections subcommittee and declined its invitations to testify about his financial affairs and other matters.

McCarthy, in defending himself before a special Senate committee now considering the charges, questioned whether the elections unit was "a valid committee" because of the manner in which a vacancy on it was filled late in November 1952.

Testimony on this point was taken from Watkins—no relation to Senator Arthur V. Watkins, censure subcommittee chairman —at a closed hearing last Friday. The transcript made available to reporters today, shows that Watkins said the vacancy was filled in accord with Senate precedent and custom.

Senator Hayden Called.

One of the witnesses called by the special censure committee at its public hearing was Senator Carl Hayden (Dem.), Arizona, former chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, parent body of the Elections subcommittee.

He testified that on Nov. 20, 1953, Senator Mike Monroney (Dem.), Oklahoma, resigned from the subcommittee. Hayden said he appointed himself to fill the vacancy so as to give the subcommittee a quorum or majority of its original five members, since two others had resigned previously.

McCarthy said it was his opinion that the chairman of a committee could only "nominate" subcommittee members, and that they had to be confirmed by the full committee.

He said he attached "much importance" to the point because, he maintained, the only time he was requested to appear before the Elections subcommittee—as distinguished from being invited—was after Monroney's resignation.

If it took the full Rules Committee's approval to make Hayden a member of the subcommittee, McCarthy said, there was no valid committee after Monroney's resignation.

Hayden disagreed, but McCarthy asked the special committee to inquire of the Senate parliamentarian "whether or not there was actually a committee after the 20th of November; whether the chairman of the full committee had the right to appoint himself as a member or whether that would take committee action."

Asked Set of Questions.

Watkins, the Senate parliamentarian since 1935 and a Senate employe for almost 50 years, was asked a set of questions worked out by the special committee with McCarthy's lawyer, Edward B. Williams.

The testimony was taken in the office of Senator Arthur Watkins, and the parliamentarian said that Hayden had the right to appoint himself to fill the vacancy. He said he based this on the only precedent he knew of, a case occurring in 1912.

He testified also that, generally speaking, he thought the chairman of a committee, "under custom at least, has the power and the right to appoint members of a subcommittee without submitting them to the full committee."

The elections subcommittee's investigation, spanning 1951 and 1952, grew out of a resolution introduced by former Senator William Benton (Dem.), Conn., looking to McCarthy's expulsion from the Senate. Its report raised a number of questions about McCarthy's financial affairs.

Senator Watkins asked parliamentarian Watkins, "in a quasi-judicial proceeding such as an expulsion matter, can a subcommittee file a valid legal report when less than half of its members have heard the evidence?"

"I would think so," replied the parliamentarian.

The charge that McCarthy showed contempt for the Elections subcommittee was among five main groups of charges on which the special committee held public hearings, concluded just a week ago.

(The United Press reported Senator Watkins said the committee would inform Republican and Democratic Senate leaders ahead of time when it nears agreement on the report. He told reporters after another closed session of the group that he "hopes" it can finish this week its task of studying the charges against McCarthy. He did not indicate whether the subcommittee would recommend when the Senate should be called back in session.

(Senator Henry M. Jackson (Dem.), Washington, a member of McCarthy's investigating subcommittee, told reporters he thought the censure group should make "some recommendation to the leadership" on whether the Senate should be recalled to consider the report before or after Nov. 2.

(Jackson, just back from a speaking tour for Democratic congressional candidates, said he does not think the censure committee's report will "have any great over-all effect on the election.")

The resolution asking the Senate to condemn McCarthy's conduct was introduced by Senator Ralph E. Flanders (Rep.), Vermont, who contended the Wisconsin Senator had tended to bring the Senate into disrepute.

Goldsmith to Keep Kidnap Count On Books Though Baby Is Back

—Associated Press Wirephoto.

MRS. FRANK GOLDSMITH, mother of James Goldsmith, cuddles her son's daughter, ISABELA, after the infant was given up by Mrs. Antenor Patino in Paris yesterday following custody dispute.

Patinos Obey Court Order, Return Infant Isabela—British Nurse to Tell Story of the Child's Days in Custody.

PARIS, Sept. 20 (AP)—British hotel scion Jimmy Goldsmith says he will leave his kidnap charge on the police books even though his multimillionaire in-laws, the Bolivian Patinos, have returned his 4-month-old daughter Isabela.

Obeying a court order, the Patinos sent the baby to Goldsmith's apartment yesterday, after he charged "unknown persons" had abducted her soon after he returned from a business trip to Africa. He had left the infant with her grandmother, Mrs. Antenor Patino.

Despite the young father's pending charge, it appeared likely the French police would let the matter fade out now that he has his child back.

Dorothy Cockbill, the British nurse who was with the little girl all the time she was in the custody of the Patino family, was to tell her story to police today. Goldsmith has charged the Patinos threatened her with instant firing if she tried to contact him. She was not allowed writing paper and not allowed to telephone him, he said.

The Marchioness de Ginori, sister of Mrs. Patino, brought tiny Isabela and the nurse to Goldsmith's apartment during a driving rain yesterday afternoon. The 20-year-old father had kept a vigil there since Saturday, when a process server delivered a court order for the baby's return.

Goldsmith charged the Patinos moved the child to three different hiding places although she suffers from anoxemia, a serious shortage of oxygen in the blood.

In seeking custody of the child, Mrs. Patino said she needed a woman's care. The judge, awarding the baby to her father, noted that Goldsmith's mother had "happily agreed" to live with the baby and care for her.

Little Isabela has been in delicate health since her premature birth last May just after her mother, 18-year-old Isabela Patino, had undergone a brain operation. The mother died shortly after the baby was born.

Differences between the tin-rich Bolivian family and Goldsmith first broke into headlines last year when he and Isabela ran off together, hotly pursued by her irate father. Patino finally gave his blessing to their marriage in Scotland on Jan. 7. The romance ended in tragedy with her death, and family difficulties never were patched up.

CHILE DECLARES STATE OF SIEGE OVER MINING ROW

President Says Reds Plan Violence, Cites Demonstration in Copper Camp.

SANTIAGO, Sept. 20 (AP)—The government declared a state of siege (modified martial law) in almost all of Chile today. President Carlos Ibanez said, in issuing the decree, that it was evident Communist elements intended to carry out a program of violence.

In a separate announcement, the government said a group at the Potrerillos copper mine ripped down the Chilean flag this morning, shouting: "We are Communists, not Chileans." The flag had been placed in the central plaza of the northern mining town yesterday in honor of Chile's independence day. The mine is a subsidiary of the American-owned Anaconda Copper Co.

Caches of dynamite were found after the demonstration, during which one stick, hurled at policemen, exploded without harm. Fifteen demonstrators were arrested.

Effective for 6 Months.

(In Washington, diplomatic sources said it appeared the declaration of the state of siege was intended by President Ibanez to obtain powers the Chilean Congress would not grant him to deal with strikes.)

The government imposed the state of siege for six months and said it acted "because of the danger of a movement aimed at destroying our democratic way of life." The action was taken despite the apparent solution to the recent strike of copper miners.

Last week various political parties expressed opposition to demands for extraordinary powers in the face of the strike.

Copper Leading Export.

The politics and economy of Chile, a nation of 5,885,000 on a long strip of land between the Andes and the South Pacific, revolve around its mines. Copper is a leading export.

Government sources announced three weeks ago the copper production — much of which goes to the United States —will be boosted next year to 400,000 tons due to increased world demand and price increases. Chile is counting heavily on bigger copper sales to improve its supply of foreign currencies, dangerously low in recent months.

Last Friday the government announced settlement of a month-long strike by 6500 workers at the American-owned Braden Copper Co. The workers, who sought wage increases and fringe benefits, agreed under government pressure to resume work today.

This, however, was but one of a series of strikes which had hit mining, banking and transportation.

Forced Cabinet Out.

President Ibanez forced the resignation of his entire cabinet June 2 in order to have a free hand in fighting the spiral of the cost of living. The 76-year-old executive also is waging a running fight against Communists, who have infiltrated the General Labor Union.

The decree was issued under a constitutional provision to prevent domestic disorders as a result of the strike situation. It authorizes the president to move persons from one province to another and to confine individuals under house arrest, but not to lock them up with common criminals.

STEEL WORKERS CONVENE, FAIL TO INVITE REUTHER

Union Reports 217,000 of Its Members Laid Off, 194,000 Working Part Time.

By SPENCER R. McCULLOCH of the Post-Dispatch Staff.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Sept. 20—The United Steel Workers of America, second largest union in the Congress of Industrial Organizations, opened its biennial national convention here today withou inviting Walter P. Reuther, president of the CIO, or any other national officer of that organization to address it.

Such invitations are customary at conventions of CIO affiliates. Exclusion of Reuther renewed speculation as to whether the Steel Workers delegates may take steps toward eventual secession from the CIO.

In any event, David J. McDonald, president of the 1,200,000-member Steel Workers, presiding at his first convention, has consistently shown opposition to Reuther in many ways, culminating in the recent dropping of the CIO designation in contracts between his union and major steel companies.

To Discuss Union Relationship.

In his opening address, McDonald, without mentioning the CIO by name, indicated that the convention may consider the relationship of the Steel Workers to that body.

"There will be some discussion of union relationship," McDonald declared, "and the relations between the Steel Workers and the organized labor movement in this country."

McDonald warned the delegates that "we must constantly change our approach to union problems" and that the steel workers union would fall "by the wayside" if it accepts the status quo.

He said the trade union movement throughout the world has been "split down the middle" into two groups, one group with a Marxist base and the other with a selfish, grasping "bread and butter" base. He did not identify the groups, but said the steel workers would take another path and work with industry on the basis of "mutual trusteeship."

Union's Assets $17,019,000.

The annual report of officers submitted at outset of the convention showed the steel workers union to be in flourishing financial condition, with net assets of $17,019,332 as of last June 30, representing an increase of nearly $7,000,000 in a 30-month period.

However, in the last eight months, it was pointed out, revenues — which had exceeded expenses by about $230,000 monthly — have gradually decreased because of what was described as "widespread unemployment throughout the steel industry."

A survey by the union up to the middle of August showed about 217,000 members had been laid off in basic steel fabricating, aluminum, metal mining and allied industries. In addition, 194,000 were working fewer than 40 hours a week, including about 148,000 in basic steel and 37,000 in fabricating plants.

Union officers pointed out that principal contracts with major concerns were negotiated between the industry and the union.

"For the first time in many years," officers reported, "not a single governmental board, agency or political figure had a finger in the steel negotiations."

Reviewing progress of unionism in the industry, the report pointed out that when the union came into existence in June 1936, the common labor rate was 47 cents an hour and average hourly earnings were 66 cents.

Currently, the common labor rate is about $1.62. The highest of 32 other job classifications in a complex industry is $3.27. Average hourly earnings exceed $2.20.

Officers of the United Steel Workers, as have leaders of the American Federation of Labor, asserted that President Eisenhower has failed to keep campaign promises not to weaken labor. After a detailed resume of legislative action pertaining to labor, the steel worker officers charged that the new National Labor Relations Board has adopted anti-labor restrictions "even beyond those required by Taft-Hartley."

"These are the unfortunate results of permitting political considerations and a pro-employer bias to influence decisions of an independent quasi-judicial agency," the union officers said.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell is to address the convention Thursday.

President Returns From Fishing To Prepare Far West Speeches

He Is Reported to Have 'Unwound a Great Deal'—Fails in Tries for 5-Pound Trout.

DENVER, Sept. 20 (UP) — President Eisenhower, appearing considerably refreshed following a five-day vacation in the Colorado Rockies, returned to Denver today to prepare speeches he will deliver this week in the Pacific Northwest and Southern California.

Mr. Eisenhower, returning from Fraser, Colo., by car, made a brief stop to see Mrs. Eisenhower, then headed for his summer White House offices at Lowry Air Force Base.

His schedule for today listed no office visitors. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Mr. Eisenhower would spend the day concentrating on preparation of the speeches.

By the Associated Press.

Before the presidential party left Fraser, Hagerty said Mr. Eisenhower was feeling fine and that the President had "unwound a great deal" since he arrived Wednesday at the Rocky Mountain ranch of Aksel Nielson, an old friend.

Temperature Skids.

The temperature skidded to nine degrees above zero at the President's fishing camp Saturday night but the bright sun boosted the mercury up to the low 70s by midafternoon yesterday.

After cooking a breakfast of flapjacks, the President yesterday went out into a nearby cow pasture and hit a few golf balls with Nielson. Nielsen is a veteran trout fisherman, but never has gone in for golf. Mr. Eisenhower has been tutoring him this trip.

Mr. Eisenhower spent much of his five-day fishing trip trying to lure onto his hook a St. Louis creek trout which White House aids said weighs all of five pounds.

"He is easily in that neighborhood," said Hagerty, adding that he too has been trying to land "Big Boy." "The President thought he had him hooked once, but he got away."

In reply to questions, Hagerty reported the President's weight at 176 pounds—two less than when he took office Jan. 20, 1953.

Works on Speeches.

Mr. Eisenhower worked for two and a half hours on the speeches he is to make later this week. His speaking tour will open in Missoula, Mont., Wednesday evening where he will address an airport audience and get a look at the latest techniques in fighting forest fires.

On Thursday morning the Chief Executive will speak at dedication ceremonies at McNary Dam on the Oregon-Washington border. That evening he will make a major political address at Hollywood Bowl in Los Angeles.

Friday morning he will speak informally at the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor in Los Angeles. Then he will fly back to Denver.

Present indications are the President will go back to Washington some time during the second week of October.

At Fraser, Mr. Eisenhower also worked with his easel and oil paints. He completed a Rocky Mountain landscape highlighted by the fall bright yellow of the aspen trees, and started work on a portrait of George Washington.

Mr. Eisenhower may be planning to give copies of his version of Washington as Christmas presents. Last year he copied a famous portrait of Abraham Lincoln, had it lithographed, and gave copies to his friends for Christmas.

F.D.R. JR. HOPEFUL OF STAMPEDE FOR NOMINATION

Harriman Camp Predicts Former MSA Head Will Win on First Ballot.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Representative Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. worked hard today seeking to muster enough delegate strength to start a stampede for his nomination for Governor at the Democratic state convention.

But party leaders promoting the candidacy of former Mutual Security Administrator Averell Harriman predicted he will win on the first ballot tomorrow night—by a wide margin.

At a press conference today, Roosevelt said he would not accept nomination for lieutenant governor "under any circumstances." There had been talk earlier he would be offered the second spot.

Democratic State Chairman Richard H. Balch, an ardent Harriman supporter, said 764 of the convention's 1019 votes were lined up for Harriman. A total of 510 is needed for nomination.

The Roosevelt camp claimed the support of about 475 delegates, and hoped this would be enough to generate a stampede for him. Neutral observers viewed the claim as somewhat optimistic.

A close associate of Roosevelt said that—come what may —his name will be placed in nomination at the convention which meets here tomorrow and Wednesday.

The Republican state convention, meeting Wednesday and Thursday at Syracuse, is scheduled to nominate Senator Irving M. Ives for Governor. Ives, 58 years old, has the backing of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who decided not to seek a fourth four-year term, and other G.O.P. leaders.

Roosevelt, in a television appearance yesterday, said in answer to a question that he had not been asked to be Harriman's running mate. The 40-year-old Manhattan Congressmen said he had an "excellent chance" of winning the gubernatorial nomination and added that "there is a good chance of a stampede at the convention."

A number of the most powerful Democratic leaders in the state are supporting Harriman, 62, a millionaire who turned Democrat in 1928 to support the presidential candidacy of Alfred E. Smith and later became a key figure in the Roosevelt and Truman administrations.

West German Jailed as Spy.

KARLSRUHE, Germany, Sept. 20 (UP)—The West German federal court yesterday convicted 49-year-old chemist Franz Hendgen of spying for an East German communist espionage network and sentenced him to 27 months' imprisonment.

CHINESE COMMUNISTS ADOPT A CONSTITUTION, PEIPING RADIO REPORTS

TOKYO, Sept. 20 (AP).

THE Peiping radio said today the People's congress has adopted unanimously a new constitution for Communist China.

The broadcast, heard here, said more than 1000 Congress delegates had been hearing Communist leaders explain the constitution for days. It said the meeting hall "resounded with stormy applause and shouts of wan sui (long live)" when the vote was announced and the standing ovation lasted several minutes.

The broadcast said messages of greeting were read from Russia, Viet Nam, the Mongolian Peoples Republic, Albania and East Germany.

There was no indication of what the constitution contained.

2 INMATES, ONE A MURDERER, ESCAPE AT FULTON HOSPITAL

FULTON, Mo., Sept. 20 (AP) —Two inmates, including one who as a teen age adopted son of a minister murdered a church sexton with a hammer and mutilated his victim's body with an electric drill, escaped from the state hospital here Saturday.

Trooper Quentin Watkins of the State Highway Patrol identified the fugitives as Stuart Allen, 23 years old, who said he got the desire to kill somebody while playing a church organ, and Lawrence Lamey, 25, Poplar Bluff, Mo.

Both were classified as ground parolees who were free to move from building to building.

Allen's victim was John F. Frank, 58, whose body was found in the undercroft of fashionable Christ Episcopal Church in downtown St. Joseph, where Allen's father was the rector.

NATO PERSONNEL IN REICH TO STUDY ATOMIC TACTICS

PARIS, Sept. 20 (AP)—Sixty-six members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's defense college flew to Oberammergau, Germany, today to study how to use and dodge atomic weapons. Oberammergau is the scene of the passion play given once every 10 years.

They went for a week's study at a school established more than a year ago to give specialists in all NATO countries the benefit of the latest American and Allied findings on the subject, limited only by the secrecy imposed by American regulations.

The NATO college was established in Paris to train both civilian and military personnel in the broad problems involved in getting 14 nations to work out their defense plans together.

Strong Quake at Lima.

LIMA, Sept. 20 (AP)—Strong earth tremors shook Lima, capital of Peru, today. The Lima observatory placed the epicenter approximately 50-60 miles northwest of Lima, between Chancay and Huacho. No serious damage was reported.

PANEL SPEAKER ASSERTS WOMEN FAVOR EARNINGS TAX AMENDMENT

Says They Understand Importance of Services Provided by Levy — Mrs. Brungard on Program.

St. Louis women are working for home rule on the earnings tax because they have a first-hand knowledge of the vital public services at stake, Mrs. Edward M. Harrington, chairman of the women's division of the charter amendment campaign, declared yesterday.

With Mrs. Winston Allen, co-chairman, and Mrs. Edward G. Brungard, director of public welfare, she took part in a panel discussion broadcast by Post-Dispatch Radio Station KSD.

"The women of this city know what rubbish collection means," said Mrs. Harrington. "They know what the municipal recreation program is accomplishing. They realize full well what abandonment of these services would entail."

Rubbish collection would be eliminated, eight public playgrounds would be closed and the music, dancing and handicraft phases of the municipal recreation program would have to be dropped if the city lost the $8,000,000 in annual revenue produced by the earnings tax, Mrs. Brungard warned.

"St. Louis needs to expand its playground facilities, not curtail them," Mrs. Allen said, emphasizing the part played by wholesome recreation in preventing juvenile deliquency. Thousands of children are kept off the streets in the summer months and are given expert supervision through the playground program, and curtailment of this public service would place a heavy burden on mothers, she asserted.

Health Program in Danger.

Among the economies that would be forced on the city if the earnings tax were not continued would be elimination of the health program in the parochial schools, Mrs. Brungard said.

"The Board of Education finances the health program in the St. Louis public schools, while the city supplies health care to 107 Catholic, Protestant and Jewish schools," she continued. "How futile it would be to try to check an epidemic here if the health service were confined to the public schools and the 107 parochial schools had no service."

If 60 per cent of those voting in the special election on Sept. 30 approve the charter amendment proposal, St. Louis will gain authority to tax earnings without having to go to the State Legislature for special permission.

"No new tax is involved in this charter amendment," Mrs. Allen pointed out. "Nor is there any question of a tax increase. We have had an earnings tax since 1948. The charter amendment would prevent any increase in the tax rate by limiting it to one-half of 1 per cent, the rate now in effect."

Urges Women to Vote.

St. Louis must have the financial stability provided by the earnings tax if the city is to progress, Mrs. Harrington said, appealing to women to go to the polls themselves and to get their friends to vote for the amendment.

The council of the St. Louis Dental Society has indorsed home rule on the earnings tax. Dr. Cecil C. Connelly, president of the council, said the dental profession supports "any progressive step made to better the city of which we are a part."

Other organizations added to the list of those supporting the charter amendment include the St. Louis chapter of the Missouri Society of Professional Engineers, the St. Louis Dry Cleaners' Exchange and the Contracting Plumbers' Association of St. Louis.

Advantages of home rule on the earnings tax will be outlined at five meetings tonight. The schedule of meetings and speakers follows:

Northwest Kiwanis Club, 7954 North Broadway, William J. Costello, 6:15; Seventh Ward Democratic Organization, Jeffla Hall, 2345 Lafayette avenue, Charles Mogab, 8:15; Eighth Ward Democratic Organization, Seventeenth street and Russell boulevard, James Meredith, 8:30; Ninth Ward Democratic Organization, 3107 California avenue, Robert Belscher, 8:30; St. Matthew Women's Sodality, Sarah street and Maffitt avenue, Charles J. Malloy, 8:45.

THE office of the St. Louis County Board of Election Commissioners at Clayton will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily, starting today and continuing through Friday, to accept new registrations for the Nov. 2 general election.

Next Saturday the office will be open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Final day for registration will be next Monday, when the office will again be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

CUT IRON BARS LEAD TO ARREST OF 2 IN NORMANDY

Patrolman Arthur Marxer of the Normandy Police Department discovered that protecting iron bars had been cut on a window of the Normandy Meat Co., 7516 Florissant avenue early today. He went to the front and saw two men crouching behind a counter.

Drawing his service revolver and ordering the men to stand beside an open window, Marxer called for assistance on the radio of his patrol car parked at the curb. A Pasadena Park policeman responded and assisted him in taking the men in custody.

They said they were James J. Park, truck driver, living in the 5300 block of Easton avenue, and Robert E. Owens, truck driver, living at Easton and Clara avenues. Both admitted breaking into the store with the intention of committing a burglary, Normandy police said.

ST. LOUIS POLICE TEAM WINS REVOLVER SHOOT

The St. Louis Police Department revolver team won first place in all three team events at the annual shoot of the Greater St. Louis Revolver Club, held Saturday and Sunday at the club's range on Lindbergh boulevard.

Members of the team are Lt. John Doherty, Sgt. Paul Spavor, Sgt. Anthony Daus, Sgt. Frank Stubits and Cpl. Christ Anton. The events were in the .22, .38 and .45 caliber classifications.

A total of 74 contestants from a six-state area competed and winners of other events were: Individual class, Sgt. Roland Usher, Missouri State Highway Patrol, with 2545 points out of possible 2700; expert class, Chief Kenneth Peek, Kirkwood Police Department, 2528; sharpshooter, Army Sgt. Dave Bullington, Fort Campbell, Ky., 2399, and, marksman, Sgt. James Petitt, Fort Campbell 2353.

GIRL, 6, HIT BY AUTO DIES OF INJURIES

Lois Jean Montgomery Was Struck Saturday When Crossing Street.

Lois Jean Montgomery, 6 years old, died today of injuries suffered Saturday when she was struck by an automobile as she crossed the street near her home, 1502 Destrehan street.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Montgomery. The child suffered fractures of the skull and right leg.

Driver of the car was Michael Zorich, 16, a Central High School student, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zorich, 1400A Salisbury street. He said he was unable to avoid striking the child when she ran into the path of the automobile.

Hog prices dropped to the lowest point since Feb. 6, 1953, today at National Stockyards, National City, Ill. Prices were off 50 to 65 cents a hundred pounds.

For the first time this year no hogs sold as high as $20. The top was $19.85 a hundred pounds. Most offerings sold at $19.60 to $19.75 a hundred pounds. Receipts totaled 15,500 head, largest for any day since Jan. 4. This compares with 10,018 last Monday and 12,062 a year ago.

Increased receipts resulted from a 13 per cent rise in the number of young hogs last year which probably will mean more abundant pork and lower prices, Edward Smith, director of information at National Stockyards, said.

DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT $2500 IN DOWNTOWN TAVERN FIRE

Fire of undetermined origin caused an estimated $2500 damage to Ozark Hitching Post Tavern, 1152 South Sixth street, early today. The first alarm was sounded at 4:28 a.m., a second five minutes later when it was feared flames might spread to frame rooming houses at the rear.

Firemen estimated $2000 damage to the one-story, brick building and $500 to its contents. Anton Hoedel of 4098 Burgen avenue, member of Engine Co. 16, suffered foot burns when hot plaster fell into his boot while he was fighting the fire. He was treated at City Hospital and released.

FINED $500 FOR OPERATING HANDBOOK AT HIS HOME

Charles Zoller was fined $500 today when he pleaded guilty of operating a handbook at his home, 4025 Maffitt avenue. The fine was imposed by Circuit Judge James F. Nangle, who suspended payment until Dec. 18.

Zoller was arrested Feb. 26 in a raid led by Maj. James F. Thompson, head of the police gambling squad.

BIRD, BELIEVED HERON, CAUGHT IN DOWNTOWN AREA

A large bird, believed to be a heron, was captured in the downtown area last night after it apparently had been forced down by the violent hailstorm.

It was discovered in the yard of Ernest Morgan's home at 1706 Carver lane after the storm subsided. Morgan kept the bird in an improvised cage overnight and today turned it over to the Humane Society of Missouri.

The bird, which has a wing spread of nearly three feet, will be turned over to Missouri Conservation Commission agents for restoration to its natural habitat.

ROBBER TIES UP MANAGER, STEALS $400 FROM THEATER

About $400 was stolen today from the Carver Theater, 1310 Franklin avenue, by a robber who tied up Miss Inez Bogue, manager of the movie house, police were told.

Miss Bogue said she opened a safe in an upstairs office, took out the money and was confronted by the robber, a Negro, who threatened her with a knife and a pistol. He tied her feet and hands with cord, and fled. She found a razor blade on a desk and cut the binding from her feet, walked to a window and shouted for help.

The theater was closed at the time of the robbery. Miss Bogue said the holdup man apparently had hidden in the building all night.

BURGLARS STEAL $80 FROM CHURCH OFFICE

About $80 was taken last night from the Sunday collection envelopes of St. Paul's Methodist Church, 1527 North Forty-second street, East St. Louis, the Rev. Edwin H. Grant, pastor, told police today.

Thieves forced a padlock on the main front door with a crowbar, police said, then broke the lock on the Rev. Mr. Grant's office door, opened the envelopes which were in his desk, and threw the empty envelopes out a window.

2100 AT EMERSON ELECTRIC STRIKE FOR PAY INCREASE

Negotiating Session Fails — Union Suggests Profit-Sharing Plan Be Revived.

About 2100 CIO production employes of Emerson Electric Manufacturing Co. went on strike today for a wage increase.

Picket lines were formed at Emerson plants at 8100 West Florissant avenue, Jennings, and in Washington Park on the East Side.

The walkout was called by Local 1102, International Union of Electrical, Radio & Machine Workers, after a 7-hour negotiating meeting yesterday ended in a deadlock. Negotiating sessions, lately with the assistance of a panel of United States conciliators, had been conducted since June under a wage reopening clause in the wage contract, which runs to next April 1.

Union Wants $2.09 Hourly.

The union originally demanded an increase of 5 cents an hour, to a plant average of $2.09 hourly for a 40-hour week. Union officers said the demand was in line with the wage pattern set by the General Electric Co. and Westinghouse, electrical industry leaders.

A company offer of 2 cents an hour increase was reported and the union then sugegsted that a former profit sharing plan be reinstated, in lieu of an hourly increase. The plan, in effect at Emerson from 1940 to 1948, provides for a 15 per cent share of the profits, after taxes and preferred stock payments.

W. R. Persons, company president, described the strike as unnecessary, in a statement today.

"When, practically at the last minute, the union proposed the profit-sharing plan, I agreed to give it serious study, provided the union allowed the employes to continue working," Person stated. "We agreed to expedite the study, which would require time. The union turned the proposal down. That was as far as we could go. Our negotiators are ready to meet the union at any time."

Joint Statement.

James W. Click, international union vice president, and Winston Davies, president of Local 1102, issued a joint statement that company failure to go along with "the share-the-risk plan casts a bad light on company sincerity."

"The company admits it expects to make a substantial profit this year, but professes to be alarmed by what it alleges to be a threatening situation next year," the union said. "When the profit-sharing plan was in effect, profits soared to unequalled peaks. Yet now the company rejects the proposal on grounds it would be unable to increase its profits that way. The union has shown itself prepared to forego an increase if profits are not equal to it, but the company backs away."

Five thousand employes of the Wagner Electric Corp. went on strike a week ago for a wage increase of 5 cents an hour for production workers and 7 cents for maintenance men. The majority of the strikers are members of the CIO Electrical Workers, Local 1104.

Faster Tanks Increasing Army's Punch, Stevens Tells Group Here

ROBERT T. STEVENS

Faster, harder-hitting and longer-range tanks, and more of them, are increasing the mobility of the Army's striking power, Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens told the St. Louis chapter of the National Defense Transportation Association at a luncheon meeting at Hotel Statler today.

The Secretary declined to discuss any phase of the bitter Army-McCarthy dispute at a press conference prior to his speech. In reply to questions, however, he said he has no intention of resigning and, despite the Senate hearing experience, he would be willing to "go through anything for the good of our country, our children and our grandchildren."

There are more than five times as many tanks in our present infantry division as in our World War II divisions, Secretary Stevens reported in his discussion of Army striking power. Armored personnel carriers can speedily transport troops under fire to battle positions, and improved communications equipment makes tighter control of rapidly moving elements possible, he added.

Change in Warfare.

"In the past we have relied for our power upon great concentrations of troops and supplies built up over a comparatively long period of time," Stevens related.

"We now recognize that in another war such concentrations would invite disaster from the far-reaching mass destruction weapons of the enemy. We must keep our troops dispersed in small, self-sufficient units that can fight effectively under adverse battle conditions.

"However, we must be capable of quickly concentrating powerful forces at the right place at the right time. Do not make the mistake of assuming that dispersion and smaller units mean that fewer men will be needed in future war. On the contrary, our studies indicate that more men may actually be necessary."

Secretary Stevens described as "dramatic" the advances in forward area mobility through greater use of the helicopter, which he described as "perhaps the greatest single advance in military equipment since World War II."

"Before helicopters were available in Korea it took 14 hours for teams of litter-bearers to bring the wounded down mountain trails. The helicopter did it in five minutes. More than 16,000 were thus transported from battle line to hospital, and many lives were saved by these wonderful machines and the pilots flying them."

Value as Cargo Carrier.

He also described the helicopter as a cargo carrier of "almost incredible capability." One of the new Army Transportation helicopter companies, equipped with 21 machines, can move 25 tons of supplies 50 miles in 30 minutes, Stevens told the transportation experts.

The Secretary discussed general logistical and shipping problems of the Army, and stressed that "we are all aware by now that the Soviet Union is capable of launching an attack at our homeland with mass-destruction weapons."

"We live not only in an age of peril but in an age of vast change in which one day's solution does not often fit the problem of the next day," Stevens warned.

Secretary Stevens was accompanied to St. Louis by Maj. Gen. Paul F. Yount, Chief of Transportation, Department of the Army. They returned to Washington by plane late today.

CARACAS, Sept. 20 (AP)—Armando Reveron, outstanding Venezuelan artist, died Saturday. He was 65 years old. His impressionist paintings had received wide acclaim and exhibitions in France, Spain, the United States and many Latin American countries.

SUBCONTRACTOR KICKBACK INQUIRY OPENED BY U.S.

12 Subpenaed by Grand Jury to Testify on Firms Working on Defense Projects.

The federal grand jury began an investigation of alleged kickbacks by subcontractors on Government projects when it was reconvened here today following a summer recess.

Twelve witnesses were under subpena to testify in several cases involving firms which participated in defense construction. The Government allegedly was defrauded of about $500,000 because of kickbacks.

Assistant United States Attorney Forrest Boecker, who is in charge of the investigation, said a preliminary study had indicated in some cases the general contractor demanded the kickback and in others the demand was made by individuals.

Later Max H. Goldschein, special assistant attorney general, and Assistant United States Attorney William K. Stanard II will continue their inquiry into reports of racketeering.

Also scheduled to be taken up later by the jury are a number of income tax cases. The United States Attorney's office does not yet have clearance from the Department of Justice to go into reports of Federal Housing Administration frauds.

In East St. Louis, another federal grand jury went into session today to continue an investigation of reports of labor racketeering. Thirty-five witnesses have been called to testify during the next two weeks there.

LINDENWOOD COLLEGE STARTS ACADEMIC YEAR

Classes started today at Lindenwood College, St. Charles, opening the institution's 128th academic year.

Four new faculty members were announced by President F. L. McCluer. They are Mrs. F. Marian Bishop Froelich, associate professor of sociology; William C. Engram, associate professor of psychology; Mrs. Greta Larson, assistant professor of office management, and Mrs. Grazina Ona Amonas, instructor in physical education.

Two one-year faculty appointments also were announced. Henry C. Turk will be associate professor of modern languages, and Miss Isabelle McClung assistant professor of music.

2 SEVERE STORMS STRIKE CITY—20 PERSONS INJURED

Mr. and Mrs. David Saifer were trapped for 45 minutes in an elevator at the Wilshire apartments, 725 South Skinker boulevard, when the first storm cut off electric power to the apartments.

Firemen, using crowbars, finally forced open the door of the elevator, which stuck between the eighth and ninth floors.

The Saifers, who live on the ninth floor, had attracted attention to their situation by banging on the door until another apartment resident heard them. Mrs. Saifer suffered a sprained back and ankle in pulling herself out of the elevator when the door was opened.

The temperature rose to 95 degrees at 4 p.m. yesterday, but had fallen to 72 by 7 p.m.—a drop of 23 degrees in three hours. Following the second storm, which began shortly after 11 o'clock, the temperature fell from 75 to the night's low of 60 within 30 minutes.

Two South Side police stations—Carondelet and Magnolia—were without electricity from 12:02 a.m. to 3 a.m. today because of the storm, which hit hardest in the south and southwestern sections of the city. The stations used candles for illumination.

The electric power system of Kirkwood, which has its own distribution plant, was off from 11:50 p.m. to 12:45 a.m., because a highline on Kirkham avenue in Webster Groves, which feeds Kirkwood, was blown down.

Courthouse Elevators Stopped.

Elevators at the St. Louis county courthouse at Clayton would not operate for several hours because rain, seeping through roof ventilators and trapdoors, caused a short circuit in the wiring system.

Union Electric Co. reported that thousands of homes in the St. Louis area were without electricity, chiefly because of the storm's effect on primary lines which serve small units of homes. Service had been restored to most of these customers by this morning, the company said.

Hailstones broke 150 windows at Firmin Desloge Hospital, 1325 South Grand boulevard. Rain pouring in the broken windows soaked some patients in the obstetrics department on the ninth floor.

Eleven stained-glass windows at St. Stephen of Hungary Catholic Church, 1041 Chouteau avenue, were cracked by the hail. A large number of windows also were shattered in the John J. Cochran Apartments, housing project on North Eighth street.

Metal awnings on the Washington avenue side of Stix, Baer & fuller department store were twisted into grotesque shapes by high winds.

Roofs Damaged.

Tiles and slates were knocked off many roofs on the South Side. Trees were reported down at Lindell and Skinker boulevards, and at Vandeventer and McRee avenues.

Widespread damage to automobiles and to roofs occurred in East St. Louis because of hail and wind. Tree limbs were blown down and electric power disrupted to many homes. Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. reported that 681 telephones were put out of service in East St. Louis, Edgemont and Granite City areas.

A section of roof, about 20 feet square, was blown from a truck shed belonging to the Continental Grain Co., at 430 South Front street, East St. Louis. Windows of the company's elevator were broken and there was water in the basement.

Meteorologist Harry F. Wahlgren said the hail was more severe in the Wentzville-Warrenton (Mo.) area than here. Hailstones dented the steel tops of automobiles.

John Burbes, 5959 Cote Brilliante avenue, reported a freak of the storm. He said hailstones three inches thick fell on his side of the street while the other side had no hail at all.

Basements Flooded.

Many St. Louis area residents reported their basements were flooded during the heavy rains. Traffic on United States Highway 66 was rerouted to Brown road near Lambert-St. Louis Field because a railroad underpass was filled with water.

A two-story building of the Dow Chemical Co., College and Weaver avenues, Madison, was struck by lightning at 3 a.m. today, causing a fire which damaged a large section of the second floor. The area had housed offices but is now unoccupied.

Two Madison firemen were injured when an aluminum ladder came in contact with a line carrying 33,000 volts of electricity. The men, who were knocked to the ground by the shock, were Albert Topal and Shirley Barton. Topal was released after treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital and Barton remained.

Yesterday was the seventy-first day this year in which the temperature reached 90 degrees. Since Weather Bureau records were begun in 1871, there were only two other years which had more 90-degree days. This occurred last year, with 79 such days, and in 1936, with 75.

Wahlgren predicted a high of near 80 degrees and a low of 65 tomorrow. He said a cool front would move in tomorrow night, lowering temperatures Wednesday.

Among those treated at City Hospital for cuts and bruises suffered in the hailstorm were:

Carolyn Rall, 14, 2345 Park avenue; Robert Klepper, 57, produce deliverer, 1712 South Eighth street; Miss Clara Hoefeler, 63, 1416A Menard street; Patrolman Theodore Chrum, 25, 4044A Castleman avenue; Jesse Evans, 35, mechanic, 1218A Dolman street.

Mrs. Betty Martin, 26, Caseyville, St. Clair county; Miss Evelyn Hamilton, 56, 1609 South Eleventh street; Miss Rose G. Schuessler, 55, 2012 South Eighteenth street; Thomas R. Murphy, 56, clerk, 1044 Hickory street; Mrs. Marie T. Lawyer, 25, 922 Lami street, and Miss Hilda Hoefeler, 87, 1416 Menard street.

Joann Wisdom, 10, and Alma Earline Wisdom, 14, 3137 St. Vincent avenue, and P. H. Helton, 50, unemployed, 1500 Menard street.

Greenhouse Hit by Hail

—By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

AFL HEAD ASSAILS GOVERNMENT ON DROP IN ECONOMY

thank God for the AFL as a bulwark against Communism."

He pointed out that Teetor is a part of the present administration, and presumably therefore speaks for the Administration.

The Federation's Executive Council said in a report to the membership that events in Washington have confirmed labor's fears that big business would take over the driver's seat there.

More than 700 delegates were on hand for the conclave, which was to hear talks today by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell and Director Harold E. Stassen of the Foreign Operations Administration supporting the Eisenhower administration's actions at home and overseas. A salute to labor will be given by Hollywood stars in a nationally-televised program this evening (7 o'clock on KSD-TV).

Call for 35-Hour Week.

In a surprise move, the council asked for a 35-hour work week "fully effective within two years." The demand was listed in the report under the heading of "Goals in Minimum Labor Standards."

The council's 332-page report took the Administration to task for what it viewed as failures abroad as well as on the home front.

"New legislative policies and new administrative rulings are closely geared to fit the desires of the business community," the council asserted. "Campaign promises to business have been promptly fulfilled.

"The Administration and its majority in Congress granted huge tax benefits to corporations and investors.

"They gave away the nation's offshort oil resources. They gave away development of electric power from atomic energy to private industry."

Pledges to Labor Broken.

While thus obliging big business interests, the report went on, the Republicans "brazenly" broke campaign pledges to labor and to the farmer.

"The 'union - busting' provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act remains unchanged," said the council. "The Administration's appointees to the National Labor Relations Board have indeed made the anti-labor provision of the law more oppressive by reversing previous rulings. And the farmers face a reduction in price supports through the adoption of a flexible formula which runs directly contrary to pre - election promises."

Meanwhile, the national economy has been weakened "by high and prolonged unemployment," said the report. Although official estimates place the unemployment figure at close to 4,000,000 persons, the actual figure probably is closer to 5,000,000 when part-time workers and those temporarily laid off are included in the total, it said.

This unemployment has cost the nation heavily in purchasing power, as has the substantial drop in farm income, the report asserted. With the national economy "on the downgrade," an emergency transfusion of new purchasing power is needed, it said. The Council urged the Administration to take a number of "fundamental steps" to return the nation to full prosperity, including:

1. Provide fully for the defense and security of the United States.
2. Declare that resumption of full production and full employment is the overriding objective of national policy.
3. Initiate a comprehensive program of public works for schools, hospitals, roads and other projects needed to meet the standards of modern life.
4. Re-establish a long-range program of public housing for low-income families, and provide for necessary Government assistance to bring good homes within the financial reach of middle-income families.
5. Reduce the personal income tax burden on low-income taxpayers to the extent that defense expenditures will permit, and repeal the manufacturers' and retailers' excise tax on household appliances, luggage, radios, television sets and automobiles, as well as cosmetics, entertainment admissions and other consumer goods and services.
6. Increase the minimum wage under the Fair Labor Standards Act to $1.25 an hour and improve minimum wage standards on Government contracts.
7. Develop a long-term program to enlarge farm income.
8. Strengthen the unemployment compensation system.

Adoption of these key measures is imperative, said the council.

In the field of foreign affairs the free world has arrived at an impasse with every indication that the United States has lost its position of leadership, said the executive council.

While Russia pursues its goal of world domination behind the mask of a "new look," said the report, American initiative in world leadership has been hamstrung and badly hurt by this government's policy of overt or covert support of the colonialism of our allies. This course, based on expediency, has turned out to be self-defeating, especially in Asia and Africa, it said.

The council warned also against the drive to enact "right-to-work" statutes in the various states, saying "there is no more serious threat to the labor movement than this plot on the part of reactionary elements in our society."

On the political front, the report said union members should realize that the election of "a clear pro-labor majority" in both Houses is unlikely before 1956. But, it said, the chances of electing a House of Representatives "more friendly to labor" are good this year.

The federation is at record membership strength at the present time, the council pointed out in calling for labor leadership in advancing the national welfare and the cause of world peace. Membership was given as 10,200,000, compared with 7,142,000 in 1950, a total of 4,247,000 in 1940 and 2,961,000 in 1930. The council report was submitted to the convention by President Meany and signed by Meany and 16 union officers.

BROWNELL CALLS FOR INQUIRY ON FHA ACTIVITIES

cinnati, St. Louis and Birmingham. The 13 apartment houses involved about $30,000000 in Federal Housing Administration loans

In addition the committee will resume hearings started in Chicago last week on various Illinois projects and will delve into the Arbadia Gardens project at Louisville Meadowbrook apartments in Indianapolis Florida apartments at Fort Wayne and a Golfmoor housing project in Gary

Marvin Warner of Cincinnati, president of Warner-Kanter, was called as an early witness. He and Joseph H. Kanter, a partner, own the Essex House in Indianapolis, Canterbury Gardens in St. Louis, Stratford Manor and Canterbury Gardens in Cincinnati, and an Essex House and six other buildings in Birmingham.

Capehart said the committee would investigate charges that they launched the $3,400,000 Essex House here with $1000 and got a loan for more than 100 per cent of the cost of the 14-story structure.

Should the nation's housing shortage end and the high-rent apartments be forced to compete with cheaper projects, he said, the renters will move, the project will "go sour," and the Government will be stuck with the project.

In the local Essex House deal, he said, there apparently was a mysterious power in Washington who forced the late R. Earl Peters, Indiana FHA director to approve the loan.

"Somebody intimidated Peters, and we're going to find out what's back of it," Capehart said.

delegates to the U.N. despite convictions that Peiping inevitably will replace the Chaing Kai-shek Nationalist government on Formosa as representatives of Chinese nation.

That issue is expected to invoke early debate when the Ninth General Assembly convenes tomorrow. With that eventuality in mind, Lodge set forth in his pre-Assembly pronouncement that he was "making public for the first time an official list" showing that the destruction of "an unarmed British airliner off Hainan island July 22 was but the latest of warlike acts" by Chinese Communists.

"When the attack off Hainan took place, not only the United States and Britain, whose citizens lost their lives, but people all over the world were alarmed at this action against humanity and international law," Lodge continued.

"My purpose in making public this list of 38 additional attacks is to show that the Hainan shooting was no isolated incident but part of a pattern of constant aggressive pressure against the free world."

List of "Piracy Acts."

The list:

July 20, 1950: British steamer Tak Shing was fired on by Chinese Communist shore batteries in the vicinity of Lafsami, the ship's location possibly within two miles of Lafsami.

July 24: The Panamanian ship Flying Dragon was fired on by Chinese Communist shore batteries on Lafsami. The ship was hit.

Aug. 2: An Air Force plane was fired on by Chinese Communist anti-aircraft guns, Ladrone island.

Aug. 3: The 300-ton British freighter Nambee was fired on by Chinese Communist shore batteries on the Nam Shan islands. There were no hits and no casualties.

Aug. 6: The American ship Steel Rover was fired on by Chinese Communist shore batteries in the Lama island group; the ship was just entering Hong Kong.

Aug. 7: The British ship Hand Sang was fired on by Chinese Communist shore batteries in the Lama islands; the ship was just outside Hong Kong waters; two British officers were slightly wounded.

Aug. 8: The Norwegian ship Pleasantville was fired on by Chinese Communist shore batteries in the Lama islands. The ship was just outside Hong Kong.

Aug. 13: A Pacific Overseas Airways plane, under United States flag, was fired on by Chinese Communist machineguns from an island near Macao.

Aug. 17: The British destroyer Concord was repeatedly shelled by Chinese Communist batteries on the Lama islands, then by batteries on the Ling Ting islands. One enlisted man was wounded.

Sept. 16: The British ship Sing Hing was fired on by Chinese Communist shore batteries from the Lama island group.

Sept. 17: The British ship Mahadevi was fired on by Chinese Communist shore batteries in the Lama island group.

Oct. 7: The Danish Emilie Maersk was fired on by Chinese Communist shore batteries on the Lama island group.

Nov. 7: Portuguese sloop Goncalo Velho was fired on by Chinese Communist shore batteries on the Lafsami islands. The ship was just outside Hong Kong waters on the regular Hong Kong-Macao route.

Dec. 8: A Panamanian flagship was shelled by Chinese Communist shore batteries off Wu Yu island, near Amoy. No damage, no casualties.

Tug Fired On.

Dec. 9: The British tug Allegiance was fired on by shore batteries at Putao (Pak Leak) Island, in the Wan Shan island group. The tug was returning from the rescue of the Philippine steamer Joseph S. The master and two crew members were slightly injured.

Feb. 13, 1951: The British-registered Caltex II, a motor vessel, was shelled by Chinese Communist shore batteries on Ling Ting island. The ship was outside Hong Kong waters. The British master and British chief officer were injured.

April 10: The British ship Jade Leaf on its way from Hong Kong to Chuen Chow was forced by weather conditions to anchor near Namao island, off Swatow. The master did not know that the area was prohibited. The ship was fired on by a Chinese Communist shore battery and machineguns. The ship was hit once and there were no casualties. Later, while entering Swatow, the ship was buzzed by unidentified planes.

April 15: Chinese Communist shore batteries on Outer Ling Ting islands fired on the British Victoria Peak causing some of the cargo to ignite.

May 3: The British tug Caroline Moller, while owing a barge, was fired on by Chinese Communist shore batteries on the Ling Ting islands.

June 8: The British Edith Moller was shelled by Chinese Communist armed junk and shore batteries near Hong Kong.

June 8: The Danish ship Marieskou, while going up the Pearl river estuary, was shelled by Chinese Communist island batteries.

Aug. 12: En route Hong Kong to Chuanchow, the British Jade Leaf took shelter in Tang Sang harbor. The ship, being mistaken for Nationalist, was attacked by the Chinese Communists. The attack resulted in the killing of the boatswain.

Sept. 2: Between Hong Kong and Macao, the British ship Yu Men, on the regular Hong Kong-Macao run, was fired on by a Chinese small craft.

Nov. 26: A vessel off Swatow fired on a United States Navy plane.

Jan. 1952: The Asiatic Petroleum Company's oil lighter BPM 88, sailing under British flag, was intercepted and detained by the Chinese Communists, on the fringe of Hong Kong territorial waters.

Sept. 25: On the regular Hong Kong-Macao route the British ship Tak Shing was fired on and detained by an armed Chinese Communist naval vessel. The Tak Shing was taken to Lafsami island where two passengers were removed.

Sept. 25: In answer to a distress call, the H.M.S. Mounts Bay and Consort arrived to give escort to the Tak Shing to Hong Kong. While the ships were still in British territorial water, four miles from Lafsami, Chinese Communist shore batteries fired on the Mounts Bay. The Mounts Bay returned fire and silenced the batteries.

Oct. 13: While pursuing a suspected smuggling junk; a Hong Kong revenue launch in the vicinity of Ling Ting island was fired on by a Chinese Communist shore battery.

Seamen Captured.

Nov. 2: A Chinese Communist armed junk took into custody two British seamen in a whale boat sailing around Hong Kong island—about half way between Lamma island and the Ling Ting islands. The men were taken to Canton, questioned intensively, and were returned to Hong Kong on March 19, 1953, having been detained for more than four months.

Jan. 18, 1853: Chinese Communist anti-aircraft fire off Swatow shot down United States Neptune plane. United States destroyer fired on by shore batteries—later chased by hostile craft. Total casualties were 11 missing.

March 21: Chinese Communist gunboat seized United States yacht Kert about five miles west of Lantau island, 6 to 7 miles north of Lafsami. Three Americans (Applegate, Krasner and Dixon) taken into custody were not released until September 1954. Three Chinese, who were with the Americans, have not been released.

April 30: A Chinese Communist gunboat attacked a British-registered motor junk in international waters near Soko island and Sang Lau point off the southwest tip of Lantau island. After the junk took refuge in British waters, a Chinese Communist gunboat and four Communists in naval uniform pursued the junk and after some shooting took it. The Hong Kong marine department later rescued the crew.

May 25: As it was leaving Amoy, the British steamer Nigelock drew small arms fire from Communist held Hu Hsu island.

June 30: At Scrag point Chinese Communist shore batteries fired on the Hydralock of British registry.

Sept. 9: A Chinese Communist gunboat fired on Hong Kong ML 1323 in disputed waters in the Pearl river estuary. Resulting casualties: Six British Navy crew members and one captain of the Royal Hong Kong defense force killed.

Nov. 11: Chinese Communist shore batteries fired on the Inchulva, under British flag, while entering Wenchow.

Nov. 12: The Inchulva again attempted to enter Wenchow. It was again shelled with no damage.

June 4, 1954: Chinese Communists took British forces yacht Elinor which, while on a pleasure cruise, entered Chinese Communist waters through navigational error. Two officers and seven men aboard were detained till July 10.

Van Kleffens Appears Certain to Head Ninth Assembly.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 20 (AP)—Eelco Van Kleffens of The Netherlands appeared today as the almost certain winner of tomorrow's election for president of the ninth General Assembly, succeeding Mme. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, outgoing president.

Prince Wan Waithayakon of Thailand withdrew as a candidate in the face of Van Kleffens's seeming preponderance of votes. The balloting is in secret.

Prince Wan, defeated last year by Mme. Pandit, was supported this year by the United States, but a combination of West European and Latin American countries favor Van Kleffens. Only possible opposition now might come if the Soviet bloc presents a candidate.

COALITION STAYS ON TOP IN LOCAL VOTES IN SWEDEN

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 20 (AP)—Sweden's governing coalition of Socialists and Agrarians remained solidly entrenched today following weekend local elections but the Government parties lost some ground.

The Conservatives, the country's third largest party, scored the largest gains. The Communists held steady, in last place with 4.9 per cent of the 3,701,541 ballots cast.

Prime Minister Tage Erlander in a statement said the outcome in the voting yesterday would "bring no change in the policy of the Swedish government.

These were the complete unofficial returns on the voting:

	Vote	Percentage
Socialists	1,739,643	47.8
Liberals	799,230	21.6
Conservatives	561,710	15.2
Agrarians	386,488	10.4

ROBBED OF PURSE WITH $40

Mrs. Bertha M. Ganz, 7358 Pershing avenue, University City, reported that four Negro youths stopped her as she was walking in the 3500 block of Pine street late Saturday night, seized her purse containing $40 and fled on foot.

THIRD DIVISION LEAVING S. KOREA, SEOUL PROTESTS

ROK General Says Withdrawal Will Open His Nation to Red Conquest.

SEOUL, Sept. 20 (AP)—Announcement that the United States Third Division would leave Korea in October was accompanied today by renewed South Korean charges of bad faith in Washington and complaints the withdrawal will leave Korea open for Red conquest.

"The stage is set for Korean unification, but by the Communists," said a statement by Maj. Gen. Choi Duk Shin, a former armistice negotiator who accompanied President Syngman Rhee to Washington recently.

The statement appeared to be in reply to one by the United States Embassy last week. The Embassy insisted the redeployment of United States troops had been discussed with South Korean officials in Washington. It also emphasized that South Korea was not being abandoned.

Choi asserted that "the question of how many United States forces would return home—and when—was not brought up" in Washington during Rhee's visit.

No Hard Feelings.

Choi noted that while Rhee said in Washington that foreign troops could be withdrawn "at any time without hard feelings," the Korean stand was this:

"Train us, arm us, equip us and we will do the fighting ourselves, but the hasty withdrawal makes it impossible for us to be ready in time."

The United States contends that the redeployment of troops and planes is designed to make it easier for the United States to counter aggression anywhere in Asia, including Korea.

Choi said Rhee did not sign the draft of a proposed joint statement with President Eisenhower on their Washington talks, and that later it was "revised and enlarged before it was released."

He refused to say how the statement was "revised and enlarged."

Choi's statement made no mention of withdrawal of United States troops. It said military and economic advisers would continue discussions of questions of common interest.

Third Leaving.

The United States Eighth Army announced yesterday that the Third Division would be withdrawn and that another will follow, leaving two United States divisions still on the divided peninsula.

In another dispute with the United States, President Rhee said today South Korea's recovery is being handicapped by "pro-Japanese Americans."

He charged that American officers are hurting Korea's rebuilding program by "making efforts to give Japan every possible dollar out of the United States aid funds to Korea."

RAPID TAX WRITE-OFFS GRANTED ON 30 PLANTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (UP)—The Office of Defense Mobilization granted certificates for rapid tax write-offs on 30 new or expanded industrial facilities worth $19,753,614 in the two weeks ended Sept. 8.

Of the 30 certificates issued, 13 were to so-called small business firms. These facilities totalled $5,027,987. ODM said it gives special consideration to such firms to encourage small defense plant expansion.

With the new certificates, the government has granted rapid tax write-offs on 19,063 new or expanded plants worth $29,200,841,000. Under the program, vital defense plants are allowed for tax purposes to write off new construction in five years instead of the normal 20 to 25 years.

REHEARING ON VOTE DECISION FOR MAYOR CALHOUN DENIED

A request for rehearing of a decision, which declared incumbent Mayor H. V. Calhoun winner of the April 1953 Belleville mayoralty election, was denied today by the Illinois Supreme Court at Springfield.

Former Alderman George Glakemeier Jr., who lost the election by 44 votes, had sought the rehearing. He contended he should have been declared the winner because the ballots in two precincts giving Calhoun a large majority should have been invalidated.

Flashes of Life

Scotch in Bourbon Land.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Here in the heart of the Bourbon whisky country and not far from the mountain moonshine country, officers made a strange discovery.

They captured a still and confiscated a quantity of barley malt—the basic ingredient of scotch whisky.

Super Shoppers.

SPARTANBRUG, S.C. (AP)—A young woman coaxed a young fellow into going shopping with her at a supermarket. They collected about $25 worth of groceries in a basket but were detained by the manager when it came time to pay. The young woman was 3 years old, the young man just 4.

Illustrated Advice.

SYLMAR, Calif. (AP) — The driver and his passenger escaped serious injury when a heavy truck and trailer roared out of control down the Ridge route, smashed through a billboard, hit three unoccupied cars and overturned near a motel.

The billboard read:

RIVAL CANDIDATES HAVE LOG SPINNING DUEL; BOTH DOUSED

OROFINO, Idaho, Sept. 20 (AP)—Two political candidates battled to a draw—western lumberjack fashion—in this North Idaho town yesterday.

Gracie Pfost, Idaho's Democratic Congresswoman and her Republican rival, Erwin Schweibert, indulged in the old-time logging sport called birling as part of Orofino's lumberjack days. In birling two opponents get on a floating log, start it rotating and attempt to spin each other off.

Assistants held a log until Mrs. Pfost and Schweibert had assumed their best birling position, then let go. The log started rolling and the contestants started falling. They hit the water at about the same time.

"It was good, clean fun," said Mrs. Pfost.

PREDICTS JAPAN, BURMA WILL SIGN REPARATIONS PACT

TOKYO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki today predicted Japan and Burma would sign Friday a provisional agreement giving Burma about $230,000,000 in World War II reparations.

Okazaki told newspaper men the agreement provides for a 10-year payment period of $180,000,000 in straight reparations and about $50,000,000 in investments in joint Japanese-Burmese enterprises.

The agreement, if approved, would be Japan's first success on the controversial problem of war damage payments to Asian countries. The Philippines and Indonesia have so far refused to accept Japanese offers.

ARMY CONSIDERS PAYING TROOPS TWICE A MONTH

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (UP)—The Army said today that it has "under study" a plan to pay its troops twice a month. At present, pay day comes only once a month.

Apparently the enlisted ranks and junior officers are all for two pay days a month.

The unofficial service journal, Army Times, is running a poll and the latest issue reported seven-to-one sentiment for the change.

Romulo Heads U.N. Delegation.

BIG TRUCKING FIRM SHUTS DOWN, BLAMES AFL TERMS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 20 (UP)—A $6,000,000-a-year truck line closed up shop today because of a disputed union contract which the company said was causing a deficit of $40,000 a month.

John B. (Jack) Cole, president of the firm and also head of the American Trucking Association, announced his Jack Cole Trucking Co., one of the state's largest, had ceased to operate.

Cole would not say that he plans to liquidate the company or dispose of its equipment, including 500 trucks. The line employes 450 workers. "I'm going to cut off all expenses now, then try to figure out what to do," Cole said.

He claimed that "fringe benefits" in the company's contract with the AFL Teamsters Union brought on the financial difficulties. Cole said his drivers at first agreed to drop fringe benefits from the contract but that the union insisted that they remain. M. R. Sherman, business manager of the teamsters local said, however, that "there was no such agreement at all" between the union and Cole.

13 PUERTO RICANS BEATEN IN JAIL, LAWYERS CHARGE

Inquiry Ordered — One on Trial on Conspiracy Count Claims Guard Hit Him.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (UP)—A Government investigation was ordered today into charges of "beatings and intimidations" alleged to have been suffered by 13 Puerto Rican Nationalists on trial for seditious conspiracy.

The investigation was ordered after the appearance in United States District Court of defendant Rafael Cancel Miranda, 25 years old, who charged that a prison guard knocked out three of his teeth last Friday "for no apparent reason."

Defense attorneys told the court the alleged incident took place in the Bronx county jail wher. the prisoners were searched on their arrival.

Cancel Miranda is one of the four Nationalists already sentenced for the shooting of five Congressmen in the House of Representatives last March.

Defense attorneys recommended to the court that the 13 be moved to a Federal penitentiary where they would be "safe from threats of bodily harm" made by other prisoners.

The trial entered its third week today with completion of the testimony of Gonzalo Lebron Sotomayor, former Nationalist party leader who turned state's evidence.

Lebron's testimony implicated Julio Pinto Gandia, who was identified as a leading figure in the assassination attempt against the five Congressmen and in "other patriotic acts."

Pinto Gandia, who is acting as his own attorney, was refused permission to make a statement to the court in lieu of cross examination of witness Lebron.

Pinto Gandia replied, "Yes, I don't," when asked if he wished to make an examination of the witness.

Lebron was returned to the House of Detention where he will await sentencing at the conclusion of the trial. All face possible six-year prison terms and fines of $5000 each.

JAMES L. MILLER TO RETIRE

James L. Miller, manager of the St. Louis office of Avondale Mills, Inc., will retire Oct. 1, it was announced today. He will continue in an advisory capacity until Jan. 1.

Miller is a past president of the Textile Club of St. Louis. Succeeding him will be William H. Withus.

CHURCHILL GRANDDAUGHTER CARRIED TO SAFETY IN FIRE

LONDON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Arabella Churchill, 5-year-old granddaughter of Britain's Prime Minister, was carried to safety by her mother yesterday when fire broke out at their home.

The fire began when an electric heater ignited window curtains in the room of the little girl's mother, Mrs. Randolph Churchill, next door to Arabella's nursery.

PLANES AND SHIPS KEEP UP ATTACKS ON AMOY REGION

TAIPEH, Sept. 20 (AP) — Chinese Nationalist planes and warships today continued hammering Communist positions in the area of Amoy island off the Chinese mainland opposite Formosa.

It was the eighteenth day of localized warfare around the Nationalist outpost of Quemoy, within the shadow of the Red-held mainland.

A Nationalist communique reported:

Nationalist Thunderbolt planes attacked two Red gunboats in Houpu bay on Tungshan island midway between the ports of Amoy and Swatow. Results were not reported. Nationalist planes sank two motorized junks in the same area earlier today.

Thunderbolts also attacked more than 40 motorized junks and 50 wooden junks northeast of Quemoy, sinking six and damaging six.

Communist artillery positions on Amoy were reported destroyed in bomber attacks.

Air Force and Naval units patrolled the coast of Fukien province seeking targets of opportunity.

Nationalist big guns on Quemoy shelled Tateng and Hsiteng, two small islands between Quemoy and the mainland.

A Nationalist communique listed one Red gunboat and 36 smaller military craft sunk in Sunday actions.

Meanwhile, the Nationalists were keeping watch on Communist warships reported grouping 100 miles southeast of Shanghai and north of the Amoy area.

Interior ministry sources, which claim underground contacts on the mainland, said the Reds have moved warships from North China to Chushan island, southeast of Shanghai, since outbreak of the vest pocket war in the Quemoy area Sept. 3.

Reports were that these included a 1400-ton destroyer, the Cheng Chi, and seven gunboats.

There were signs that the Nationalist attacks on Amoy have crippled it as a coastal trading center. Its trade now is reported being handled through Swatow, 120 miles southwest.

Harvard-educated Gen. Yu Ta-wei was sworn in today as Nationalist China's Minister of National Defense. He served until recently as special assistant to Ambassador Wellington Koo in Washington.

AIRLINER CLAIMS RECORD

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—A commercial airline record from San Francisco to New York of 6 hours and 34 minutes was claimed yesterday by United Air Lines.

The plane, carrying 46 passengers and five crew members, broke a record of 7 hours and 6 minutes, the airline said. Strong tailwinds were credited with a major assist.

10,000 IN ROCK ISLAND INOCULATED IN POLIO SCARE

ROCKK ISLAND, Ill., Sept. 20 (AP)—Doctors inoculated 10,000 school children with gamma globulin yesterday in an attempt to halt a recent sharp increase in polio cases. The mass inoculation was the largest in any one city in the nation this year.

There have been 37 polio cases reported in Rock Island this year and another 41 in Rock Island county. In 1953, 14 city cases and seven county cases were reported.

PITMAN, N.J., Sept. 20 (AP) —Churches, police and civic organizations pitched in yesterday to help health authorities inoculate 1632 children and expectant mothers in this southern New Jersey community with gamma globulin. The mass inoculation was ordered Saturday night after four cases of polio were reported within a week.

U.N. GROUP TO PAY $11,000 RATHER THAN REINSTATE AID

ROME, Sept. 20 (AP) — The United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization today notified Gordon McIntire of Kewanee, Ill., that it would pay him $11,000 for wrongful dismissal rather than reinstate him.

A three-member international tribunal at Geneva, Switzerland, on Sept. 2 had ordered FAO either to restore McIntire to his $6000-a-year job or to make the payment. The sum covers 15 months salary plus interest, plus some $3300 damages and expenses.

McIntire appealed his 1952 dismissal, claiming he had been promised a five-year contract but was not confirmed in the position after a confidential letter from the United States State Department was received by FAO.

4 BILLION DOLLARS OF BONDS TO BE OFFERED BY TREASURY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (UP) —The Treasury announced today that it will offer for sale four billion dollars in 2½-year 1⅝ per cent Treasury notes next Thursday.

This borrowing will push the federal debt subject to legal limitation up to about $278,300,000,000. Congress recently raised the debt limit temporarily from 275 billion to 281 billions.

Treasury officials said they are confident they can get the debt back down to a few hundred million dollars below the 275 billion ceiling by next July 1 when the temporary increase expires.

WOMAN 'WALKS INTO WATER,' DROWNS IN MISSISSIPPI RIVER

Mrs. Charles Green, 1422A Tamm avenue, drowned in the Mississippi river yesterday near the foot of Gratiot street. A witness told police the woman "walked into the water and floated away, face down."

Mrs. Green, 60 years old, floated a short distance downstream and was pulled ashore by occupants of a passing speed boat. Efforts to revive her, both on the levee and at City Hospital, were unsuccessful.

A hat and coin purse belonging to Mrs. Green were found on the levee. She had been reported missing earlier in the day by members of her family.

26 PLANES SEARCHING FOR ST. LOUIS FLYER

Man Missing Since Saturday —Hunt Centers in Taum Sauk Area.

An air search for Fred W. Gray, 3909A Labadie avenue, machinist missing since Saturday morning on a flight from Festus to Poplar Bluff, was centered today in the Taum Sauk mountain area, with 26 planes of the Civil Air Patrol's Missouri Wing taking part.

Air Force and Army planes from Denver and Fort Leonard Wood were on their way to the search area.

Gray, who is 58 years old, was on his way to a farm he owns at Poplar Bluff, planning to visit a son, Donald, there. His plane, a silver, red-trimmed single engine Ercoupe, was last seen near Potosi, apparently in no difficulty.

Base of operations for the search is the Farmington airport. Civil Air Patrol Col. Francis Fabick, of St. Louis, commander of the Missouri Wing, is directing the search. CAP Maj. Joseph Miles of St. Louis, said Gray probably was using visual flight rules and lost sight of the ground in a heavy fog.

Center of the search area is Taum Sauk, 1772 feet in height, the highest point in Missouri, near Ironton in Iron county. The terrain is rough and hilly. CAP officials said a search would have been started sooner except for the fact that Gray failed to file a flight plan when he left the Festus airport on his 140-mile trip.

He left about 7:30 a.m. Saturday, and his son, Donald, made inquiries when the plane had not arrived by 11 p.m. A Civil Aeronautics Authority check disclosed the lack of a flight plan. The Missouri Wing had three planes on the job yesterday soon after receiving authorization for the search from Lowry Field at Denver.

Two more planes were expected at Farmington today from Fort Leonard Wood, and a third, an amphibian, was on way to Farmington from the Air Force search and rescue unit at Denver, Colo.

'HOT ROD' MOORE'S TRIAL OCT. 27 ON APPEAL ON 5 COUNTS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 20 —Trial of Robert H. (Hot Rod) Moore on his appeal from five traffic convictions in St. Louis police court was set for Oct. 27 in Cole county circuit court by Circuit Judge Sam C. Blair today.

Judge Blair, after ruling that he had jurisdiction, ordered Moore brought from Audrain county jail, where he is serving an eight-month sentence for another traffic violation, to Cole county for the hearing of his appeal.

A 370-day workhouse sentence and fines of $2500 were imposed in St. Louis police court when he was convicted of four charges of careless and reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident resulting in property damage.

Henry G. Morris, Moore's attorney, had raised a question as to Judge Blair's jurisdiction in the case because no bond was ordered for Moore when the St. Louis Court of Criminal Correction last May 18 granted a change of venue on the appeal to Cole county circuit court, nor was Moore turned over to the Cole county sheriff.

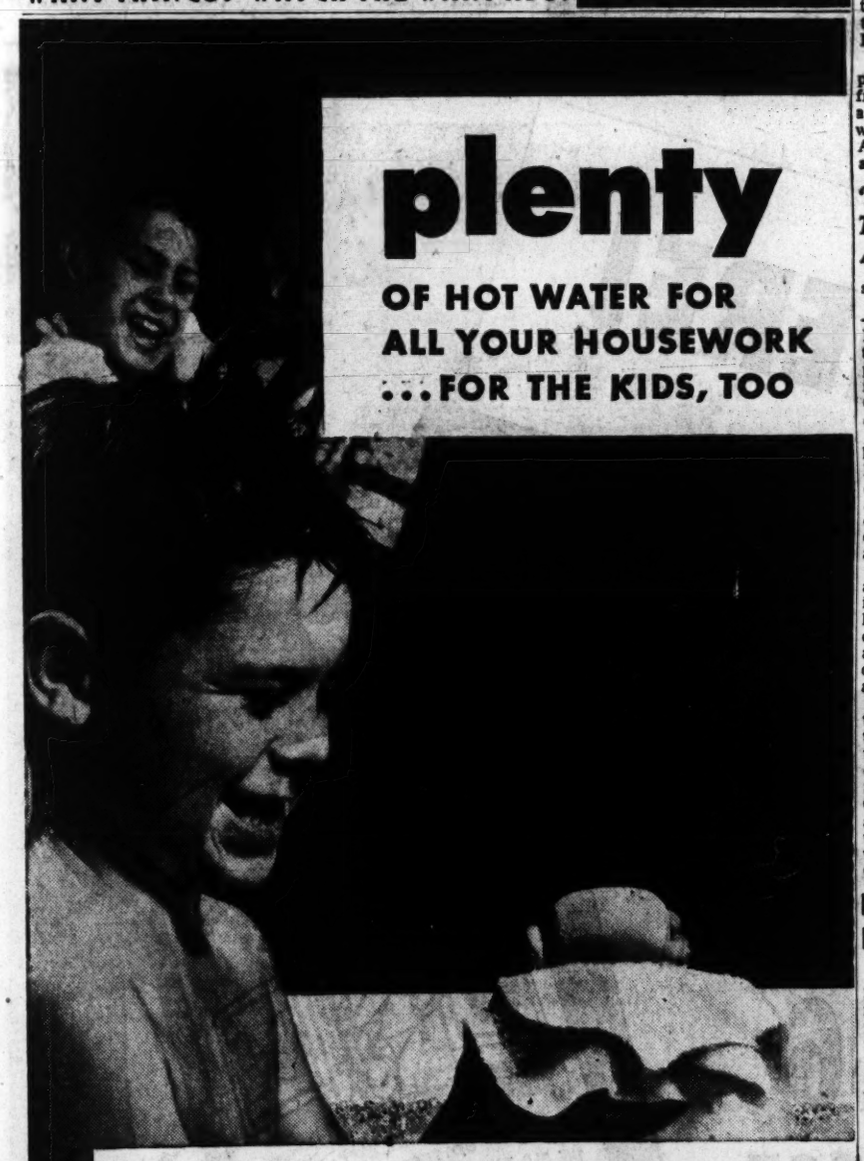

KASHMIR-TO-EAST INDIA AIR ROUTE OVER HIMALAYAS OPEN

An oxygen-equipped twin-engine plane flew 160 miles over the snowcapped Himalayan peaks from Srinagar, in Kashmir, to Leh, in India's eastern Buddhist province of Ladakh.

Leh adjoins Communist Chinese-occupied Tibet and Sinkiang. Its airfield, 11,554 feet above sea level, is one of the world's highest. The service will be one plane every two weeks.

ARMY IDENTIFIES TWO SOLDIERS HELD BY CZECHS

State Dept. Seeking Their Release—Prague Admits Holding Them.

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Sept. 20 (AP) — The United States Army today identified two American soldiers arrested by the Czech Communists and said the State Department was seeking their release.

The men were listed as First Lt. Richard H. Dries of St. Albans, Long Island, New York, and Pfc. George Pisk, Austin, Tex.

They were seized by a Czech border patrol near Eslarn, on the German-Czech border last Friday. Czechoslovakia's Red government in a protest note to the United States Embassy in Prague admitted last night it was holding them and claimed they were arrested on Czech territory "while photographing military installations and carrying out observations with field glasses."

The Army previously said the men were cruising along the border in an official capacity "to see what they could see," but that they were on West German territory when picked up.

A third soldier accompanying Dries and Pisk was some distance away when the Czech soldiers and their guard dogs swooped down. The other American fled and reported the incident.

The Army said Dries was in civilian clothes at the time because he was an interrogator who interviewed persons in the border area. Pisk was in uniform.

The Czech note also complained that "numerous American soldiers" moved up to the German-Czech frontier Saturday, installed a heavy machine gun and pointed it across the border. This, said the note, was "obviously done to cause a bloody incident by bringing about a gun battle with Czechoslovak soldiers."

The Prague Government accused American forces in West Germany of carrying out large-scale espionage activities and said it "will not tolerate such violations of Czechoslovakia sovereignty."

This was the third German border incident in less than two weeks. A Communist East German patrol fired on American troops Sept. 9 and a Czechoslovak patrol fired at an American detachment four days later. No one was injured in either case.

CONCORDIA STUDENT DROWNS IN MERAMEC

Goes Down Without a Call While Swimming With Five Others.

The body of David W. Zielske, a third-year student at Concordia Seminary, was recovered today from the Meramec river at Long Beach, where he drowned yesterday when swimming with five other students from the seminary.

St. Louis county deputy sheriffs reported the 21-year-old youth from Morristown, Minn., sank without an outcry, in water about 10 feet deep, near the center of the stream.

Russell Howen, one of Zielske's companions on the outing, said he and Zielske were swimming across the river in opposite directions. When they met about midstream, Zielske "went under," Howen said.

"I put my hand under his chin and lifted his face out of the water," Howen told deputies. "He took a couple of breaths and seemed to be all right, so I swam on a short distance. I looked back and saw him bob up and down three or four times. By the time I got back to the spot, he had sunk beneath the surface. I started diving for him without success."

Inventor Bertram Grigsby Dies.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (AP) — Betram J. Grigsby, inventor and pioneer manufacturer of radio receivers, died yesterday of a heart attack at his farm home in suburban Barrington. He was 70 years old. Grigsby formerly owned the Grigsby-Grunow Co., manufacturer of Majestice radios.

French, 46 years old, was admitted to the hospital Saturday His son, Calvin Kirk, 9, also is a victim of the disease. His condition is reported satisfactory. He was also admitted Saturday.

GROUP URGES U.N. TO AVERT DISASTER IN FORMOSA AREA

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 20—A warning that unless the fighting between Chinese Communist and Nationalist forces in the Straits of Formosa is stopped immediately by the United Nations another "catastrophe" in Asia may be the result was voiced today by the American Association for the United Nations.

The association appealed to members of the American delegation to the U.N. to exert their influence in bringing about immediate U.N. attention to the dangerous situation in the Formosa area.

"If there is a delay, in the case of Indochina, it may be too late for the U.N. to avert conflict and catastrophe," the appeal said.

The U.N.-supporting body also urged that the U.N. send "peace observation teams" to all spots of international tension, continue its quest for a workable disarmament program within the framework of the U.N., expand its technical assistance program and make clear its definite opposition to colonialism.

CLIFFORD CASE SAYS ATTACK IS ON EISENHOWER, NOT HIM

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 20—Clifford P. Case, Republican candidate for Senator from New Jersey, charged yesterday that attacks on him by some Republican groups are "really aimed at President Eisenhower and at control of the Republican party of New Jersey."

Furthermore Case, a former five-term Representative, said he was "certain" the attacks would "help" his candidacy "far more than they will hurt."

The anti-Case campaign is expected to reach a climax tomorrow night when former Representative Fred A. Hartley makes a 15-minute television speech. Hartley's appearance is being sponsored by the Committee for a Stronger New Jersey Republican party, a recently formed organization which has been insisting that Case withdraw as the Republican senatorial candidate in favor of Hartley.

PRISON ESCAPEE CAPTURED; POSSE SEEKS COMPANION

BUCHANAN, Ga., Sept. 20 (UP)—One of two bank robber fugitives from Atlanta's federal prison was captured last night at an abandoned farm house and a large posse today combed a 1000-acre woodland for his companion.

A car stolen from near the big penitentiary last Wednesday when they escaped led to the capture of Charles E. Stegall, 36 years old, who was serving a 25-year bank robbery sentence given him at Paducah, Ky., June 22, 1949. Stegall, clean-shaven but shabbily dressed and shoeless, surrendered without a struggle at the house near where the car had been abandoned.

His companion, George Ellis, 29, of Chicago, was believed to be in the large pine and oak woodland near the house three miles north of Buchanan. A posse with bloodhounds searched throughout the night for Ellis.

PRICE OF DOLLAR INCREASED 50 PER CENT IN BRAZIL

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 20 (UP)—The government has increased the price of the United States dollar by 50 per cent on the foreign exchange market here in an effort to ease the current Brazilian economic crisis.

The official Bank of Brazil announced that effective this week the minimum price for a dollar at the lowest import exchange rate will rise from 10 to 15 cruzeiros.

The move will increase the price of imported goods on the local market, but it will provide the bank with added supplies of Brazilian currency to defray recent reductions in export coffee prices.

ASSISTANT U.S. ATTORNEY FOR EAST ILLINOIS DISTRICT

Jack Curtis Morris, Harrisburg (Ill.) lawyer, has been appointed an assistant United States attorney for the eastern district of Illinois, it was announced today by United States Attorney Clifford Raemer at East St. Louis.

Morris, 28 years old, served as an enlisted man with the Navy in World War II and as a Marine officer in the Korean war. He was graduated from George Washington University, Washington, D.C., in June 1953 and was admitted to the bar last April. Since then he has been in the office of Scerial Thompson, Harrisburg attorney.

WHY GO HALF-WAY

when you switch cigarettes?

.....or to king size
.....or to both
you're still only going half-way

Here's something every smoker ought to know.

We remove nicotine and natural tar from the tobacco before King Sanos are made.

So of course you get less nicotine and tar in the smoke of King Sanos than you get in the smoke of any other cigarette.

And you also get wonderful satisfaction from every puff.

But you get something more that's worth a lot—and costs only a few extra pennies a day.

So why not go all the way — and try a pack or a carton of King Sanos?

RFC SECURITIES OF $307,600,000 REPORTED SOLD

$283,800,000 More in Agency Loans Still to Be Liquidated, Administrator Says.

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 — The Reconstruction Finance Corporation, former scandal-ridden Government lending agency now in process of liquidation, has managed to sell to private capital $307,600,000 of the $591,400,000 worth of loans and securities in the agency's portfolio since liquidation began last Sept. 28, it was disclosed yesterday.

In a report on the progress of liquidation up to June 30 this year, Administrator Laurence B. Robbins said that "the liquidation of RFC is being carried out expeditiously under the general policy of securing the highest possible return of the Government's investment."

Robbins, who became an Assistant Secretary of the Treasury today, told a press conference that "this is a Government agency which is actually going out of business."

The sale of loans and securities to private banks and others brought money into the Treasury. The budget for fiscal year 1954, which ended June 30, was aided to the tune of $300,000,000 by the RFC liquidation; this sum showed up as a reduction in net expenditures in the general commerce and industry sector of the budget.

RFC still has $283,800,000 worth of loans and securities left, including three big loans totaling $102,000,000. Robbins expressed optimism that each of the three may be sold soon, but he admitted that in general the agency is getting "close to the bottom of the barrel" of its good paper. He said that "in the next couple of years" the RFC's portfolio "will be reduced to relatively small figures" but it may take a number of years after that before the last unsalable loans are "worked out" by repayment or foreclosure.

RFC loans in the foreign, disaster and housing fields, totaling $178,000,000, were transferred to other agencies, leaving $591,000,000 of loans to businesses, railroads, banks and municipal public works to be liquidated.

This is what had been sold up to June 30: 3860 business loans totaling $211,700,000; three railroad loans totaling $73,300,000; 23 loans to financial institutions totaling $15,200,000; 127 "public agency" loans totaling $33,600,000.

Of the big sale of business loans, more than 2800 were lumped into a "pool" through which private banks bought an interest worth $47,000,000 and the RFC kept an interest worth $26,000,000. Some of the rest were sold outright to banks, others were pre-paid by borrowers who were able to refinance the loan privately, and others were sold to banks on a "deferred participation" basis (meaning that the RFC can still be called upon to bail out the private lender).

The three big loans remaining include $48,400,000 to Lone Star Steel Co., $35,766,000 to Detroit Steel Co. and $17,748,000 to Carthage Hydrocol, Inc. Robbins said the RFC has already arranged to dispose of the Carthage Hydrocol loan and hopes to sell the steel loans too as soon as the steel business improves. Of the remaining 14 loans of more than $1,000,000, Robbins said, half are "problem cases which will require continued servicing by RFC."

HEIR IS SEIZED IN NARCOTICS CASE, FRIEND HITS COP

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20 (AP) —An early morning arrest put George A. Hormel II, musician and meat packing fortune heir, in jail for 10 hours in a narcotics case highlighted by an encounter between arresting officers and Hormel's friend, actress Rita Moreno.

Hormel, 26 years old, divorced from French actress Leslie Caron, is free today on $1500 bond on a habeas corpus writ returnable Thursday in superior court.

Hormel was arrested in front of his Laurel Canyon home by the officers who said they found 13 marijuana cigarettes above the sun visor of his automobile. He had just come from a night club where he plays the piano with a trio.

The ruckus with Miss Moreno occurred after the officers and Hormel entered his house. Miss Moreno, asleep on a couch, was awakened. It was while Sgt. John E. O'Grady was trying to examine her purse that the set-to occurred. He said the actress kicked and struck him.

JAMES BROWNLEE TO HEAD AILING COAL-INDUSTRY STUDY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP) —James F. Brownlee, New York financier and food executive, today was named head of a task force to study the ailing soft coal industry and other problems of energy and fuel supply.

Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming, chairman of President Eisenhower's Cabinet committee on energy supplies and resources, named Brownlee and two others to the task group. They will prepare reports for the cabinet committee, using materials developed by industry and government committees on coal, oil, gas and other resources.

Brownlee's colleagues are John Ed. Warren, vice president of the National City Bank, New York, who will be responsible for oil and gas studies, and Charles J. Potter, president of the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal Co., Indiana, Pa., who will be responsible for coal. Others will be appointed later, Flemming said.

BALKY GRAND JURY WITNESS GETS SIX MONTHS IN JAIL

Mildred Voelpel, a reluctant witness in a vice investigation, was sentenced to six months in jail today by United States District Judge Fred L. Wham at East St. Louis.

Miss Voelpel, who formerly lived in Lexington, Ky., has been in city jail since she first refused to answer questions asked her by the grand jury meeting at East St. Louis last April 15.

Today she was called before Judge Wham for the fifth time and once again said she would not testify on grounds of self-incrimination. The only information she gave the jury was her name and age.

EDWARDSVILLE MAN KILLED WHEN HIS CAR, TRAIN COLLIDE

Robert F. Davis, a truck driver, of Edwardsville, was killed early yesterday when his automobile collided with a freight train about a mile and a half south of Edwardsville on Illinois Highway 159.

Davis's machine was dragged about 25 feet by the train, which was being used in switching, deputies said. R. J. McMullin, of Decatur, Ill., trainman, told deputies the train was moving backward when the accident happened. Deputies said electric warning signals were working when they arrived at the scene. Davis was 31 years old.

NIXON REPLIES TO STEVENSON ON G.O.P. 'GIVEAWAY'

Denies Democrat's Charges, Demands He State Own Position on World Affairs.

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 20 (AP) —Vice President Richard M. Nixon yesterday denied Adlai Stevenson's charges that the Republican administration is a "giveaway government" and is responsible for "an alarming deterioration of our world position." Nixon challenged the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for President in 1952 to make known his own position on world issues.

The Vice President told a press conference Stevenson has made no constructive suggestions of his own on world issues, such as Indochina and Korea. "The people are entitled to know what Stevenson's actions would have been in these cases," Nixon said.

Nixon, on an eight-state speaking tour on behalf of Republican candidates for Congress, attended services yesterday in the church of a former college friend.

He spoke briefly from the pulpit of the Rev. Ezra Ellis in the Wesley Methodist church and was presented a Bible. The Rev. Mr. Ellis was a fellow student at Whittier College, Whittier, Calif.

At his press conference, Nixon referred to the recent Maine election in which Edmund S. Muskie was elected the first Democratic governor of the state in 20 years and said the voting there was not particularly significant.

Nixon added the G.O.P. does not regard Maine as a trend, adding "but it showed the need for greater reorganization of state Republican parties around the nation."

The Vice President said Republicans have been working harder than ever to unify themselves in all the states he has visited.

Saturday night the Vice President addressed a cheering crowd of 3500 at a South Dakota Young Republican League rally at Huron.

Nixon told the rally the Eisenhower Administration stands squarely behind its pledge to achieve full parity in the market place for farmers.

He said the Eisenhower administration has "kicked the Communists out of the government not by the hundreds, but by the thousands,' and asked for support of the Administration so it can continue its work on great issues "left tragically undone by the Truman administration."

LAW URGED FOR CROSSING PARTY LINES IN PRIMARIES

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 20 —Amendment of Missouri's election laws to permit voters to cross party lines in primary elections was recommended in a resolution adopted at the annual convention of the Missouri State CIO Industrial Union Council here yesterday.

The resolution also recommended state-wide use of voting machines "to assure an accurate and just count of votes," and further urged reapportionment of state legislative representation on a population basis.

It pointed out that 4777 persons in Carter county have the same voice in the Missouri House of Representatives as do 48,239 residents of the North District in St. Louis.

Mendes-France Outlines Own Plan for Germany

Britain and the United States tried to rearm Germany and put it into NATO without French consent, he said:

"The United States, British and French governments are realistic and reasonable."

Wants U.S. Guarantees.

Reports from Washington said Mendes-France was ready to join the British and the Americans in bringing West Germany into the North Atlantic alliance provided Britain and the United States maintain troops on the continent for a long period and as long as satisfactory controls are put on German rearmament.

Mendes-France sent his proposals over the weekend to the six other prospective European allies as well as to the United States and Canada. The foreign ministers of all nine nations will meet in London, Sept. 27 in a determined try at finding some defense arrangement to substitute for EDC.

In Washington, the State Department had no immediate comment on the French proposals but the sentiment seemed to be that they offered little if any new hope for the early development of the "acceptable solution" called for by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Sources here said it might be difficult, if not impossible, to get the French Assembly to approve German membership in NATO. Mendes-France was reported anxious not to make the attempt until a European defense organization is set up. However, he was expected to face determined pressure at the London conference to speed up French action.

Speech by Premier.

Mendes-France arrived in Strasbourg last night after a speech at Nevers, France, in which he emphasized what he called the necessity of British participation in any European defense organization. Without close British association, the French feel the Germans will quickly reach the dominant position in any European alliance.

The French Premier warned his audience at Nevers and the western world that no "useful" plan for West Germany and western Europe can be set up without France.

"The role belonging to us in that respect is not asked, or begged as a favor or as a mark of sympathy," he declared.

There have been unconfirmed reports that the United States and Britain are ready to go ahead alone with the rearmament of West Germany if they cannot get the French agreement soon.

"The participation of England in the construction of Europe constitutes a decisive element for success," the Premier continued. "It requires a search for formulas acceptable to our British allies. That is not easy, I know, but I must say that the latest conferences (with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden last week) have shown that it is possible."

Confidence in the alliance, he said, will come particularly from an agreement on "organization of an effective system for strict limitation and stern and equal control of armaments."

He also emphasized the need for the French and the Germans to get along together, saying:

"Reconciliation between Germany and France is necessary for the political stability of Europe, as well as for its economic and social development."

Mendes-France called for speedy French action on the problem of German armament, saying:

"Our liberty of determination does not permit us to hide indefinitely behind a negative attitude. We must face the facts of the world situation. Among these facts it is necessary to take into account the attitude of our allies, with whom we wish, without hesitation, to maintain solidarity.

Discussing the non-military phases of European organization, the Premier said the advantages of wider markets needed no demonstration.

"Very soon we shall take constructive measures in that direction," he said, but added that it involved certain protective steps.

"I will not try to conceal that any declaration of principle in favor of the construction of Europe would be simply vain words if France could not be put quickly in a position to confront the peaceful competition of her partners. That (she must do) through improvement of her interior economy and by an accompanying economic modernization in the countries of the French Union."

REDS RENEW BID TO WEST GERMANY

BERLIN, Sept. 20 (AP)—Communist East Germany called on West Germany again yesterday for a conference between the two to pave the way for reunification.

The Reds said collapse of the European Defense Community plan had "created a new situation for Germany."

Similar appeals in the past have been ignored by Chancellor Adenauer's West German government, which does not recognize the Soviet zone regime.

The appeal was contained in a letter from the East German Volkskammer (lower house), borne by one of its own representatives to Bonn for the West German parliament.

It was given top play in the Communist press.

The letter listed a series of subjects to be taken up by a conference of East and West German representatives, but did not suggest a date or place.

Signed by Volkskammer President Johannes Dieckmann, it said "the present time is especially favorable to bring the German question to a solution through an understanding between the Germans themselves in east and west."

The East German appeal also called for joint support of a Big Four foreign ministers conference in which representatives of East and West Germany would participate as equal partners.

Such a parley has been proposed several times by the Russians and has been turned down each time by the United States, Britain and France.

Bonn Reported Intending to Demand Voice in NATO.

BONN, Sept. 20 (UP) — West Germany will demand full NATO membership before it starts rearming and will reject any French delaying tactics, informed sources said today.

The sources said German officials were angry over what they considered indications in a speech by French Premier Mendes-France that France will try to delay immediate German admission to NATO.

The German reaction was reported after the text of Mendes-France's speech today at Strasbourg, France, was handed to Chancellor Adenauer who examined it with his advisers.

Adenauer ordered officials to keep quiet about their attitude but they were reported angry over the speech.

One commented privately that "German rearmament under a Nato command in which Germany did not have full equality and membership would be tantamount to providing 12 divisions of foreign legionnaires."

The sources said Adenauer will insist at the nine-power conference scheduled to meet in London one week from tomorrow that Germany get NATO membership with full equality and rights before joining any Western defense system.

The sources said the West German government will not oppose restoration of its sovereignty and rearmament by stages provided there is swift action on both in getting started. They added that Germany also would accept controls on its armament provided this could be carried out without any discrimination against it in relation to the other European nations.

Ever stop to think how your gift to the Community Chest helps to give the milk that these kids are putting "down the hatch" at the Annie Malone Children's Home? One of 14 Community Chest homes for children, this agency is located at 2612 Goode Avenue.

Do you know of any youngsters who have to be coaxed to drink their milk? Not so these little orphans! Perhaps it's because they've never learned to take the good things of life for granted. To them, an ordinary glass of Grade "A" milk is a great treat.

And this milk you've helped to provide is playing an important part in their lives. It means strong bones and teeth . . . healthy bodies to help them grow up into happy, successful individuals.

Because milk is such a popular item on the menu at the Annie Malone Home, you may be sure that plenty of it is consumed . . . more than 300 gallons per month, in fact. Quite a milk bill . . . but certainly worth it. And you'll be interested to know that, through special rates, the milk that these kids are drinking costs only three and one-half cents per glass. This brings up an important point about Chest-supported agencies: Through the Chest's plan of voluntary group purchasing, agencies are encouraged and assisted to make your charity dollar go farther and do more good.

OZARK TELEVISION CORP. REORGANIZATION MOVE FAILS

An effort to devise a re-organization plan for Ozark Television Corp., which has filed a voluntary petition for re-organization under the federal bankruptcy act, has failed to develop any possible plan for the purpose, James E. Darst, Ozark's permanent trustee, said today.

In a report filed in the court of United States District Judge George H. Moore, Darst said the corporation, holder of a Federal Communications Commission permit to operate a television station using ultra high frequency, could not be re-organized "on the ultra high frequency basis."

Such operations, Darst continued, are for the most part unprofitable and not economical. He found no active interest in ultra high frequency television on the part of qualified investors, he reported.

Ozark's bankruptcy petition, filed April 9, listed liabilities of $706,339 and assets of $649,248. Darst also filed a request to sell some of Ozark's equipment to an out-of-town buyer. Until April 3, Ozark operated station KACY-TV, with studios near Maxville, Jefferson county.

Get excited about your hair

IT'S YOUR MOST EXCITING FEATURE!

She's a wise teen who banks on a good shampoo to make the simplest hair-do shine bright as a dollar.

The "bouffant" look that's so new in daytime hair styles. Really sophisticated . . . and very, very suave.

If you're letting your hair grow . . . keep the news to yourself with this "pretty do." Use Helene Curtis Spray Net, too.

Keep your hair looking young with this flattering hair style. And do use that new, remarkable conditioning preparation . . . a Lanolin Discovery . . . to keep your hair from showing its age.

PRESENTS . . .

BEAUTY SECRETS

of Famous Helene Curtis

BY ELIZABETH BRITE

HAIR STYLES have shaped destinies and helped to chart history.

Your hair style is probably your most prominent trademark. Cleopatra devastated Mark Antony with her straight coal black hair worn in a long bob. Helen of Troy's mop of curls bound in a gold ribbon launched all those ships and caused Paris' heart to pound. Madame Pompadour dressed her curls into that high, amazing coiffeur that charmed Louis XIV and to this day still bears her name. And Marlene Dietrich made headlines during World War II when she washed her hair in a GI helmet and set it in pin curls only a few short miles from the front lines.

You may not care for the straight bob, the pompadour or any of the various hairstyles affected by history's most famous femme fatales. And besides, you don't want to devastate Mark Antony. Your beau's name is Tom.

But you certainly want him to think your hair is "fatale." And he will, if you follow the beauty secrets we just learned at the fabulous Helene Curtis Hair Beauty Clinic.

"Beautiful hair always starts with a conditioning shampoo," Gene remarked, as he started brushing my hair vigorously. Next he soaked it in lukewarm water. Then he poured some Helene Curtis Lanolin Lotion Shampoo into the palm of his hand and massaged my scalp with his finger tips.

"Notice the rich creamy lanolin lather," Gene said. "This particular shampoo contains twice as much lanolin to give a wonderful conditioning effect."

Next came the rinsing, until the hair was glistening clean. Then . . . he did the whole works over again!

Once the second rinsing was complete and the hair squeezed dry, he poured a tablespoonful of Helene Curtis Creme Rinse into a glass of warm water, mixed it and poured it over the hair.

Be sure you allow the conditioning Creme Rinse to soak into the hair a few minutes before final rinsing and drying. And you'll be amazed at how it leaves "problem" hair soft and silky, alive with sparkling highlights, so easy to set. Once you try it, you'll always treat yourself to this quick beauty-finish after every shampoo!

And now for the final touch! To make your hair obey perfectly right after shampoo and all day long, Gene uses 2 or 3 magic drops of Suave hairdressing. Put it on your palms, rub hands together and pat gently on your hair. Then set. When dry, brush to a quick gloss . . . and we promise you you'll have the most glamorous, radiant looking hair of your life!

You can get Helene Curtis Lanolin Lotion in $1 size; Helene Curtis Creme Rinse at 59c and $1; and Helene Curtis Suave 50c and $1. Special Suave for Men in plastic squeeze flasks 60c and $1. All Plus Fed. Tax

FOR FASCINATING HAIR
There's Nothing Like Fresh Egg In Shampoo!

BY HELENE CURTIS

Next time you shampoo your hair, try the remarkable new shampoo-conditioner that suddenly "puts egg-citement in your hair!" It will amaze you! And here's why . . .

Remember how grandma used to give herself an egg shampoo whenever she wanted to look especially nice? Rather a messy business—but it got results.

Now you can get those same results (the benefits of cholesterol, lecithin and albumin contained in the egg) in a much neater and pleasanter manner. For my Shampoo Plus Egg* actually contains fresh whole egg (not egg powder), so it acts as a conditioning treatment as well as a cleanser and beautifier.

Nothing could be simpler. You pour some of this rich yellow shampoo into the palm of your hand, massage it into your wet hair. Rinse. Start over again with a smaller amount of shampoo. Rinse thoroughly—and there you are with clean, silky, manageable hair like never before!

If your hair is especially dull, lifeless, or sunburned, a couple of these conditioning shampoos will really work miracles! Then keep right on using it. If you want to see how beautiful your hair can be, you'll find Helene Curtis Shampoo Plus Egg* is "eggsactly what your hair needs." $1 and $1.69. *2%

NO MORE WILD HAIR AFTER SHAMPOO

Does shampooing leave your hair wild and unruly? Hard to manage? Can't do a thing with it? Famous Helene Curtis, world leader in hair beauty, has the answer to your problem! It's amazing new Helene Curtis Creme Rinse with LANOLIN. There's never been anything like it! Put a little in after-shampoo rinse water—presto! —hair behaves like magic! So easy to control, you hardly believe your own eyes! A special ingredient in Helene Curtis Creme Rinse gives your hair exciting new "body"—leaves it soft and silky, far easier to manage. You'll marvel at how smoothly your comb glides through—how easily hair sets, how long the set lasts. Only new Helene Curtis Creme Rinse with lanolin gives these magic results.— 59c and $1. Plus Tax

REMARKABLE NEW CONDITIONING PREPARATION

Lanolin Discovery Sprays Away Dry Hair Woes!

BY JOAN ROWELLS

IT WOULDN'T take a detective two minutes to find the reason why seven out of ten of us gals have dry hair problems today.

When hair and scalp oils are baked out by the sun, stripped off by harsh shampoos or improperly done home permanents . . . you can look for only one result. Dry, lackluster hair! Take a look in your own mirror!

Happily, now there is a real answer. One that's so effective it's been called "the breath of life for lifeless-looking hair."

We mean, of course, the remarkable new hair and scalp conditioner developed by Helene Curtis and named — very aptly, we feel — "Lanolin Discovery". This new preparation gives your hair and scalp the full benefits of nature's own hair conditioner—lanolin—in a form that is truly, one hundred percent absorbable.

Now, if that word "absorbable" throws you, you should know that so-called lanolin conditioners contain only 10% lanolin, the rest is vegetable or mineral oils that cannot be absorbed. That's the reason for that greasy, lanky-locks look that has kept so many of you away from usual hair conditioners.

But "Lanolin Discovery" sprays from an aerosol container a fine mist of completely absorbable lanolin that really conditions your hair and scalp and positively leaves no greasy residue. Simply spray on "Lanolin Discovery," then brush it through your hair. That's all! No massaging, no dabbing, no struggle to get an even application.

The results are all but miraculous. Dry, straw-like hair immediately takes on a silky sheen. Drab, colorless hair becomes sparkly and highlighted. Tests show that "Lanolin Discovery" is actually up to ten times more effective than any other hair product! But why not discover for yourself the joyous results of "Lanolin Discovery."

YOU WOULDN'T stick your nose out of the house without powder, would you? Or dream of saying an un-lipsticked "hello" to your date. But . . . all the powder and lipstick in the world won't cover up for carelessly cared-for hair.

There it sits . . . right at his eye level. He'd have to be blindly in love not to see it. It is our belief that beautiful hair puts men in love. Why else would it be the heart-beat in so many poems, the lyric of so many songs?

With just a little care, your hair can be lyrically lovely, too.

The essentials of hair care are: Number one—being careful to choose the right shampoo. Number two—keeping your hair and scalp at their healthy best. We admit the latter hasn't been easy. But now there is a new Helene Curtis conditioner for hair and scalp—Lanolin Discovery—that is almost a miracle. It's so exceptional, in fact, that we've devoted the whole adjoining column to it. Number three—have your permanent done by an expert. Even the best home-kinds don't always keep their promise. Number four—remember, it takes only a few minutes for a bedtime hair set, and your waves and curls will thank you all day long.

Now about your hair style. At the top of this page are some of the most becoming hair-dos in the fashion picture today. Why not experiment? Or go to your Beauty Shop and let them give your hair a new turn. Better (and far less expensive) than a new hat for your ego. And watch particularly what they do when your hair is set . . . they use Helene Curtis Spray Net to keep that set in place.

You can (and should) use Spray Net at home, too. This fragrant mist will make even an untrained hair-do remember its place . . . all day . . . every day . . . rain or shine! Spray Net gives you none of that stickiness, or stiffness usually associated with hair fixatives.

This is a mist so fine you can't see or feel it, Helene Curtis has found a way to blend into it a remarkable spray-on Lanolin Lotion. Spray Net can never dry your hair . . . even helps hair that has a natural tendency to dryness.

And if you've hesitated to use a hair spray because you were afraid of building up a flaky deposit in your hair . . . forget your fears. Helene Curtis Spray Net brushes out, or rinses out, in a jiffy.

As you can see, we feel that Spray Net is far more than a finishing touch . . . it's indispensable, if you want the kind of hair that men notice—approvingly. Soft, lustrous, caressable, touchable hair that knows its place . . . and keeps it!

SUDDEN DATE? HERE'S AN EMERGENCY HAIR SET!

You're all curled up with a book . . . not a sign of a curl in your hair, you're home for the evening. Suddenly the phone rings. "How about a movie?" There you sit, ten minutes from romance, looking like Frankenstein's wife.

Simply reach for your Helene Curtis Spray Net. You can have a heavenly hair set in no more time than it takes to slip into your clothes and put on your make-up!

Here's all you do . . . put your hair up in pin curls. Then spray with Spray Net. No water, no wave set . . . nothing but fragrant, fast-setting Spray Net. Leave it five minutes, remove the pins, brush your hair and arrange it. That's it! Beautiful, bouncy curls, easy-to-manage waves with just a few strokes of your hair brush!

Give your hair another light spray of Helene Curtis Spray Net. Lock your hair-do softly in place for the whole evening.

GEN. PHILLIPS

Reds Had No Notion of Landing On Quemoy, Shelled It to Wreck New Dock Used in Supplying Isle

Did Not Concentrate Troops, Ships and Planes Necessary for Invasion — Nationalist Air Attacks Made for Political Effect in U.S.

Military Analyst of the Post-Dispatch.

TAIPEH, Sept. 20.

A POST MORTEM on the Quemoy affair may clear up some of the obvious contradictions and mysteries. Not all can be resolved yet but some can.

Why did the Reds, for example, shell Quemoy Sept. 3 and then fail to follow the shelling by a landing? A Nationalist military spokesman explained to correspondents that the heavy shelling was on the northeastern beaches where a landing had been attempted in 1949. He said the shelling was quite definitely in preparation for a landing attack.

Correspondents were not permitted to go to the beach. They were skeptical about the shelling and wanted to see at least one shell hole where the two American lieutenant colonels were killed. Instead a house in a village a mile or so back from the beach which had been hit was shown to the doubters to prove that shells actually had landed.

The beach is the front line; it is too dangerous, we were told, for you to go there.

From other sources the writer learned that the shelling had been directed at an improvised dock on the western end of the island closest to Amoy. The dock had been made by running one landing ship ashore and anchoring another across the end of it. The shelling was zeroed exactly on the landing ships and sank them.

The two American officers were on the beach beyond the docks and directly in the line of fire.

The immediate material object of the bombardment was to destroy this dock which was used for the supply of Little and Big Quemoy. This was accomplished. There may have been political objectives also but no one knows what these were except the Communists.

Political Motives.

Was the invasion of Quemoy foiled by Nationalist air and artillery counter-action? Obviously not, if an invasion had not been planned. That it was not planned is apparent from the fact that no concentration of shipping, troops or aircraft had been assembled in the area.

The truth is that the Nationalist air force had to be pushed into taking counter-action. This is not to their discredit in any way, but rather is a tribute to their knowledge of the limitations of airpower.

Adm. Robert E. Carney, United States Chief of Naval Operations, did not want to use naval strikes at Dien Bien Phu because he doubted that they would succeed in raising the siege.

The Nationalist air chief felt, and correctly, that with the limited number of planes available to him together with the difficulty of hitting dug-in artillery positions it would be almost impossible to have any real effect on the Red artillery but the counterattack went off for political reasons to arouse the United States.

Then the official propaganda line became that an invasion had been aborted because of the heroic action of the Nationalist aviation and artillery.

Has there been any change in the instructions to United States naval forces concerning the defense of Formosa? There has been no change. Formosa and the Pescadores are covered by existing instructions but the offshore islands are not. There is serious danger, however, that our efforts to play coy and to keep the Reds guessing about our intentions will take on the appearance of a guarantee for the off-shore islands to such an extent that to maintain the appearance of good faith we shall be committed to their defense.

Prospects of Invasion.

Will the Red bombardment of Quemoy be followed later by an invasion? The writer can report two estimates from the two senior and most respected Chinese officers on Formosa. One said that he does not expect the invasion of Quemoy. If tried under present conditions—that is, without any air support and without proper landing craft—it would be a very expensive defeat.

The other said that he does not believe an invasion is due soon. The Reds, he said, may have caught themselves in their own propaganda of radioed threats to invade Quemoy and Formosa and may be forced to take some action to prevent loss of face. While he does not think an invasion of Quemoy would be successful under present circumstances, neither does he believe that Quemoy can be held if the necessary effort to take it is made.

He called attention to the fact that the operation was more like a river crossing than an amphibious landing and that the Red crossing could be protected by artillery fire from Amoy and the mainland. Neither of these officers believes that an invasion of Quemoy is imminent.

Are the offshore islands essential to the defense of Formosa and should the United States use armed force to assist in their defense? The Nationalists hold between 20 and 30 offshore islands of which 15 are important enough to have names. Of these only three have any value. The three are Big Quemoy, Matsu and Big Tachen.

Wherever the Nationalists have fortified and occupied islands the Reds have done the same nearby so that the Nationalist positions are neutralized. The only island held by the Nationalists that bothers the Reds is Quemoy. It effectively blocks the use of Amoy harbor.

Matsu and Tachen are about 14 miles from the coast and have some value as entry points for covert operations. Tachen has a radar station on it. Tachen is garrisoned by an understrength division and Matsu has a small garrison. Neither of these islands is of any value for landing operations against the mainland.

Some people have advanced the idea that Quemoy would be valuable to invasion operations against the mainland. This is an illusion. The entire island is within Red artillery range and most of it can be seen with telescopes from the high hills on Amoy. It would be impossible to assemble the troops and shipping for a landing without being observed and fired upon from the mainland and Amoy.

The mere fact that the Nationalists have fortified, manned and are trying to hold these islands gives them a psychological importance far in excess of their military value. The capture of any one of them would be heralded throughout the East as a defeat for the United States and the Nationalists.

Is this a sufficient reason for the United States to attack the mainland to defend them? (This is the only way in which we could act to defend Quemoy). The writer has not found any of our military who believe that we should.

The United States has allowed the Nationalists to use the material furnished for the defense of Formosa to defend the shore islands as they deem necessary. The Military Assistance Advisory Group is assisting in planning the defense and locating the weapons.

This is as far as our military believe we should go. It may be too far since we have assumed responsibility to a certain degree in participating at all.

Shipments to Formosa.

Is military assistance reaching Formosa in sufficient quantity for the new threat? An equivocal official statement issued in Washington said that military aid was flowing regularly to Formosa and implied that Formosa was being well taken care of. This apparently was intended to calm the concern felt by many people in the United States about the fate of Formosa after the Quemoy attack.

The truth is that shipments to Formosa are two, three and four years behind programs and promises. There is not enough equipment of some types and not enough ammunition for training without thinking of the quantities required if the island had to be defended.

Formosa quite properly has been number three in priority in the Far East while the wars were going on in Korea and Indochina. It was also behind Europe in priority. So while statistics can be given to show that Formosa has received $200,000,000 annually in military aid or some such figure the aid has been mostly in easy-to-procure soft goods and equipment and not in many of the essential and critical items needed for the defense of the island.

Altogether the American public is being deluded from here and is being misinformed at home. It can, however, rest assured that Formosa is safe under the protection of the Seventh Fleet.

Top Democrats View Stevenson As a Candidate

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 20 (AP).
By JACK BELL

TOP Democrats carried away from a campaign kickoff rally at Indianapolis this weekend the impression that Adlai E. Stevenson is prepared to fight for the 1956 presidential nomination.

Representative Sam Rayburn of Texas, House minority leader, summed up what evidently was the viewpoint of many of his colleagues with this succinct comment on Stevenson: "He's a candidate."

Rayburn appeared to feel, as did many other Democrats, that if Stevenson wants the nomination he will be a tough man to beat.

Stevenson, who became 1952 standard bearer with some reluctance, maintained his usual public silence on future plans. But there was some evidence that the former Illinois Governor is coming to enjoy his role as titular leader of the Democratic party more than he ever believed he would. Despite the vexations of almost continuous travel in this year's campaign, he has confessed to friends the job he has undertaken of rebuilding the party fascinates him.

Stevenson's Views.

Stevenson has maintained in talks with party leaders that it is too early even to discuss the presidential race two years from now. Although he believes President Eisenhower has slipped in popularity, he is inclined to think that no President could maintain the level of the 1952 sweep.

Nevertheless, it is evident Stevenson feels that if the record of the first 20 months of the Eisenhower Administration is a criterion, a Democrat will have a good chance of winning the presidency two years from now.

Dissension which cropped out at the rally here indicated that the 1956 nomination is not going by default if some Democrats can help it.

There now is going on within the party a struggle for power between the regulars who stood close to the throne when Harry S. Truman was President and the late comers who have found places on the National Committee under Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell, Stevenson's handpicked man. Truman, himself, apparently is not involved in this fight and is maintaining close relations with Stevenson.

This struggle may culminate after the election in the choice of a successor to Mitchell, who has made it clear he wants Paul Butler, Indiana national committeeman, as his successor.

Butler's Opponents.

Arrayed against Butler at this time are Oscar Chapman, former Secretary of the Interior; Michael V. Di Salle, former price administrator, and James Finnegan of Philadelphia, who is regarded as somewhat of an independent.

Who will win this test of strength evidently depends largely on how the Democrats fare in their battle with the Republicans for control of Congress. If Stevenson and Mitchell can hit that particular jackpot in November, their National Committee influence is likely to be overpowering.

Stevenson is not leaving many unturned stones in that direction. He has a full schedule which calls for appearances at Bloomington, Ill., tomorrow; in Evanston, Ill., Sept. 24; Minneapolis, Sept. 25; Rockford, Ill., Oct. 1; Detroit, Oct. 2; Wichita, Kan., Oct. 7; Los Angeles, Oct. 9; Albuquerque, N.M., Oct. 15, and San Francisco, Oct. 16.

After that he expects to campaign in Wisconsin, New York, New Jersey and Delaware, with some more speeches in Illinois.

Although some Democrats said they thought Stevenson was attempting to bring his speeches down to simpler form than those he used in the 1952 campaign, he has told party leaders who have urged him to adopt Truman's "give 'em hell" tactics that he can't change his stripes.

Mitchell Predicts 80-to-90 Democratic Majority in House.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 20 (AP)—Maine's recent election points to "the greatest Democratic sweep since 1936" and a Democratic party majority of "80 or 90 seats" in the House of Representatives, says Stephen A. Mitchell, Democratic national chairman.

But, the optimistic Mitchell warned a Cuyahoga county party rally at Euclid Beach Park yesterday, the Republicans are in a "mood of desperation" and have important weapons to fight against such a setback.

He listed these weapons as:

1. A national campaign fund of $3,800,000—"twice as much as any party ever spent before in an off-year election.
2. Editorial support of most newspapers and magazines.
3. The prestige of President Eisenhower, who is indorsing some candidates Mitchell labeled "election-weather friends" only of the Chief Executive.
4. Use of "the power of government for political purposes."

DULLES EXPECTED TO UNVEIL ATOMIC POOL PLAN IN U.N.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will formally unveil the United States's new atomic pool plan this week in an address before the United Nations General Assembly, informed sources said today.

They said Russia has ignored an eleventh-hour invitation to participate.

Dulles is expected to give a policy speech to the Assembly Wednesday or Thursday. He probably will make a strong point of Russia's "indifference" when he outlines the atoms-for-peace proposal.

He is expected to point out that Russia's refusal to join means the pool cannot be as effective as President Eisenhower originally hoped. Some diplomats also feel there should not be a close tie with the U.N. where Russia might be able to kibitz on Allied plans.

Mr. Eisenhower said in a Labor day statement that the United States and six allies—Britain, Canada, Australia, South Africa, France and Belgium—had agreed to set up an international atomic agency.

DEATH OF BISHOP OF SINOPE IN HUNGARIAN JAIL REPORTED

VATICAN CITY, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Vatican has learned that Msgr. Zoltan Louis Meszlenyi, 62 years old, titular bishop of Sinope, died last Jan. 2 in a Communist jail in Hungary, a Vatican spokesman announced today.

He said Bishop Meszlenyi was former auxiliary to Giustiniano Cardinal Giorgio Seredi, primate of Hungary, who died in 1945. The bishop was arrested by Communist police in June 1950 and held in jail since.

Tito Against Becoming Member Of the Atlantic Defense Bloc

BELGRADE, Sept. 20 (AP).

PRESIDENT JOSIP (TITO) BROZ yesterday rejected any suggestion that his country become a member of the Atlantic defense community. At the same time he said he would welcome any gesture of good will from Russia and said Germany should be granted sovereignty and rearmed "as a strong and vital country."

He cautioned the world to guard against giving Germany, which he fought as a partisan in World War II, sufficient military strength to touch off another World War.

He spoke at the town of Celje in the Yugoslav province of Slovenia. A crowd officially estimated at 350,000 punctuated his address with cheers of "Hero Tito," "Long Live Tito" and "Tito Is Ours." The occasion was the tenth anniversary of the liberation struggle in Styria.

Refers to Russia.

Referring to the Soviet Union, Tito said:

"Of late they seem to be realizing that there can be no normalization only in words, that it will be necessary to demonstrate normalization also a bit with deeds.

"And," said the Yugoslav president, still talking about the Russians, "they have begun to act in this direction. We greet this attempt on their part, and shall gladly accept any gesture of good will."

Earlier in his speech he said the Atlantic alliance is "increasingly assuming a political hue—a struggle against Communism. Hence, the suggestions which are being addressed to us to join the Atlantic pact are unacceptable."

"We are painted a Socialist hue," said Tito. "There is no place for us in a bloc which has an anti-Socialist tendency."

Tito, who heads a Communist government which broke with the Russian-dominated Cominform in 1948, added that Yugoslavia can, however, co-operate with the countries of the Atlantic pact.

Out of Question.

Tito said any ideological struggle, any preventive measure, any preventive war, is out of the question for Yugoslavia.

Recalling the formation of the Balkan pact (Yugoslavia, Turkey and Greece), Tito said this was a grouping which is painted no ideological hue, but an association which is the result of necessity—for the sake of defending independence.

Tito said Germany should not be subjugated forever.

"I consider that they are not right who want to keep Germany forever in chains. In accordance with the peace treaty, Germany is entitled to sovereignty," he said.

Although he recommended normalization of relations with Russia and its satellites, Tito said this would not disturb Yugoslavia's present foreign policy.

"We shall co-operate with them (the western powers) as we have so far," he said.

Yugoslavian View Toward Russia Reported Still Unchanged.

ROME, Sept. 20 (AP)—Soviet Russia has been making strong overtures to Marshal Josef (Tito) Broz recently but the Yugoslav leader personally has stated in the last few days that his attitude toward Moscow remains unchanged, a responsible American informant said last night.

Asked if Tito has given any recent indication of a more friendly attitude toward Russia, the informant said: "Just the opposite."

Yet Tito was reported to have said that Vassily Valkov, Russian ambassador to Belgrade, for several months has been trying to make relations closer.

It apparently was to this that Tito referred today when he said in a speech that the Soviets have begun to act in the direction of normalizing relations and "we greet this attempt on their part, and shall gladly accept any gesture of goodwill."

Those in close touch with Yugoslavia emphasized that Tito considers himself a Communist even though he broke with Moscow in 1948.

Despite his adherence to Communism, Tito has, within the last few days, emphasized again that the chief basis of his quarrel with Moscow remains, the informant said.

ONLY IN ISRAEL CAN JEWS 'SHAPE' LIFE, EINSTEIN DECLARES

PRINCETON, N.J., Sept. 20 (AP)—Dr. Albert Einstein yesterday said Israel was "the only place on earth" where Jews could shape public life according to their traditional ideals.

He told a conference of the American Friends of the Hebrew University, an organization dedicated to raising funds for reconstruction of the university:

"In our tradition it is neither the ruler nor the politician, neither the soldier nor the merchant who represents the ideal.

"The ideal is represented by the teacher, that is to say, the person who is able, through his work and his efforts, to enrich the intellectual, moral and artistic life of his people. This implies a definite repudiation of what is commonly called 'materialism.'

"The idea is that human beings can attain a worthy and harmonius life only if they are able to rid themselves within the limits of human nature of the striving for wish-fulfillments of a material kind. The goal is to raise the spiritual level of society."

"THEY HAD OUR HOUSE SPOTTED"

"We were only gone from our home three hours but that's all the thieves needed. They had our house spotted . . . knew when we would be away and for how long. Our electric appliances, silverware, jewelry, everything of value was taken."

Like so many theft victims, this man found that his possessions were not safe, simply because his doors were locked . . . and like so many others his mistake cost him hundreds of dollars.

Not many people can afford that kind of a loss . . . but nearly everyone can afford the kind of insurance which protects them from it. Favoring Some Taxpayers

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

A Republican Congress has again slipped over a tax bill on the country that saves the upper income group millions of dollars. The lower income group gets mostly a ridiculous statement that the corporations and millionaires will pass on their savings when they get ready to invest this money.

The last Republican Congress in 1948 passed the income-splitting provision which helped those in the high tax brackets. The President in his speech explaining the tax bill indicated how much taxes were cut, but he very wisely did not state who was getting the cut.

The fact remains that an individual who derives his only income from wages and does not list his deductions has not had his tax bill cut one cent.

Who is deriving the benefits of this tax cut? The two largest groups are (1) the individual who receives dividends and (2) corporations which have a lot of money to tie up in plant and equipment. Why have these taxpayers been given the tax break and the wage earner given nothing?

I think the answer is evident. The Republican party is a party that favors those in the higher income bracket. I do not believe there is anything wrong with this, but I think it is someone's duty to call attention of the lower income group to the real truth of the new tax law.

Seeing the World Whole

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Please accept my sincere appreciation for your sight-seeing trip around the world via the wonderful maps inclosed in the Sept. 12 Post-Dispatch.

It has been the source of much pleasure to me. As I go over the maps, assisted by the explanation, it seems as if I really visit each foreign place, and become acquainted with the people. Often when reading about cities and towns my mind would become confused as to just where each one was situated; now I can refer to your maps.

Your paper is to be commended very highly for the idea and its execution.

Special Interest in K-T

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

During the state seizure of the Kansas City Public Service Co., several years ago, a woman named Ryder was seriously injured by one of this company's vehicles.

In the ensuing litigation the decision of Circuit Judge Blair in Cole county court was upheld by our Missouri Supreme Court.

The gist of this decision was that since the Kansas City Public Service Co. was under state seizure, the company was merely an agent of the state and it could not be held responsible for said injury; that the state, not having contracted to be sued, could not be sued.

This was all a direct result of our infamous King-Thompson law, which directs the seizure of any Missouri public utility during a strike of its employes and at the same time hogties labor with other provisions.

Are our laws passed for the protection of our people or, as in the case of King-Thompson, are our laws passed for the protection of other interests?

My being a bus driver gives me a very special interest in King-Thompson.

The Price of Progress

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Penny pinching has not been a factor in any phase of American progress. Yet in our local affairs some individuals are taking a penny-pinching attitude.

Every large city in the United States is facing the problem of keeping community services on a high level. In St. Louis, we have been able to devise an equitable system of taxation to meet a financial problem that has to be solved in one way or another.

For our city the issue is a clear one—the price of progress in St. Louis is a half-penny tax.

As to Quemoy's Importance

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Reread your editorial of Sept. 15 on Quemoy any time you are inclined to berate demagogues. You accept the judgment of your military analyst as correct, and then ignore his answer to your question as to whose psychology makes Quemoy important. He says:

"The phychological argument . . . has a great deal of merit to most Asia. The military unimportance of the islands is not apparent. If they were taken by the Reds it would be considered generally as a major defeat for Nationalist China and the United States."

Your analyst, retired Brig. Gen. Phillips, is not implying the Red leaders are fooled about the unimportance of those islands; it is the peoples of free Asia he refers to, as you well know. Your question and answer monologue trying to make it purely an issue of Knowland and Chiang Kai-shek is the kind of distortion you criticize McCarthy for using. Practice what you preach.

HENRY BLAND.

Still on Strike

It begins to look as if Gov. Donnelly is determined to carry on his "strike" against filling those three Jackson County judgeships to the very day he leaves the Executive Mansion for the privacy of his own law office in Lebanon. More and more it seems that his continued refusal to act may be broken only by an order from the Missouri Supreme Court, if the court is convinced that such an order is within its authority.

Under the non-partisan court plan, the Sixteenth Judicial Commission now has submitted its three nominees for each of the new Circuit Court seats for the third time, and the Governor has rejected them for the third time. This time he even called for the resignation of three of the five commission members.

Although expounded in somewhat more detail, the Governor's explanation of his adamant position still is that the nominations were dictated by political considerations. Certainly, the nominees —Republicans and Democrats alike—did not support his last bid for the governorship. And there may be more to it than that.

For example, the Governor says that the Judicial Commission made a deal with Republican members of the 1953 Legislature. To insure creation of the three new seats, he says, the commission promised to nominate one all-Republican panel so that he would be compelled to appoint at least one Republican judge.

All this may be true; but even if the commission played politics, the remedy is not more politics from the Governor's office. Without taking a stand one way or another on the nominees involved in this indefensible impasse, we have maintained that submission to the Governor's demand would set an intolerable precedent. It would mean that any Governor could reject all nominations except those politically or personally pleasing to him. That indeed would be the end of all hopes for a nonpartisan judiciary.

The State Supreme Court saw this danger very clearly when it responded to a request from the bar to use its rule-making power in this dispute. Last July the Court ruled that a Judicial Commission could overthrow a nomination before the Governor acted on it—provided there was a substantial cause, affecting the qualification of a nominee. But the Court also said:

> Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to impose (or to recognize) any obligation whatsoever upon any commission to reconsider or withdraw any nomination, whether or not the Governor shall have requested reconsideration thereof, or shall have purported to reject such nominations.

That is just about as clear as language can be. Judicial nominations are none of the Governor's business. His duty is to select one man of the three suggested and appoint him to the bench. No doubt he can say, if he wants to, that he would not make the appointment were this left to his choice. But it is not—beyond the law's requirement that three names be submitted to him.

If a Judicial Commission has acted improperly, if it has nominated men unfit for the bench, the remedy does not lie in the Governor's hands. The bar and the Supreme Court can deal with such a case. So in this instance, it seems to us, Gov. Donnelly does not have a leg to stand on. Indeed, he seems to be refusing to do his constitutionally commanded duty.

The delay in the adjudication of litigation in the Kansas City area because of the failure to appoint these three additional judges is serious. But it is as nothing compared with the harm which would be done to the nonpartisan plan were the Governor to have his way. As a lawyer he should see this.

Picking on Wellston?

Pointed complaints about law enforcement and municipal management in Wellston have become a predictable feature of grand jury reports in St. Louis county. The May term grand jury is the latest to have its say. Although it did not go so far as some of its predecessors, it did exhibit the same raised eyebrows where Wellston was concerned.

Why have the grand juries been picking on Wellston? That community, which is a Democratic stronghold in a strongly Republican county, may well have earned the wrath of grand juries. On the other hand, it may be significant that the juries sit in Clayton, where they are surrounded by Republican officeholders and perhaps blinded by the trappings of Republican power.

Circuit Judge Douglas L. C. Jones, a Democrat, will supervise the next grand jury. He has quite properly instructed it to "complete" the investigation of conditions in Wellston "to clear up the situation one way or another." In other words, it is time to put up or shut up with respect to Wellston, and to that we say Amen!

Painters and Puns

Tom Cowdery, the painter who is having a one-man show at Petit Pigalle, chooses subjects so similar to those of Toulouse-Lautrec that his fellow artist Jim Harmon declared "he'd be the local Lautrec if he looked more like Jose Ferrer," who played the part in the movie "Moulin Rouge." "That," retorted Mr. Cowdery, as reported by Art Reviewer Howard Derrickson, "is indeed a low trick on Lautrec." But is it too low for Toulouse?

Changing the U.N. Rules

On the eve of this week's session of the United Nations General Assembly, Senator Wiley suggested that study be given to a new voting system for that body. The larger nations, he thinks, ought to have a louder voice. The Security Council having declined in importance during the cold war stalemate, the Assembly's prestige has increased; and Senator Wiley apparently thinks it is not right that a small country like Ecuador should have the same vote as a large one like the United States.

Cynics at the U.N. may point out that Senator Wiley makes his proposal for changing the rules just at the point when the United States, which has generally been able to win most of the vote contests under existing rules, is facing a challenge to its leadership on some issues, especially Asian issues.

Or they might note with interest that among other parliamentary bodies in which the race goes not always to the swift, and the votes not always to the big, is the United States Senate. If it is bad for a small nation to have an equal vote with a big one, what about Senator Wiley of Wisconsin, who represents 3,500,000 people and yet casts the same vote as a New York Senator who represents 14,800,000?

The truth is that the General Assembly, like the United States Senate, is only half of a constitutional bargain. The one-nation-one-vote rule in the Assembly was adopted for the precise purpose of giving the smaller nations something like equality with the big ones, that being considered a partial offset to the immense power of the five big nations which were given a veto in the Security Council.

If the Assembly voting formula were changed, in fairness the Security Council veto would have to be abandoned, or the Security Council abolished. Much can be said for a unicameral organization operating on a weighted voting formula. But if this were ever proposed, it is a safe bet that one locale of bitter, die-hard opposition would be the United States Senate.

The Challenge Over Offshore Oil

The State of Louisiana has now thrown down its challenge over offshore oil lands past the three-mile limit in a way that compels the Federal Government to stand and fight or turn tail and retreat. It has offered for lease some of the same tracts which the Federal Government offered the preceding week.

A policy of evading open dispute has been followed so far by the Administration at Washington, for a plain enough reason. There is an embarrassing division within the Administration. Attorney General Brownell is standing on the three-mile limit. President Eisenhower is telling state officials he still favors state control out to the states' "historic boundaries," whatever they are. Louisiana is claiming 10½ miles or more.

The Eisenhower Administration is thus in the untenable position of opposing Louisiana's challenge at one end of the Cabinet table and giving in to it at the other.

The State Government at Baton Rouge has taken full advantage of this situation, by announcing last month that it would collect license, sales and income taxes on offshore lands which the Department of Interior is administering, and this month by offering Department of Interior reserves for lease.

If the Department of Justice continues to do nothing, and if Administration councils continue divided, Louisiana will be encouraged to press its present claims and think up still others. Other coastal states will be emboldened to do likewise.

The Administration quite evidently felt that it had settled the offshore oil dispute when Congress enacted the Submerged Lands Act of 1953, forfeiting federal claims out to the states' "historic boundaries." We said at the time that it was no settlement, that Congress was only stirring up a new and worse hornet's nest; and developing events are amply bearing out that point of view.

The Submerged Lands Act was an act of appeasement which had no other effect than to whet appetites for more and more profitable encroachments by the governments of coastal states upon the federal offshore domain.

Business Week pointedly says: "The question now is: When will the Federal Government apply the brakes?" Thirteen Senators, including Thomas C. Hennings Jr. of Missouri and Paul H. Douglas of Illinois, asked Attorney General Brownell that question early last month. How far is the growing confusion over the administration of offshore oil and sulphur lands to be allowed to go before the Federal Government will step in to restore order?

Welcome

A new television station meets the community tonight—one which the community has been waiting to welcome with special interest. Channel 9—or KETC—is the first venture in this wide region into educational TV. The station represents the broadest interests in education and the broadest public support in the way of subscriptions and hopes. At the same time, the community will have to understand that nonprofit television is a difficult proposition. It must begin in a limited way and what it becomes will depend on the public no less than on the station staff and directors. Both should learn a great deal from Channel 9—so we wish it well.

The Parity Pledge Again

Among other 1952 campaign themes which Vice President Nixon is playing over again this year is the parity pledge on farm prices. He told audiences in the Middle West that this Administration stands "for 100 per cent of parity in the market place."

That is what Dwight Eisenhower told farm audiences in 1952, and the words led to an unfortunate misunderstanding. Some farmers evidently did not hear or fully appreciate the latter half of the phrase. They thought they were being promised Government price supports at 100 per cent of parity. It was only after the election that Mr. Eisenhower cleared up the matter by pointing out that he had said "in the market place."

Now that Vice President Nixon is repeating the pledge, further misunderstanding will be avoided if everybody remembers that being for 100 per cent of parity in the market place means that Mr. Nixon favors 100 per cent if the farmers can get it.

This is really a rather conservative position. Why not propose 200 per cent of parity if the farmers can get it? Or 300?

Along the same line, Mr. Nixon should be able to come out for a 50 per cent increase in the wage level "in the market place"—i.e., if the workers can get it. He could advocate a 100 per cent increase in corporation profits if possible. He could propose a higher return for landlords, and at the same time a lower level of rents, "in the market place." Why stop with a dinky little old 100 per cent of parity for farmers?

On a Bright Blue Door

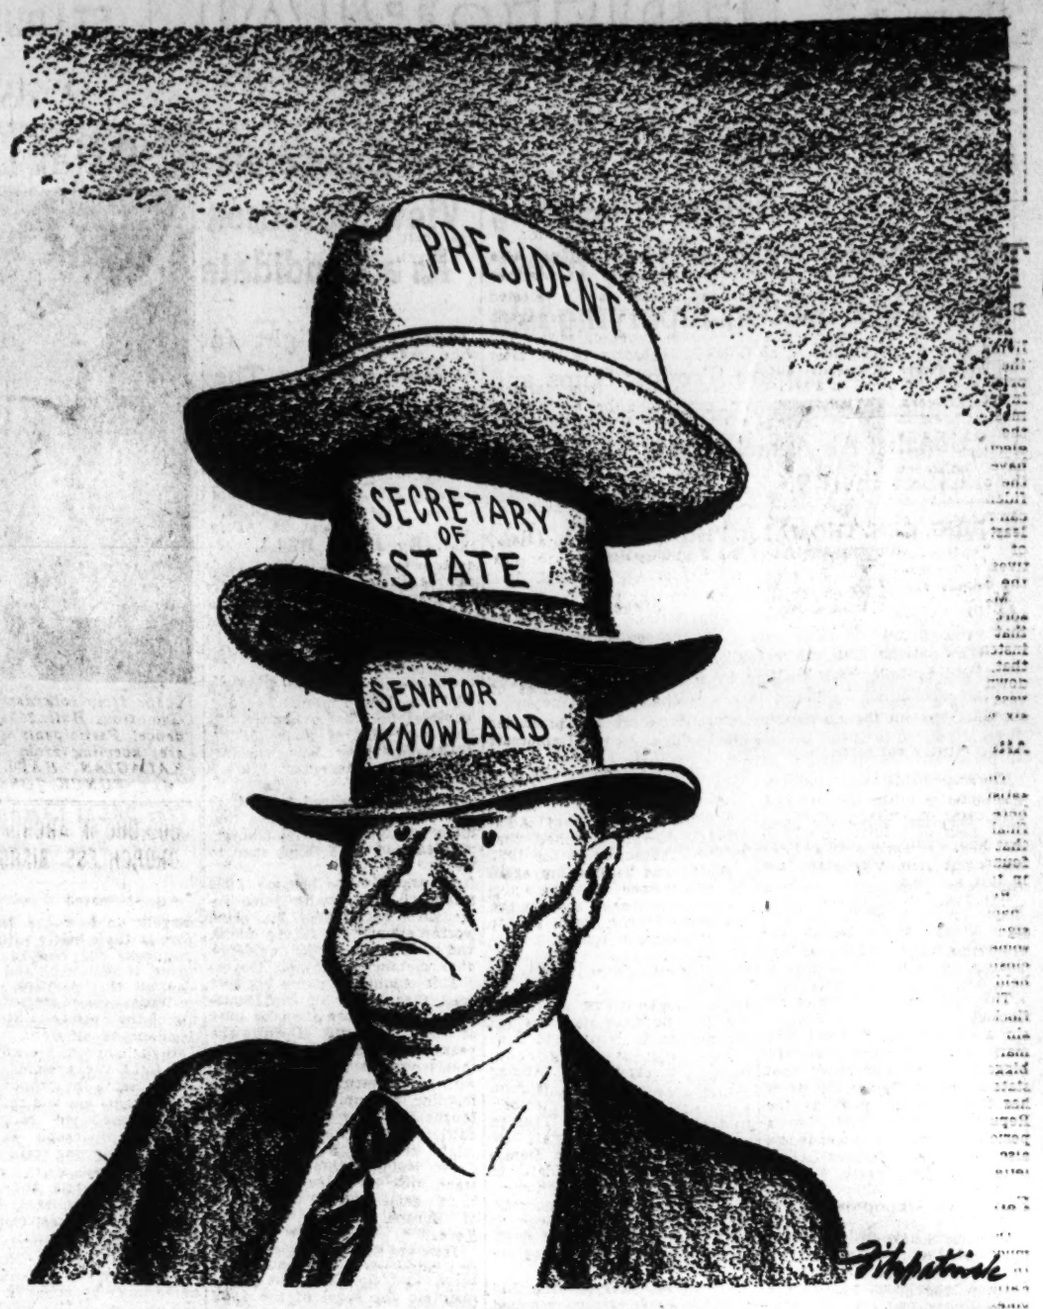

We have been impressed for some time by Andy Frain's enterprise in building a nation-wide organization on the business of showing cash customers at various spectacles just how to get to Seats 12 and 14, Row 25, Section F. Here was a fit subject for any orator intent on proving that the door of opportunity had not been closed to bright young men. And we liked the service.

But leaving the ball park the other night we noticed a bit of yellow lettering on a sky-blue (not Cardinal red or Busch green) door: Andy Frain, Crowd Engineers. That upset us a bit. We had always thought of Mr. Frain's courteous employes as ushers, not engineers.

Whether at a wedding, a concert or a ball game, we always have a nice feeling about ushers. They are persons helping other persons. There is a natural and mutual respect between the ticket-holder and the individual who helps him to his place. But crowd engineers? Are we only faceless, numbered atoms in a mass controlled by superior technicians?

Of course we know that there are people who are trying to make a business of "engineering" everything from our appetites to our thoughts. Engineering the mass, instead of respecting the individual, does promise to make things easier in many a field; so we can hardly blame Mr. Frain for keeping in step with the trend.

But we cannot honestly say that it makes us happy, or that we see in it a sign of a new and brighter world—a world as bright as Mr. Frain's bright blue door.

TRYING TO WEAR ALL THE HATS

Dangers That Lie in the Quemoys

The Mirror of Public Opinion

In leaving question of U. S. defense of China coastal islands to the military, the State Department foolishly risks a war; China Lobby's hand is plain in furthering of Chiang Kai-shek's ambitions; but Reds should be hit hard if they attack Formosa.

Herbert Elliston, Contributing Editor, in The Washington Post

Much as I have tried to keep my mind on the Southeast Asian treaty against aggression, my mind has kept reverting to the two islands of Quemoy, in the harbor of Amoy. Perhaps it is natural that my mind should so wander. Was it not Bismarck who said that history is where things happen?

In Manila a new defense collectivity has been formed, but it is of the loosest kind; and the Quemoy action seems to presage the transition of the cold war into what for all the world looks like a creeping war.

Dulles

The killing of two American officers there has been tacitly written off as a casualty in this creeping war. But the American people have a right to know how we got into it. For the sake of convenience, put the date down as June 25, 1950, when we met the Soviet challenge in Korea.

President Truman, in limiting our war aims in Korea, took the occasion of formulating a new policy on Indochina and Formosa. The Indochina formulation resulted in our disastrous quasi-intervention alongside France.

Quemoy Not Mentioned

As for Formosa—which is a hundred miles from Amoy, which in turn is five miles from the Quemoys—Mr. Truman laid down a policy of neutralization, back of the shield of our Seventh Fleet. There was not a word about any real estate which Chiang happened to own in the waters of Fukien Province.

The policy as to Formosa was, it seems to me, sound and admirable. If it had not been for the June 25 order, without doubt Chiang Kai-shek, with his senseless bombing over China, would have sought to expand our limited war in Korea. Mr. Truman was trying to keep out of World War III.

When Mr. Eisenhower went to the White House, the neutralization order was canceled—but not neutralization itself. There was talk of "unleashing" Chiang Kai-shek—meaning letting him attack the mainland if he chose to.

This is, of course, precisely what Chiang, the most defensive-minded general in the history of warfare and revolution, does not wish to do. He wants America to take on the job.

When Chiang stayed leashed after he had been officially unleashed, the President one day let it be known that a gentleman's agreement was in existence whereby Chiang Kai-shek would not attack the mainland, even though the shield of the Seventh Fleet had been withdrawn. Chiang's face was thus saved.

More and more since then we have been forgetting Formosa, and getting involved in Chiang Kai-shek's ambitions and putting teeth in them. The China Lobby has long been unleashed.

These diehards have the tacit support of the warhawks in our executive and legislative branches, for example Senator Knowland, Representative Judd and Admiral Radford.

The China Lobby and their friends are so influential and activist that they add up to what might be called a fourth branch of government. Their antics have made the Formosa policy of the Eisenhower Administration more and more, shall we say, forward-looking.

Neutralization has been ditched, and involvement in China's war has taken its place.

Civil Arm Defaults

That is the lesson exposed by the Quemoys. Involvement in this particular civil war, as I have said, looks like entry into a creeping war, and nibbling provocation of it. The trouble is there is nothing forthright about the evolution. We are stumbling along in adventurism.

Secretary Dulles' statement of Aug. 24 shows indeed a flagrant abdication of responsibility. Asked about the Quemoys, Dulles said that defense there would be "primarily a military decision."

In other words, the civil arm is leaving the determination of high policy to the military—possibly if we may judge from the booming words of the Seventh Fleet's Admiral Stump, to the military on the spot. Leeway to make incidents carries with it the ability to make policy in these hair-trigger days.

Now I'm back in Manila. It may be that the Communist decision to bombard the Quemoys is not a riposte, not the prelude to an attack on Formosa, but merely a show put on by the greatest actors on earth. It may be a show aimed solely at demonstrating to the Manila conferees that in our ideological or anti-Communist crusade a defensive treaty with us has an offensive afterthought.

I may be mistaken. The Communists may really be after Formosa this time. In that case they should not be left in the slightest uncertainty that they are due for a wallop, or massive retaliation, for Formosa is a different proposition from the Quemoys.

Mexicans Stick to Spanish

From the Cleveland Plain Dealer

We Americans are admittedly lousy linguists, but we are also the world's most avid tourists.

Knowing a half-dozen foreign languages, or at least a workable minimum of words, would be great assistance at times. But since we are a continent speaking English with no next door neighbors, save one, talking in another tongue, we never have felt the compulsion that is common to Europeans to learn another language.

Consequently, desirous of our dollars in the tourist trade, the world has learned enough English to help us out. This is especially true of all travel facilities, steamship lines, railways, airways, hotels, the better stores and the like.

In Paris, in Athens, in Damascus, in Karachi, you can sit peacefully at the airport waiting for your plane to be called in English. But now this happy situation has been shattered and by Mexico at their magnificent new airport in Mexico City, the Mexicans, under a government ruling, will announce plane arrivals and departures only in Spanish. This despite the fact that 140,000 English-speaking airline passengers pass through the terminal annually, according to Aviation Week magazine. In New York, San Antonio and Dallas the announcements are made in Spanish and English.

Whether this is a wave of sudden nationalism or the quirk of some bureaucrat, confusion is sure to follow. Some American travelers are likely to find themselves in Peru when they thought they were going to Michigan and vice versa. Really, something ought to be done about it. By the Mexicans, we mean. It's too much to expect us to learn Spanish. Remember, we admitted we were lousy linguists.

Wolf in Wolf's Clothing

"Protean vigor" seems a serviceable tag for the man who in giving his "credentials" described himself as a "novelist, painter, sculptor, philosopher, draughtsman, critic, politician, journalist, essayist, pamphleteer, all rolled into one, like one of those portmanteau-men of the Renaissance." A formidable personality indeed, Wyndham Lewis has since 1909 "spawned—almost as by-products—40 books and countless pictures" and even the bibliographers don't know how many periodical articles. Of "savagely energetic" intelligence, he has helped to change men's minds by his meaty "Time and Western Man," and his "The Revenge for Love" is a twentieth century classic.

So Mr. Kenner, of Santa Barbara College (California), believes, anyway. His book (a fine addition to the New Directions "Makers of Modern Literature" series) is "not a biography but an account of a career." It admiringly makes plain that its subject is a man of nearly fabulous parts: fabricator and master of vorticist prose; painter extraordinary ("the greatest portraitist who ever lived," according to Walter Sickert); "the most fascinating personality of our time," according to T. S. Eliot; and "the necessary antidote to everything, from Freud and Lawrence to the cults which have surrounded Eliot and Joyce," according to Mr. Kenner.

Wyndham Lewis

In one of his manifestations, Lewis, with Norman Douglas—"and how many others!" Ford Madox Ford recalls, "held high the banners of vorticism and paraded the respectable streets of Campden Town in trousers of green billiard cloth and Japanese foulards." A tireless and courageous experimenter, Lewis has been, as Ezra Pound put it, "not a commentator but a protagonist—a man at war. . . . You cannot be as intelligent, in that sort of way, without being prey to the furies."

Satirist, showman, "wolf in wolf's clothing," "so great a realist that he makes you shiver," anti-war crusader, a one-man army fighting all forms of conspiracy against the mind, Lewis fell physical prey to the furies in 1950, when he went blind. Mentally, however, he can survey an accomplishment that Mr. Kenner pinpoints in these words: "No historian's model of the age of Joyce, Eliot, and Pound is intelligible without Lewis in it. More than any of these men, whose craft functioned with comparative freedom within the time, Lewis reveals the time's nature."

Arnold Bennett Condensed

Will there be a revival in the work of Arnold Bennett? That is the question which arises naturally from a rereading of these Bennett journals in this admirable, cheap edition. Bennett kept a daily journal throughout most of his adult life. After his death the million or so words were published in three volumes. Now Mr. Swinnerton has expertly boiled the core of them down to a single highly readable volume.

Bennett flowered in the great age of Edwardian literature, together with Wells, Galsworthy, Barrie and Shaw. Old Masters Henry James and Joseph Conrad were still around to lend their passive inspiration. Bennett held his own in this company with at least three superb novels. In his journals he expresses himself freely on his extraordinary work habits, his contemporaries, his emphatic views on money and his decidedly workable ideas for "living 24 hours a day." It all makes vivid reading, and takes you into a charming world now vanished forever.

THOMAS L. STOKES

Happy Omens for New and Fair Dealers

INDIANAPOLIS.

THERE was a guest of honor at the Democrats' dinner here who, until the Maine election last week, was just another national committeeman. Edmund Muskie, newly elected Democratic Governor of Maine, enjoyed his triumph all over again.

Here Gov.-elect Muskie is the living symbol, the Exhibit A, of the latest—and generally surprising—happy omen in a series in recent weeks, most of them in the primary elections. They have bolstered the party's confidence that it can recapture at least the House of Representatives, and maybe the Senate also.

Stevenson

Maine was a sort of dessert that came first instead of last. Having enjoyed that, the party leaders then sat down to make a thorough canvass of their situation as of now, six weeks before the election.

After Nine Primaries.

They were able to do this very satisfactorily since the meeting here came immediately after the final rash of primary elections that began in early spring. They found good, solid political fare in this analysis.

Regarded as significant, perhaps, as any other political sign of the primary season was something that occurred in the closing series of nine primaries held after the Maine election.

This was the way Democrats flocked to the polls in Wisconsin and Minnesota. Their primary vote in Wisconsin was the biggest in the history of that state where the Democratic party has been overshadowed by the Republican party and, for a period during its ascendency, also by the now defunct LaFollette progressive party.

Farm Law Unpopular.

Democrats have fallen heir to much of the latter's strength. In Minnesota the Democratic-Farmer Labor party polled more votes in its primary this year than did Republicans in theirs, which is the first time that has happened since amalgamation of the two once-separate parties 10 years ago.

Both are farm states. The Eisenhower Administration's new farm law is unpopular with many farmers, according to the most recent Gallup poll.

That showed four farmers who disapprove the law to three who are for it, among those who expressed opinions. It is noted here, whether of significance or not, that right after the final primary rush Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson relaxed the crop control program by doing away with the total acreage allotment plan for next year's crops.

Good for Stevenson.

The crop control program has recently come under more farm criticism, in fact, than the flexible price support features of the new farm law.

Impressive in the primaries this year, so far as Democrats are concerned, is that it has been a good season for the New Deal-Fair Deal wing of the party. That, in turn, is to the advantage obviously of Adlai Stevenson who preached that sort of philosophy in his 1952 campaign, as he is doing again now in his speech-making activity which is looked upon as the beginning of his campaign for renomination in 1956.

In Colorado, New York.

The New Deal-Fair Deal trend has continued in successes for incumbents in House and Senate, as well as among newly nominated candidates. Among the latter, for example, is John Carroll, former House member, former member of the Truman White House advisory staff. He won the nomination as Democratic senatorial candidate in Colorado for the seat which is being given up by Democratic Senator Ed Johnson, who is running for Governor of Colorado, instead, in the November election.

In the New York governorship race it appears certain now that the New Deal-Fair Deal wing of the party will have one of its elders and a stalwart as the candidate to succeed Governor Thomas E. Dewey. For Averell Harriman is an earnest and sincere New Deal-Fair Dealer.

RABBI HAILS 'UNITY WITHOUT UNIFORMITY'

Halpern Calls Separation of Church, State 'Keystone' of U.S. Greatness.

Unity without uniformity is "the greatest achievement of America," Rabbi Abraham E. Halpern of B'nai Amoona Congregation said yesterday in a sermon at Second Baptist church, where he was guest preacher.

"Ours is the only country, I believe, where there is complete separation of church and state," Rabbi Halpern said. "This is the keystone of America's greatness. We can be Catholic, we can be Protestants, we can be Jews, and we can be Buddhists."

Speaking on the 300th anniversary of the first Jewish settlement in America, Rabbi Halpern said: "Through three centuries the American Jew has been an American citizen. Yet he has remained faithful to his religion because our country is united in a spirit that asks for unity but not for uniformity.

"We are Republicans and we are Democrats. We are conservative and we are liberal in our many approaches to the social problems of our country. But we are all Americans, and we fight and die as Americans to safeguard the most precious gift of mankind, the dignity and worthiness of every man, woman and child in America, regardless of race, color or creed."

This country, he said, "has been a haven of refuge for all who escaped the persecutions of Europe, but during these 300 years the Jews have established themselves firmly by sharing with all Americans in the upbuilding of our country. They fought and they died on every battlefield so that all of us might live in freedom. The Cross and the Star of David stand side by side in our national cemeteries in the fields of Europe, Okinawa and in Korea."

Jews are "thankful to God for this country that has made our existence possible, and we are thankful that we did not have to give up the heritage of our fathers. We are thankful that we could maintain our spiritual life while we helped build the American structure," Rabbi Halpern said.

Rabbi Urges Constant Vigilance to Preserve U.S. Democracy.

Rabbi Norman Salit of New York, president of the Synagogue Council of America, giving the Missouri American Jewish Tercentenary address at Jefferson City yesterday, stressed need for constant vigilance to preserve American democracy.

The tercentenary observance, he said, "may serve as a reminder that our democratic heritage is never to be conceived of as secure, but always to be regarded as receding—the better to alert us against any infringement upon, any weakening of, that heritage."

Dr. Salit was introduced at the tercentenary luncheon by Harold Dubinsky of St. Louis, president of the National Federation of Temple Brotherhoods. Representatives of Jewish congregations throughout Missouri attended the observance. Rabbi Ferdinand M. Isserman of St. Louis, co-chairman of the Missouri Tercentenary Committee, was among luncheon speakers.

At the tercentenary service at Temple Beth El, Rabbi Jacob R. Mazur, president of the Rabbinical Association of St. Louis, gave the invocation. Rabbi Samuel Thurman of United Hebrew Temple, St. Louis, read the proclamation of the fourth century of Judaism in America at the same service.

Folk Dance at Mexican Party

—By a Post-Dispatch Photographer.

HOUSE 109 YEARS OLD BEING RAZED; NO CRACKS IN IT

When they built walls back in 1845 they built them to stay built.

A 109-year-old stone house with walls two feet thick stood all that time without a sign of a crack or a sag, an inspection showed when razing the old building started.

The house, at 3611 Market street, is being torn down by the Missouri Highway Commission to make way for an underpass which will route Market street under Grand boulevard. It was built by Phillip Gibson of stone hauled from a rocky blugg at what is now Grand and Forest Park boulevards, and in its time it was an elegrant seven-room dwelling.

Market street then was Manchester road and Gibson did a thriving produce farming business on several acres, uncramped by neighbors. Dr. William G. Swekosky, St. Louis dentist whose hobby is the study of old buildings, looked the walls over and pronounced them good, ready to withstand practically everything except progress.

DOBERMAN PINSCHER WINNER AT DOG SHOW

A total of 182 puppies put their best paws forward yesterday in the St. Louis Dog Breeders Association's final show of the year and a red Doberman Pinscher walked off with the top award.

The dog, Brown's Hildegarde, owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Katcher, 9801 Page avenue, Overland, was judged best of show in the match held at United Halls, 2354 Lafayette avenue. It won in the working group. More than 20 breeds were judged.

Winners in other groups were:

Hounds: Florhill Daphne, a female red Dachshund, owned by Mrs. Mabel E. Buehler, 4 Marquette drive, Florissant.

Sporting group: Cozy Acres Wonderful Guy, male Ascob cocker spaniel owned by Cozy Acres Kennels, Alton.

1,000,000 IN ARCHDIOCESE CHURCHLESS, BISHOP SAYS

An estimated 1,000,000 persons in the St. Louis archdiocese are without religious affiliation, Auxiliary Bishop Charles H. Helmsing reported yesterday. He addressed a meeting of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul at St. John Nepomuk Catholic Church, Eleventh street and Lafayette avenue.

Discussing the proposed Catholic information and census program announced recently by Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter, Bishop Helmsing said its primary purpose is "to reach out to these persons and to nonpracticing Catholics." It is the obligation of the faithful to give others the opportunity of knowing and embracing religious faith, he said.

"Too often we confuse respect for another's privacy with an aloofness in which there is nothing Chrstian, nor neighborly, nor charitable," he said.

TEEN-AGERS' PARTY GIVEN FOR PRINCESS ALEXANDRA

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 — The Duchess of Kent and Princess Alexandra, her daughter, were back in New York today after a brief unofficial visit to Washington which included "a typical teen-agers' party" given at the British embassy for the young princess.

While the main purpose of the royal pair's overnight stay was to see masterpieces at the National Gallery of Art, Cynthia and Mollie, twin daughters of British Ambassador Sir Roger Makins, called in their young friends Saturday night to a dance in honor of 17-year-old Alexandra.

Embassy officials said a three-piece orchestra played "the kind of American music that young people dance to everywhere."

Pope Suffers Slight Recurrence Of Hiccups He Had Last Year

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Radio.

ROME, Sept. 20—Pope Pius XII yesterday suffered a slight recurrence of the hiccups that accompanied his serious gastric illness of last winter and on the advice of his physician, canceled a speech to pilgrims gathered at his summer villa at Castel Gandolfo.

However, he blessed the throngs from two balconies after yielding reluctantly but with some good humor to the advice of Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, his principal doctor, not to attempt to speak.

The 78-year-old Pontiff, who admitted to a reporter on Friday that the burdens of his office had tired and weakened him again, seemed worn and weary yesterday. He first greeted the pilgrims from a balcony courtyard by waving his arms before he gave the papal blessing.

The crowd applauded more vigorously than usual. The Pope stayed on the balcony for 10 minutes waving his arms. A few minutes later he appeared on another balcony on the outside wall of his summer residence and again gave his blessing.

Just before 5:30 p.m. loud speakers announced in five languages that "because of a light indisposition the Pope has been advised not to speak as usual."

The Pope first suffered a recurrence of hiccoughs early last week. He took three days of rest, but on Thursday he had a second attack which forced him to falter four times during an address to Marian year pilgrims. He seemed his old self at another audience on Friday but confessed that he was tired.

Another period of rest is regarded as essential in Vatican circles as the Pope faces Rome's usually damp and chilly winter which does nothing to ease the burden of his high office.

WILLIAM DOTSON DIES, FIRST SUCCESS OF A.A. PROGRAM

AKRON, Ohio, Sept. 20 (AP) —Funeral services will be held tomorrow for attorney William I. Dotson, whose recovery from alcoholism has been termed the turning point of Alcoholics Anonymous.

Dotson, 62 years old, died Friday night in Crile Veterans Hospital at Cleveland. He had been in poor health since a heart attack last October.

He was 43 and apparently a hopeless alcoholic when the two founders of A.A. found him in Akron City Hospital, so drunk he couldn't talk. After several days of hospital care, Dotson's mind cleared and he agreed to try A.A.

At that time, in 1935, the two founders were almost ready to give up their A.A. work. Their plan had worked on themselves, but subsequent experiments with others had failed miserably.

Dotson, however, succeeded splendidly and never took another drink of liquor. The two founders—the late Dr. Robert Smith of Akron and a "Bill W." of New York, a successful stockbroker—credited him with saving their plan. Afterward Dotson spent much of his time traveling about the United States and Canada, speaking at A.A. meetings.

PHILIP C. KIDD DIES, HEADED LEND-LEASE MISSION TO IRAN

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

NEW CANAAN, Conn., Sept. 20—Philip C. Kidd, former head of the United States lend-lease mission to Iran and until recently assistant to the vice president of Arabian American Oil Co., died Saturday of a heart attack at his home. He was 48 years old.

Mr. Kidd who was born in Pettis county, Mo., headed the mission to Iran from 1942 until 1943 when he joined the United States Army. From 1945 until 1946, he worked for the United States Department, as foreign liquidation commissioner for South America.

ONE OF PRINCESS MARGARET'S FORMER BEAUX IS MARRIED

GREENLAW, Scotland, Sept. 20 (AP)—Another of Princess Margaret's former escorts went to the altar Saturday—with somebody else. This time it was handsome Robin McEwen, 28 years old, who married Brigid Laver, 18, daughter of historian James Laver.

WALKER P. INMAN DIES

GEORGETOWN, S. C., Sept. 20 (UP)—Walker P. Inman, trustee of Duke University and half-brother of heiress Doris Duke, died at his plantation home yesterday. He was 60 years old.

Inman, whose fortune has been estimated at $20,000,000, took a leading part in the development of Duke University's medical school and hospital. He was also active in the amateur radio field and participated in the sending of the first trans-Atlantic radio message.

Dr. George Baisly Scott, member of an old St. Louis family and a practicing dentist here for 36 years, died at St. Mary's Hospital yesterday following a gall bladder operation. He was 73 years old and lived at 923 South Hanley road, Clayton.

His father, Charles Clay Scott, was an associate editor on the old Missouri Republican and Dr. Scott as a youth was a copy boy on that newspaper. He had offices in the Missouri Theater building. He was a member of several professional societies and was named Fellow in the American College of Dentists in 1943. He was associate professor in St. Louis University Dental School from 1917 to 1932 and professor in Washington University School of Dentistry from 1942 to 1946.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mary Florence Scott; two daughters, Mrs. Carrie May Jones of St. Louis and Mrs. Henrietta Cooley of Greenwod, Miss., and a sister, Miss Henrietta Scott of Gardena, Calif.

TWO FROM OLNEY SENDING U.S. PLOWMAN TO IRELAND

OLNEY, Ill., Sept. 20 (AP)—Two Olney residents, active during the national plowing matches here, yesterday contributed $1000 each to send a representative of the United States to the international plowing matches in Ireland next month.

They are H. E. Coen, executive director of the 1954 plowing matches, and Perry Fulk, who worked with an Olney committee which presented the matches.

The representative will be Graeme Stewart of Plainfield, Ill. two-time national plowing champion who served as chief judge at the matches here Friday and Saturday. As a two-time winner, Stewart was ineligible to compete this year. The national plowing matches committee failed to raise funds to send any American plowman to Ireland this year.

TWO WIN 'NEW PARTNERS' DUPLICATE BRIDGE CONTEST

Mrs. Jerry Levitt and Sol S. Kohn yesterday won the "new partners" tournament sponsored by the American Contract Bridge League of St. Louis.

In second place were Jerry Levitt and Larry Kolker. Fifty pairs made up of contestants who had never played duplicate as partners before took part in the two-session event at Hotel Lennox.

The next major bridge contest here will be the Missouri State Championship tournament, to be held Oct. 22-24 at the Lennox.

MEETING SET TOMORROW ON CAMP FUND DRIVE

A meeting to begin a fund-raising drive for a summer day camp will be held by the St. Louis section of the National Council of Jewish Women at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Louis Casset, 80 Lake Forest street, Richmond Heights.

A non-sectarian camp, it is supported by the Jewish women's organization, which conducts a fund-raising drive every four years. About 320 children attend the camp annually.

SURVEY SHOWS FRATERNITIES PRACTICE DISCRIMINATION

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20—Racial and religious discrimination is continuing in college fraternities and sororites despte the opposition of 80 per cent of college presidents and students, a survey by the National Committee on Fraternities in Education shows.

The committee, headed by Dr. Alfred McClung Lee, chairman of the sociology department at Brooklyn College, reported its findings in "The Committee Reporter," publication of the American Jewish Committee.

Lee reported that 75 per cent of 125 colleges surveyed have done nothing to decrease fraternity discrimination. He said that "powerful alumni forces" were responsible for maintaining restrictive practices.

THE REV. SCHMIECHEN TO BE EDEN SEMINARY SPEAKER

Eden Theological Seminary, Webster Groves, will open its 105th year tomorrow with a worship service at 8 p.m. The speaker will be the Rev. Samuel J. Schmiechen of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Minneapolis, Minn., former pastor of Carondelet Evangelical and Reformed Church, St. Louis.

The incoming class numbers 60 students bringing total enrollment to 160, reports the Rev. Dr. Frederick Schroeder, president of the seminary, which is supported by the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The Rev. Richard L. Scheef has joined the faculty as assistant professor of New Testament. He recently completed residence requirements for his doctorate degree at Union Seminary, New York.

RECREATION GROUP HOLDING PRELIMINARY MEETINGS HERE

Staff members of the National Recreation Association today began a series of meetings at Hotel Statler preliminary to the National Recreation Congress, to be held next week at Hotel Jefferson.

About 1500 professional and volunteer recreation workers are expected at the convention. The association is a non-profit organization supported by contributions. It was organized in 1906 and advises communities, businesses, hospitals, penal institutions and mental hospitals about recreation programs.

JEANETTE M'DONALD PASSES CRISIS IN VIRUS INFECTION

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20—Jeanette MacDonald, singer and actress, has passed the crisis in her virus infection, her secretary announced yesterday.

The actress has been ordered to rest for 10 days to two weeks and to cancel a planned fall concert tour of the West and Northwest. Her husband, actor Gene Raymond, flew to New York yesterday to be at her bedside, but was to return today to Hollywood, where he is working on the film, "Hit the Deck."

The Stengel Monopoly Finally Broken Up.

CASEY STENGEL, in an exuberant mood at one time during the current campaign, suggested that he "ought to be fired" if his team failed to win the pennant this year. . . . But Manager Al Lopez and his Cleveland Indians have ended mighty Casey's reign of five consecutive years as the world championship winner.

But Casey won't be fired, if he chooses to remain. . . . And when he retires a deserved niche in the Hall of Fame will be awaiting him as the pilot credited with the greatest all-time achievement.

It seems most unlikely that any manager of the future ever will surpass that mark. . . . Of course forever is quite a long time for any record to stand.

IN the meantime, as for the manager of the year and there will be several possible choices for the post—it will be difficult to pass by Lopez.

After losing by close margins for three consecutive years, Lopez finally rounded out a team with great pitching, a wonderful bench and that indispensable strong line straight down the middle from catcher to outfield. . . . Lopez has one other great asset—he gets 100 per cent out of his players.

The nearing close of the season finds the Cleveland team at its hottest. . . . It has not slipped or faltered, despite injuries to key men and a first-base problem of sorts. . . . And when Lopez's club faces the Giants—that finale seems probable—his Indians will be favored. . . . He seems to have earned the manager's laurels—and no doubt will, if his club wins the world title.

Cleveland Headed for New Games-Won Record.

UNLESS Lopez allows his men to coast for the remainder of the season, the Indians should set a new league record for games won in a season.

The Yankees of 1927 established the existing mark at 110, losing 44 games, percentage .714. . . . The Athletics of 1931 with 107, and the Yanks of 1939 with 106 came closest. . . The modern world record is 116-36, for a .763 percentage, held by the Chicago Cubs of 1906.

Lest you become too cocky about the Indians, remember that the 1906 Cubs were beaten in the world series by those "hitless wonders," the Chicago White Sox.

It Seems Rocky Hasn't Lost His Blockbuster.

WHEN Champion Rocky Marciano failed to flatten Ezz Charles, last June, within the limit, the talk was that Rocky was losing his blockbuster punch. . . . Charles no doubt vigorously will deny that today. (Nino Valdes, Dan Cockell, Archie Moore or whoever draws the next elimination assignment with Rocky, please note.)

Rocky is still there with the greatest assets a fighter can have—ability to both throw a killing punch and to take one, as well. . . . All of which, looking over the challengers available, makes it appear that Rocky can retire with the remarkable record of never having lost a professional fight! . . . N.B.—Provided he doesn't wait until middle-age before quitting the ring.

"Rocky's nose is badly cut. Charles's uppercut apparently did it," called Russ Hodges broadcasting the fight Friday night. . . . That made us shudder while listening to the announcer. . . . We've often wondered what damage an uppercut would do if it missed the chin and hit the "beezer"—tear it off?

But it seems it wasn't an uppercut. . . . Charles says (according to Bill McGoogan) the blow was a straight punch. . . . Rocky says—Oh, Oh!—it was an elbow that did the damage. . . . In any case, Rocky's proboscis will still be there as a target for—well let's say Nino Valdes.

Our Davis Cup Gloom Seems Clearing a Bit.

THAT Davis Cup depression which for some time has settled over our international tennis outlook is taking a turn for the better. . . . That's because with Australia's Davis Cup strength on hand for the Southwest Tournament at Los Angeles, two Americans, Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas, survived for the semifinals to meet for the title. . . . Ken Rosewall and Lewis Hoad, the spearhead of the Aussies' Cup victory last December, couldn't make the grade at L. A.

But matters will be different, next time, in Australia, when a United States team will, for the fourth time, attempt to bring back the Davis trophy to its homeland.

Yet all is not too primrosy for our side. . . . We still must have a doubles team that can win, or else be able to win three of the four singles matches. . . . Hoad and Rosewall were plenty tough last year, as were Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor before them.

Batteries: Cardinals — Poholsky and Sarni; Chicago—Minner and Fanning.

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Sept. 20—Stan Musial and Bill Sarni drove in early runs for the Cardinals here this afternoon as they played the Chicago Cubs in the opener of their next-to-last series of the season.

Batting against Paul Minner, Musial doubled his first time up and then scored Alex Grammas, who had doubled, with a sacrifice fly in the third. Wally Moon's two-bagger and Sarni's single produced the second St. Louis run in the fourth frame.

Tom Poholsky was the Cardinal pitcher.

Only 1746 cash customers attended.

The play-by-play:

CUBS — Schoendienst threw out Baumholtz. Baker popped to Schoendienst. Fondy bounced out, Cunningham to Poholsky.

SECOND — CARDINALS — Moon lined to Kiner. Sarni singled to left. Sarni went out trying to steal, Fanning to Banks. Cunningham singled to right. Baker threw out Poholsky.

CUBS — Sauer singled to left. Banks flied to Repulski. Kiner singled to center sending Sauer to third. Jackson lined to Moon, Sauer scoring on the sacrifice fly. Fanning flied to Moon. ONE RUN.

CUBS — Schoendienst threw out Minner. Poholsky tossed out Baumholtz. Baker doubled down the left-field line. Fondy popped to Schoendienst.

SEVENTH — CARDINALS — Baker threw out Cunningham. Poholsky doubled to right-center. Grammas lined to Baumholtz. Repulski fouled to Fondy.

CUBS—Kiner flied to Moon. Jackson tripled to the right-field corner and when Cunningham, after taking the relay, threw to the plate, Jackson scored the tying run. Fanning singled off Jablonski's glove. Minner walked. Baumholz tapped into a double play, Poholsky to Grammas to Cunningham. ONE RUN.

Bad Bargain

LES MUELLER, former Detroit Tiger pitcher and now manager of a semipro team at Belleville, made a bad bargain Sunday before the final play-off game of the Greater County League.

He and the manager of the rival Mascoutah team agreed that if a threatened rain came, they would continue next Sunday from where the game was halted, rather than start over if less than the regulation five innings were completed.

The rain came after 4½ innings. Mueller's team will have somewhat of a handicap next Sunday—it was trailing 11-0 at that point.

Cambridge Crew Last in Regatta at Tokyo

TOKYO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Cambridge University's eight-man crew faltered in the final 500 meters and finished last among four shells in the Asahi newspaper's invitational regatta on Tokyo's Sumida river yesterday.

The 2000-meter race was won by Keio University, with Waseda University less than a yard behind. Tokyo University was third, one-half length back of Waseda. Cambridge was another length behind in fourth place.

The English crew rowed the distance in 5m. 46s. Kei's winning time was 5m. 40.7s.

Equestrian Team Named.

HINSDALE, Ill., Sept. 20 (UP)—Arthur McCashin of Pluckemin, N. J., and Capt. John R. Wheeler of Camp Carson, Colo., headed a list of five riders named today to the United States equestrian team. They will compete in the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden, starting Nov. 2, and at Toronto, Nov. 12.

Stanky Talks of Pitching Plans: 'Not Too Concerned' About Starters for 1955

By Bob Broeg

Eddie Stanky, shying off from an individual analysis of his Cardinals, has expressed himself as "not too concerned" about the Redbirds' starting pitching for 1955, but says he plans to put more emphasis on the bullpen development in spring training.

"We live and play now," Stanky said, smiling, "in an era of atomic weapons and relief pitching. And they're both pretty hot stuff."

Before leading his Cardinals to Chicago after winding up their home schedule at Busch Stadium yesterday, the little Redbird manager noted that the bullpen had become increasingly specialized and important as a lively ball and fence-swinging batting stances had reduced complete games sharply.

"I'm not too concerned about our starting pitching because we've got a good nucleus now in Harvey Haddix, Gordon Jones and Brooks Lawrence," Stanky said, adding:

"I'm not prepared to say which pitchers will be with us and which won't, but we're going to concentrate on uncovering relief pitchers. And Gerry Staley, I believe, will be one of them."

Although the Redbirds finished with a flourish by taking their last two games at home, mathematically eliminating Milwaukee yesterday by overcoming a six-run deficit for a 7-6 victory, they won only 33 of the 77 contests played before 1,039,698 cash customers at Busch Stadium.

"That was a most disappointing showing at home by a ball club built for its own park," Stanky said, referring to the large number of lefthanded hitters and a short right field fence.

The fact is, though, that aside from Stan Musial, who has hit 35 homers, the next highest total of circuit smashes by lefthanded hitters is only 11, a figure reached both by Wally Moon in a full season and Joe Cunningham in better than half. And actually the most adept Redbird at pulling against the right-field screen is Solly Hemus, no regular.

But the Mighty Mouse's replacement, sure-fielding Alex Grammas, a consistent hitter since the All-Star game and up to .267 now, has added encouraging strength to an infield that really needs only better defensive play than provided by Ray Jablonski at third base.

Bill Sarni's surprising arrival offensively has strengthened a catching department that is at least adequate, and Moon's rookie-season showing boosted the over-all contribution of an outfield whose only significant failing is just fair throwing strength.

But if Bill Virdon, the Rochester outfielder, and Kent Boyer, the Houston third baseman, are as outstanding as described, Manager Stanky and the front office will be able to concentrate solely on building a pitching staff. More than half the current corps could be cut loose and automatically increase 1955 pennant chances merely through subtraction.

As for yesterday's getaway game, Lawrence didn't have it in this—no foolin'—his 105th pitching performance since the opening of the 1953 season (counting winter ball, etc.). Eddie Mathews and Andy Pafko rapped homers off The Bull and when Mathews hammered his thirty-ninth off Al Brazle, Milwaukee had a 6-0 lead after four innings.

But off fast and wild Bob Buhl, Sarni and Grammas combined efforts with walks and infield outs to account for two runs in the home fifth and one in the sixth. And Moon's first of two doubles had set up another tally in the seventh before veteran lefty Dave Koslo could be called in.

Again Sarni, walking, and Grammas, singling, teamed in the eighth to afford a promising situation in which Peanuts Lowrey's outfield fly and Moon's second double tied the score.

And in the last of the ninth after Musial's leadoff two-base blow high off the screen, an intentional walk, a sacrifice and another deliberate pass followed to fill the bases with one out. Sarni's run-scoring outfield fly then ended the game and 1954 major league baseball season in St. Louis.

With Traveling Secretary Leo Ward's wife ill, Publicity Director Jim Toomey shepherded the ball club on its final trip. . . . The final day crowd of 18,413, boosting the home gate to 1,039,698, put the attendance here 159,456 ahead of a year ago when the Cards were three positions higher (third) in the standings. . . . The green-uniformed groundskeepers didn't forget their annual custom of shaking hands with the umpires during their final-game fifth-inning manicure of the infield. . . . In a radio statement thanking the Cardinals' patrons for their attendance, President August A. Busch Jr., said, "They didn't let us down and we won't let them down." . . . Harvey Haddix, pitching in relief, gained his eighteenth victory.

Red Feathers for Redbird Pledges

Faszholz Gains 5-to-4 Victory For Red Wings

ROCHESTER, Sept. 20 (UP)—Both semifinal series were deadlocked at 2-2 in the International League's Governor's Cup playoffs.

In yesterday's games, the pennant-winning Toronto Maple Leafs knotted their best-of-seven series with the Syracuse Chiefs by posting a 10-7 victory, while the Rochester Red Wings pulled even with the Montreal Royals by wining the fourth game of their series, 5-4.

Jack Faszholz, the league's top right-hander, gained his second playoff victory for the Red Wings, although he needed help from Tony Jacobs in the ninth inning. Ken Lehman, beaten by Faszholz in the series opener, once again was the losing pitcher.

Columbus Wins And Ties Series

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 20 (AP)—Minneapolis blew a seven run lead but came back with two runs in the tenth inning yesterday to remain in the American Association semifinal playoffs with a 12-10 victory over Indianapolis.

The triumph shortened Indianapolis's lead to 3-2 in the best-of-seven series while Columbus edged Louisville 5-4 to even their series at three victories each.

Dodger-Killer Maglie Given Job of Clinching Flag Tonight

He'll Draw Podres as Opponent

BROOKLYN, Sept. 20 (AP)—This can become the gloomiest Monday night in Brooklyn's long baseball history.

For tonight the Dodgers' two-year reign as National League champions can come to an end. And barring a major miracle, the new champions will be Brooklyn's most hated rival, the New York Giants. Milwaukee was eliminated yesterday, losing 7-6 to the St. Louis Cardinals.

To make matters even worse, the Dodgers' burial can take place right in their own back yard, Ebbets Field, with Sal Maglie, an old Dodger killer, acting as chief executioner. Southpaw Johnny Podres will oppose him.

The situation before the start of the final three-game series between the interborough rivals is this:

The Giants' magic number is two. One New York victory and one Brooklyn defeat would do it. Thus a Giants' triumph at Ebbets Field would officially stamp them as World Series rivals for Cleveland's newly crowned American League champions. Rain caused the postponement of yesterday's Giants-Philadelphia Phillies game at the Polo Grounds.

While this is a sudden death situation for the Dodgers, the Giants find themselves in a comfortable position. They don't have to win tonight. A victory tomorrow or Wednesday afternoon would accomplish the same purpose.

Pirates Whip Dodgers, 1-0.

Even if they lose all three in Brooklyn, the Giants can still capture the pennant by either beating Philadelphia twice in four games with the Phillies, or winning once provided Pittsburgh can beat Brooklyn in one of its three final encounters with the Dodgers.

It was the last-place Pirates who set the Dodgers up for the knockout. Until recently the Dodgers' best friends, the pernicious Pirates stunned the Brooks yesterday, inflicting a 1-0 defeat to drop them 5½ games behind the pace-setting Giants. Since the Dodgers have only six games left to the Giants' seven, they must win all, while New York must lose all, to retain their title.

It was a former best Friend—first name Bob—who deserted the Dodgers. The young right-hander in his entire career had won only one of 11 decisions with Brooklyn. But he handcuffed the Brooks with six hits to become the first Pittsburgh pitcher to shut out the Dodgers since Fritz Ostermueller did it in 1947.

It was Pittsburgh's fourth straight victory over the Dodgers in the last two weeks. Prior to that, the Pirates had played dead for brooklyn, losing 12 of the first 15 games this season and 20 of 22 last year.

Victim of Friend's shutout was Russ Meyer, whose five-hitter went to waste. An error by the usually reliable Carl Furillo in right field paved the way for the lone run. Preston Ward singled to right in the fourth inning and raced all the way to third when the ball rolled through Furillo's legs. Ward scored on Frank Thomas's long fly to center.

Indians Win Tenth in Row.

The Indians, refusing to let up, streaked to their tenth straight victory, defeating the Detroit Tigers, 4-2, on Hank Majeski's three-run homer in the first inning. Mike Garcia registered his nineteenth triumph and the club's 108th of the season, only two short of the American League record of 110 set by the 1927 New York Yankees.

Scoring all their runs in the eighth, the Yankees came from behind to defeat the Philadelphia Athletics, 4-2, for their 100th victory. It was the most the Yankees have won in any of the six years under the direction of Casey Stengel. Gil McDougald's three-run homer was the big blow.

Meanwhile, the Indians' manager, Al Lopez, said his opening pitcher in the World Series would be either Bob Lemon or Early Wynn, both 20-game winners. Without naming the order, Lopez said Lemon, Wynn and Garcia would start the first three games of the series against the National League champions. After that he wasn't sure.

Miss Romack Gains 4-2 Victory Over Miss Wright in Golf Final

SEWICKLEY, Pa., Sept. 20 (UP)—Barbara Romack, who sells life insurance for a living and plays golf for fun, emphasized today she has no interest in turning professional and already has set her sights on repeating next year as the women's national amateur golf champion.

The winsome blonde from Sacramento, Calif., who defeated Mickey Wright from her home state, 4 and 2, for the fifty-fourth annual women's amateur crown yesterday, played a relaxed and casual game most of the way. She held a 6-up margin after 27 holes and was equal to the challenge when her La Jolla, Calif., rival threatened in the home stretch.

One of Miss Romack's well-wishers suggested she cash in on her skill now that she has beaten the cream of the lady amateurs.

"No, sir," the new champion said. "I've got a good job and I want to play golf as an amateur. I love the game. I plan to be around this tournament for a long time yet."

The attractive golfer with a picture swing was undecided whether she would enter the trans-Mississippi tournament at Thomasville, Ga., home of Mary Lena Faulk, 1953 champion who was eliminated Friday by Miss Wright.

The National Amateur, originally scheduled for six days at the rolling Allegheny Country Club, went into its seventh day yesterday because of rain. The California blondes played their first 18 holes Saturday but the match was interrupted nearly five hours by a thunderstorm. The United States Golf Association ordered the last 18 holes yesterday.

The teen-aged Miss Wright never lost heart after her 21-year-old rival took a 6-up lead after 27 holes. The Stanford sophomore caught fire and swept the next three holes from Miss Romack by carding a birdie four at the par five, 490-yard 28th hole and fired pars on the 29th and 30th.

Barbara parred the 28th but bogeyed the 29th and 30th. Her drive caught a trap on the 29th and a great recovery shot failed to help as she two-putted from four feet out. She also two-putted for a bogey on the 30th from two feet out.

But undismayed, Barbara came back to win another hole for a 4-up lead at the 31st with a birdie deuce. She ended the match with a birdie four on the 34th.

During the entire tournament, when Miss Romack met five opponents, she needed to play the 17th and 18th holes only once—in the first 18 holes of the final against Miss Wright.

For Miss Wright, fresh from victories in the world and the all-American tournaments at Chicago's Tam O'Shanter, the defeat at Allegheny Country Club was a bitter pill.

Broekers Split With Texans in Softball Meet

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 20—The Broekers of St. Louis split two games yesterday with Texas teams in the twenty-second annual "world" tournament of the Amateur Softball Association.

The Broekers fell, 2-1, in eight innings to the Houston Babbitts in their opening test, then knocked Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, from the double elimination meet, 6-0.

Harold Siebert hurled the triumph, scattering five hits, the first three St. Louis runs scored on passed balls and a wild pitch, but Bernie Tighe doubled and Earl Carroll singled in the sixth when the Broekers iced the victory with three tallies.

In losing to Houston, Broekers carried a 1-0 lead into the seventh only to be tied. In the eighth, Jesse Williams tagged Ted Schneider for a centerfield homer. Julian Kujawa, Houston hurler, fanned 16 Broekers and pitched a three-hitter.

St. Louis plays Stratford, Conn., Raybestos Cardinals today.

The host Minneapolis Jerseys were eliminated in two 1-0 heartbreakers by Cincinnati and St. Paul.

Gil Wesolowski of Baltimore pitched the first no-hitter of the tournament in beating the Casinos of Cuba, 7-0. Wesolowski fanned 16.

Kutis Beats Wildcats To Win Soccer Meet

Kutis defeated the Wildcats by two corner kicks to win the seven-on-a-side soccer tournament played at Meramec Sports Club yesterday. Each team scored one goal and corner kicks decided the championship. The Wildcats had Charley Colombo and other Simpkins stars in the lineup. Thirteen teams competed.

Meramec Sports Club took the prize for scoring the greatest number of goals.

One of the better teams in the tourney was the Scott Air Force Base club, made up of foreign-born players.

Kutis won three games to reach the final and Wildcats two. Games were of 20 minutes' duration.

Bobby Hofman to Marry.

CLIFTON, N.J., Sept. 20 (UP)—Bobby Hofman, utility infielder of the New York Giants, applied for a license today to marry Miss Ruth Boston at Sacred Heart Church here next Sunday. Both Hofman and Miss Boston are from St. Louis.

French Boxer Gains World Bantam Title

BANGKOK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Robert Cohen, 23-year-old French fighter, is the new king of the bantamweight world and he probably will make his first title defense in the United States.

Fighting for the crown vacated in May by Jimmy Carruthers of Australia, Cohen won a split 15-round decision here last night over Chamrern Songkitrat, Bangkok police lieutenant.

It was a bloody brawl that left Cohen with a sprained and possibly fractured wrist and a deep cut over the right eye and Songkitrat with a broken nose.

Cohen got off to a fast start and by the fifth round had Songkitrat, graduate of the elbow-and-foot school of Thai boxing, wobbling around the ring.

Cohen sprained his wrist in the fifth but went on hammering away and in the seventh drew blood from the Thai's nose. It bled until the final gong.

But Songkitrat, who found the Frenchman an elusive target, began connecting with short left and right jabs to the body and head and picked up steam. From the ninth round on he was a distinct threat to Cohen's championship hopes.

Referee Teddy Waltham, secretary of the British Boxing Board of Control, scored Cohen 73½ and Songkitrat 70½. American Nat Fleischer, Ring magazine editor, gave Cohen 73½ and Songkitrat 72½. The Thai judge, Chuer Chaksarak, scored Songkitrat 72 and Cohen 71½.

King Phumiphon and Queen Sikikit, Thailand's monarchs, headed a crowd of 60,000 who jammed National Stadium for the fight. It was the height of Bangkok's rainy season, but skies cleared for the title bout after a sharp downpour had dampened the preliminaries.

Hampton Village Wins Khoury Junior Play-Off

Hampton Village defeated Simpkins, 2-1, for the Missouri-Illinois junior title in the Khoury baseball play-offs. Simpkins had made an extra game necessary by walloping Hampton, 8-0.

H. A. Dailey "B" tied Mike Brehenys in the intermediate play-off final series, 12-0. Each has a 2-1 record in the play-offs. The title game will be next Sunday.

Mitchells Retain Title.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Mitchell retained the husband and wife championship in the Norwood Hills Country Club golf tourney for the third straight year with a low gross score of 73. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Furlong and Dr. and Mrs. James Meador were next with 74s. In the low net competition, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Rouhslange, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Vollmer and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Johnson tied with 71s.

Beverly Hanson Wins Wichita Open Tourney

WICHITA, Kansas, Sept. 20 (UP)—Beverly Hanson of Cincinnati won the $1000 first place in the Wichita Women's Open yesterday by shooting a two-over-par 73 for a 72-hole total of 295.

Seven strokes back in a tie for second were Betsy Rawls, Spartanburg, S. C., and Mrs. Jackie Pung, Cincinnati and Honolulu. Mrs. Pung, who had led at the half-way mark, started two strokes off the pace, but fired a seven-over-par 78 to come in with a 302 total. Miss Rawls shot a 76.

Stelle Is Member of Syndicate Trying to Buy Lincoln Fields

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (INS)—John Stelle, former Governor of Illinois, has disclosed that he is a member of a syndicate interested in purchasing the Lincoln Fields Race Track at Crete, outside Chicago.

Stelle said at his home at McLeansboro, Ill., yesterday that the syndicate includes several Chicagoans, most of whom are associated with him in the Cahokia Downs track near St. Louis and in various oil enterprises.

Stelle's syndicate is understood to be competing with several other groups, including one headed by Harry L. Nathenson and Howard Reineman.

Asking price of the track, now held by trustees of the Edward J. Fleming estate, is said to be $3,000,000, including $2,000,000 in cash.

Knights Drop Halfback Hill

Jimmy Hill, star halfback, has been dropped by the Knights for breaking training rules, General Manager Bob Reed said.

To replace Hill for Sunday's 2 o'clock game with Fort Leonard Wood at Oakland Stadium, Coach Don Ingerson has Carl Grunwald, Harry Walker and Ralph Krieshok.

Hill was dropped Thursday, Reed said. The speedy back led the Central States Professional Football League in scoring last season with 13 touchdowns.

The Knights and Wausau played a scoreless tie in the mud at Wausau, Wis., Saturday night. Start of the game was delayed 45 minutes.

Tackle Ted Tollin suffered a leg injury but will be ready for Fort Wood. End Bob Spoeneman sat out the second half because his bruised heel acted up, but he will be available Sunday.

Creve Coeur Defeats Ballwin in Play-Off

Harold Meyers whacked a two-run double to feature Creve Coeur's big fifth inning when it scored all its runs to defeat Ballwin, 3-1, yesterday in the opener of the American division best-of-three play-offs in the County Baseball League. Ballwin got only four hits off Jules and Joe Faron, and scored its run in the first.

In the National Division opener, Twin City Reds won, 8-6, after blowing a 5-0 lead and falling behind, 6-5, in the seventh.

Carter's 758 Paces Budweisers to Victory

Paced by national match-game champion, Don Carter, who put together games of 264, 235 and 259 for a 758 series, the Budweisers defeated the Playdium All-Stars, 3260 at 3024 in a special bowling match on the Playdium alleys.

Nelson Burton 610 and Chuck O'Donnell 600 paced the Burtons to a 3-0 victory over St. Mary Magdalen in the Bowling Proprietors Traveling League. Epiphany Lanes won three from Golden Eagle; Ray Holmes took a pair from Palace Bowl and Cherokee Bowl defeated St. Ann, 2-1.

Smallings Win, 15-9.

The Smallings of East St. Louis beat the Sacred Hearts of Granite City, 15-9, to open the best-of-three playoffs for the Governor's Cup in the Inter-City Baseball League.

Don Demarse had four hits and Ray McAteer, Wilbur Higdon and Don Womack three apiece for the winners. McAteer and teammate Rich Weismann hit home runs for the Smallings.

Seixas Defeats Trabert in Straight Sets to Win Coast Net Meet

Miss Brough Wins From Miss Breit

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20 (UP)—Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, today held the men's singles title of the Pacific Southwest tennis championships thanks to his own dazzling forehand placements and errors by Tony Trabert of Cincinnati.

The United States national champion took Trabert in straight sets in the tourney final yesterday, 7-5, 6-3, 6-4. It was the first finals in five years in which Australia has not been represented, Trabert having eliminated Ken Rosewall the previous day in semifinals.

Seixas first broke Trabert's service in the opening set on two forehand placements.

He utilized Trabert's errors to break his serve in the second game of the first set. Trabert really put up no opposition in the set until the end, when he lost only after six set points.

But in the third set, there were five consecutive service breaks starting in the third game. Seixas finally broke Trabert in the seventh to take a 4-3 lead. Then each held his service with Seixas winning, 6-4.

Louise Brough, Beverly Hills, won the women's singles from 16-year-old Barbara Breit, North Hollywood, United States junior champion, 6-4, 4-6, 7-1.

Australians Lewis Hoad and Rosewall beat Seixas and Trabert, 9-7, 9-7, 6-4, to retain the men's doubles title they won last year.

Julia Sampson, South Pasadena, Calif., and Rex Hartwig, Australia, won the mixed doubles from Darlene Hard, Montebello, Calif., and Hoad, 6-1, 6-4.

Third-seeded Jon Douglas, Santa Monica, Calif., snagged the boys' title only after a two and one-half hour match with second-seeded Myron Franks, Beverly Hills, Calif. Scores were 7-5, 6-3, 7-9, 1-6, 6-3. Douglas previously eliminated first-seeded Gerald Moss, Miami, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

Air Force Champions From Wyoming

Injuries Prove Fatal to Two Grid Players

SPOKANE, Sept. 20 (AP)—A brain concussion probably received in a football scrimmage caused the death Saturday night of Caesar A. Hangan, 18-year-old Whitworth College halfback, Spokane county coroner Dr. Francis J. Burns said today.

The Redlands (Calif.), athlete died in a Spokane hospital a few hours after he was shaken up in a scrimmage.

A sharp blow to the head within the preceding 24 hours caused the concussion, Dr. Burns said. He added the youth's action in throwing himself on his bed shortly afterward probably aggravated it.

Assistant Coach Ernie Wall first noticed Hangan appeared "dizzy" in the scrimmage and advised Head Coach Jim Lounsberry to take him out. Hangan, playing linebacker, went reluctantly to the sidelines and watched the rest of the scrimmage from there. He later left the field under his own power and showered.

He never was unconscious.

Hangan wase wearing a sturdy plastic, suspension-type helmet at the time of the accident. Dr. Burns termed the accident a freak of nature and said Hangan was "a fine physical specimen." He was 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighed 180 pounds.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 20 (AP)—Arthur J. Cronin Jr. of Beverly, Mass., a 17-year-old substitute back on the St. John's prep school football team, suffered a fatal neck injury yesterday in the opening game against Manchester Central High.

The senior honor student died en route to a hospital after walking off the field complaining "my head hurts."

Brother Norman, athletic director of the Danvers, Mass., prep school, said the youth apparently was hurt in a scramble for a loose ball after Central punted in the fourth period.

"He seemed to slip on a wet turf," Brother Norman said, "and strike his head on the ground."

The team physician, Dr. William J. Collins, examined the boy at the bench and ordered him removed immediately to the hospital. Dr. Samuel C. May, acting medical referee, said Cronin suffered a dislocated neck.

Fernandez, Rawlings Bout Tonight on TV

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (UP)—The welterweights are in the center of the boxing stage tonight with Cuba's Chico Varona, ranked fourth in that division, favored in a widely-televised bout at Eastern Parkway Arena and Hawaii's Frankie Fernandez, ranked tenth, favored in a similar show at St. Nicholas Arena. (The Fernandez bout will be televised by WTVI-TV.)

Varona, who includes a decision over Fernandez among his four victories this year, faces substitute Hector Constance of Trinidad in Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway. Constance replaces the ailing Del Flanagan of St. Paul, Minn.

Fernandez, coming back from his loss to Varona just three weeks ago, tangles with veteran ring warrior Luther Rawlings of Chicago in the St. Nick's ten-rounder.

Both of the ranking welters were favored, but Fernandez only by a slight margin.

Parkers Are Victors In Mixed Doubles

Merceina and Ward Parker defeated Bunny Wall and Frank Thompson, 6-3, 6-3, at the Triple A courts to gain the St. Louis District Association's mixed doubles title yesterday. The Parkers previously had won the association's singles and doubles titles in the men's and women's classes.

Entries will close Thursday for the Triple A doubles tournament, which is to open Saturday. They may be made with either Bill Roeder, FLanders 1-4775, or Frank Thompson, CEntral 1-0100.

An Open Statement To Prospective New Car Purchasers About 1954 DODGE and PLYMOUTH Cars

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

We are almost OUT OF USED CARS!

THE REASON

It's difficult for us to believe, because a short time ago we had plenty used cars—and we were wondering what to do with them—we told our salesmen to cut prices and give everybody who bought one a LIFETIME GUARANTEE (guaranteed for as long as you own it). We didn't anticipate the wonderful public reception we got. But it did confirm our faith in our way of doing business—give a full dollar's value for a dollar.

THE PROBLEM

Now, WE NEED USED CARS! We have 6 salesmen who are members of A. F. of L., 604, who we don't want to lose or to have decreased earnings, and they need some Used Cars to sell. Then, too, we have our regular used car customers and all those new customers who want a good used car with a LIFETIME GUARANTEE and are looking to Boyd-Giomi to furnish them with dependable transportation at the lowest price.

OUR CHOICE

Yes, we could go out and buy USED CARS for resale, but we wouldn't know anything about them, and we prefer to have cars from new car purchasers who have choice used cars to trade so that we can guarantee them to our buyers. That way we know our cars first hand. That's better, isn't it?

BENEFITS TO YOU

If you have a real clean car to trade in and are going to buy a NEW CAR in 1954, NOW is the time to trade with us! We need your USED CAR this month. We're ready to give you the biggest dollar's worth of value in Boyd-Giomi's 20 years of values. Right now you are probably driving a car that we want and that will be the entire or almost the entire down payment on a brand-new DODGE or PLYMOUTH. We're open evenings until 9 and if you prefer monthly payments our charges are lower than some banks will give. See us before buying a new car.

Eagles' Game With Browns Tops Pro Grid Loop's Opening Card

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (UP)—With the pre-season warmups completed, National Football League form-followers today were touting the Philadelphia Eagles as a good dark-horse threat for the 1954 campaign, which gets underway next Sunday.

Coach Jim Trimble's musclemen have been playing second fiddle to the Cleveland Browns in the loop's Eastern Conference ever since the Ohio representatives joined the N.F.L. four years ago, but this could be the year the Eagles get their revenge.

Philadelphia wound up with the best exhibition season record among the Eastern clubs, winning five and dropping two. The Eagles dropped their first two tests to Baltimore and Detroit, then whipped past Pittsburgh, Green Bay, Los Angeles, the Chicago Cardinals and the Chicago Bears.

The Browns, meanwhile, won only two of five warmups. Hampered by injuries, Paul Brown's one-time kingpins downed Green Bay and the Bears while losing to San Francisco, Detroit and Los Angeles.

The Washington Redskins turned in the worst record among the 12 league teams, dropping all six of their exhibition games, while the records of other Eastern contenders were Pittsburgh 1-6, New York 2-4, and the Cardinals 2-5.

In the more powerful Western Conference, both defending champion Detroit and San Francisco went unbeaten in six games. The Bears broke even in six tests, while Los Angeles had a 4-2 record, Baltimore surprised by losing only one of five games, and Green Bay wound up with a 2-4 mark.

The Eagles won't have to wait long to "get even" with the Browns. These two bitter rivals square off at Philadelphia in the most interesting game on the opening program.

Other openers will find the Bears at Detroit, Los Angeles at Baltimore, Pittsburgh at Green Bay, Washington at San Francisco, and New York visiting the Cardinals.

The Lions extended their unbeaten streak yesterday by whipping the Steelers, 42-14, while in other weekend exhibitions the Colts clobbered the Redskins, 49-14, the Giants stopped the Packers, 38-27, and the Browns spanked the Bears, 35-7.

The Hamilton Tiger Cats, Canada's 1953 professional football champions, have shaken their early-season lethargy and will bear watching in future games.

Paced by United States imports Bobby Flippin and Bernie Custis, the Ti-Cats produced the first major upset of the Big Four campaign last Saturday by whipping the previously-unbeaten Montreal Alouettes, 7-6, at Hamilton.

Flippin, a newcomer from Topeka, Kan., who played collegiate football at Midwestern (Tex.) University, set up Hamilton's lone touchdown in the second quarter with his accurate passing. Custis, ex-Syracuse star, then scampered 10 yards for the score.

Two field goals by Ray Poole, however, kept the Alouettes in the game until early in the fourth period when the Tiger Cats picked up their winning point on a rouge.

At Ottawa, the Toronto Argonauts whipped the Roughriders, 34-6, before 13,000 fans and countless television viewers in Canada and the United States. Dick Shatto, a former University of Kentucky halfback, scored three touchdowns for the winners.

There was also a mild form reversal in the Western Interprovincial Conference. The Winnipeg Blue Bombers scored 10 points in the final quarter to gain a 10-10 deadlock against the pace-setting Saskatchewan Roughriders.

In a night game at Vancouver, the British Columbia Lions, beaten in their first six games, turned back the Calgary Stampeders, 9-4, on a last-minute touchdown by fullback By Bailey.

New SOUTHERN CAST STEEL WHEEL latest development in the field of railroad equipment.

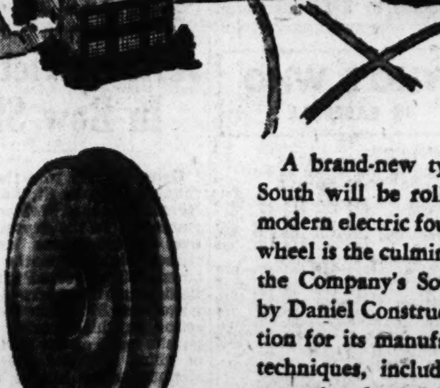

A brand-new type of cast steel wheel for railroads serving the South will be rolling soon from American Brake Shoe Company's modern electric foundry in the central Birmingham District. The new wheel is the culmination of many years of research and road testing by the Company's Southern Wheel Division. The new foundry, built by Daniel Construction Company of Birmingham, is the first installation for its manufacture. It incorporates the most advanced foundry techniques, including electric furnace melting, close metallurgical control and precision heat treating.

Southern Wheel officials gave these reasons why the Birmingham District was selected as the site of the new plant:

"There is an obvious reason why we have located our new steel wheel plant at Calera, viz.—our belief that the Birmingham District as the hub of Southeastern railroading provides a growing potential market for this type of wheel. Besides, we have had fifty-seven years experience in operating our cast iron wheel foundry in Birmingham—successful experience in an area we know and like."

The Birmingham Committee of 100 invites inquiries from those interested in the establishment of plants, warehouses and sales offices in the central Birmingham District, from which growing Southern markets can be served most rapidly, advantageously and economically.

TRANSACTIONS ON THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE
(COMPLETE CLOSING PRICES)

STOCKS START FAST, HIGHER, CLOSE DOWN

Final Prices Around Lows for Session — Industrial Group Dips Sharply.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—The stock market declined today in a moderate turn around that followed early strength.

The market started higher with some vigor. Within a few minutes after the opening, the tape couldn't keep up with floor transactions. That lasted only a short time, however, and the congestion was over.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 80 cents at $134.30. That is exactly the amount it gained on Friday. The industrial component of the average was down $1.10, the railroads were off 90 cents, and the utilities lost 10 cents.

(Dow-Jones average of 30 industrial stocks closed 1.84 points lower to 353.48. The 20 rails were off 79 at 115.54 and the 15 utilities unchanged at 61.29.)

Volume came to 2,060,000 shares as compared with 2,500,000 shares traded Friday.

The market was eight issues narrower than last Friday at 1198 issues. There were 594 losers, 1338 gainers and 266 unchanged. There were 69 new 1954 highs and two new lows.

Many of the oils held doggedly to their gains as did the chemicals and motors, but the steels, railroads, and aircrafts, together with some coppers and rubbers, were lower.

North American Aviation, now starting on an order for $100,000,000 in super-sonic F-11 fighter planes, staged a delayed opening on 10,000 shares up 2½ at 47½. It continued at that level.

A block of 25,000 shares of Benguet Consolidated Mining traded unchanged at 1.

Business World

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—The nation's steel industry has scheduled operations this week at 66.6 per cent of rated capacity to produce 1,588,000 net tons of ingots and steel for castings, the American Iron & Steel Institute said. This will approximate operations of last week, when the mills ran at 66.4 per cent of capacity and turned out 1,583,000 tons.

Vick Chemical Co. reported net of $5,910,252 or $4.21 a common share for the fiscal year ended June 30 compared with net of $4,524,622 equal to $3.18 a common share in preceding year. Sales in latest year were $65,363,639 against $59,932,793 a year ago.

An extension until Dec. 31 of the period in which stockholders of RKO Pictures Corp. can tender their stock for redemption at $6 a share was announced by James R. Grainger, president. He said the board of directors also extended to Dec. 15 the time within which Howard Hughes may accept the offer made to him to buy at $6 a share any or all the 1,262,120 shares of stocks he holds.

Only small sales were reported in the cotton textile market, marking the usual slow start on Monday. The popular 80-square print cloth sold at 19 cents a yard on spot and ¼ cent lower in second hands. In wool goods flannels were reported in good demand in the women's wear division. Some mills were said to be unable to meet the delivery positions wanted by apparel buyers on this fabric.

Hussmann Refrigerator Co., declared a 50 per cent stock dividend payable Oct. 8 to stock of record Sept. 28 in the newly created $5 par value stock. Last week stockholders authorized an increase to 2,000,000 $5 par value common shares from 1,000,000 no par. A dividend of 30 cents a share was declared payable Nov. 1 to stock of record Oct. 25, and will be paid on the increased number of shares. Company paid at the 30c a share rate in preceding quarters on the old.

STEEL MILL RATE, 66 PCT., HIGHEST SINCE LAST JUNE

CLEVELAND, Sept. 20 (AP)—Steel mills operated at 66 per cent of the nation's rated capacity last week, a jump of 2.5 points, "Steel" magazine said today.

Pointing out that was the highest rate since the end of June, the metalworking journal said business was stimulated by "the approach of new models of appliances and automobiles."

"So far, demand from appliance makers has been more noticeable than from automakers," the magazine added.

Biggest jump was at Wheeling where the rates went up 20 points to 90 per cent of capacity. Other increases were at Cleveland, 9.5 points to 77.5 per cent; at St. Louis, 7 points to 66.5 per cent; in the far west, 3 points to 81 per cent; at Detroit, 1.5 points to 68 per cent; at Chicago, 1.5 points to 68.5 per cent, and 0.5 points to 65 per cent at Pittsburgh.

Production dropped 8.5 points to 51.5 per cent at Youngstown and held unchanged at 82 per cent in Cincinnati and 50 per cent in New England.

Additional demand from automakers will come in late October, Steel predicted.

The magazine's composite on finished steel prices held at $117.77 a net ton and its composite on steelmaking grades of scrap held at $29.75.

U.S. BONDS EASE ON TREASURY'S 4-BILLION NOTES

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—United States Government securities eased slightly today following the Treasury's announcement that it would raise four billion dollars by floating a 1⅝ per cent note.

The cash borrowing will push the national debt up to $278,300,000,000. The new note will mature in two years and seven months and will be dated Oct. 4. Subscription books will be open only one day—Sept. 23.

Shortly before the close, the Treasury's 30-year 3¼s were off 1-32 at 110 23-32 bid. The 2½s of 1961 dipped 3-32 at 101 26-32 bid and the 1⅞s of 1959 at 100 4-32 bid were off 2-32.

Meanwhile, railroads tipped the corporate bond market downward. Industrials were irregular and utilities steady. But most carriers lost fractions. German dollar bonds inched upward in firm foreign section. Some Greek and Yugoslav issues were also in moderate demand.

FORD 1953 EARNINGS CALCULATED $15 A SHARE

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Ford Motor Co. increased dividend payments to its stockholders last year to about $15 a share, a calculation of figures in the annual report of its largest stockholders, Ford Foundation, disclosed today.

Ford had paid $10 per share in 1951 and 1952.

Ford Foundation holds 3,089,908 shares, all of it non-voting. Its annual report listed dividend income of $46,361,830. Nearly all of the rest of the 3,452,900 shares outstanding, including all voting stock, is owned by the Ford family.

The foundation began publishing its dividend income figures three years ago, so there was no way of comparing dividends with those in previous years.

Henry Ford II, has disclosed that the foundation is considering placing some of its Ford Co. stock on the market during 1955.

The higher dividend payments last year apparently reflected a rise in earnings over 1952. Profits are expected to improve again this year since the company has turned out 19 per cent more cars and trucks in the first eight months than in the like period of 1953.

LONDON MARKET QUIET

LONDON, Sept. 20 (AP)—The London Stock Exchange experienced a quiet day today with investors keeping an eye on the European political situation.

British Government bonds showed little change. On the foreign bond list German, Greek and Japanese issues improved, but Chinese issues were easier. Losses developed in the industrial list.

GRAIN LIST LOWER; SOYBEANS HIGHER

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Soybeans held out firmly against selling which sent all other grains lower on the Board of Trade today. September soybeans was particularly strong. Among major cereals, corn was weakest. The selling in this grain was based in part on the prospect Canadian wheat, damaged by rust and frost, will be imported into the United States as a livestock feed grain.

Wheat succumbed to mild hedging pressure. Rye and oats advanced in the early trade, falling back later.

The relative strength in soybeans stemmed in part from technical considerations as beans were very weak last week. Receipts of cash soybeans totaled 575 cars.

WALKING AS DEFENSE IN AIR RAID TESTED

60 Volunteers Average About Two Miles in 30 Minutes.

About 60 panting, perspiring volunteers stepped briskly around the track at University City High School Stadium yesterday in a civil defense exercise to determine how far the average person could get on foot from a threatened area in 30 minutes.

By combined trotting and walking, a few persons went more than two miles in the allotted time and one covered two and three-fourths miles, Victor A. Ellman, director of University City Civil Defense, said.

But most of the participants in the test walked about two miles in 30 minutes. A few dropped out in the first few minutes.

Actually, Ellman said, the test was carried out not only to determine the distance that could be covered but also to stimulate the thinking of citizens along the lines that they might have to "walk out" of an area threatened with bombing.

"In the event of an H-bomb attack," Ellman said, "thousands of people would have to depend on their feet to get them to possible safety."

Roads would be choked with thousands of automobiles leaving the heart of the metropolitan area, and people would have to get out and walk, he said. Federal civil defense policy now contemplates a "walk-out" program for urban residents, Ellman added.

Originally the test yesterday had been planned for auxiliary police and fireman, and the public also was invited. Ellman thought the number of volunteers would have been greater had it not been for the heat.

In the confusion of a mass evacuation, walking conditions would not be as favorable as the smooth surface of a track, Ellman reminded the volunteers. The walking in the test "was under the best possible circumstances, except from the standpoint of the heat," Ellman said.

He asked the volunteers to consider preparing a shoulder pack consisting of essential supplies to be ready for emergency use. He suggested the pack should contain:

Flashlight, newspaper, first aid kit, towel, soap, matches, thermos jug of water, pocket knife, blanket and twine. Another pack to be placed in the trunk of the automobile might also be held in readiness with the following items, he said: ax, clothesline, emergency food kit for three days, five gallons of water and a tarpaulin.

"The car pack will not always be available and your main reliance should be on the shoulder pack," Ellman said.

$7500 STOLEN IN HOLDUP OF BANK IN NORTH CAROLINA

ROCKY MOUNT, N.C., Sept. 20 (UP)—An armed man wearing a mask robbed the north branch of the Peoples Bank & Trust Co. of $7500 today. It was North Carolina's eighth bank robbery since March.

Police threw up roadblocks on all highways in the area within 10 minutes after the holdup.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 20 (AP)—Three armed men held up a bank on the west side of Evansville today and escaped with about $5000.

Police said the holdup men apparently switched cars shortly after the robbery, abandoning what was believed to be the original getaway car in a filling station a few blocks away.

Three employes and two customers were herded into a back room of the Howell Savings Association by one man. Two other men came in the back door, scooping money from the two cash drawers and the vault.

ALABAMA TROOPS GUARD POLLS IN PHENIX CITY VOTE

PHENIX CITY, Ala., Sept. 20 (AP)—Phenix City voters who once felt the grip of racketeer rule elect a new city commissioner today under the protective guns of watching National Guard troops.

Heavily armed National Guardsmen, part of the military force that has taken over law enforcement in once-wicked Phenix City under limited martial law, were assigned, two to each polling place, to patrol the city's 11 voting places from 8 a.m., when the polls opened, until they close at 6 p.m.

Only one seat on the three-man city commission was at stake, that of the veteran Commissioner A. L. Gullatt who declined to seek re-election. Mayor Elmer Reese and Dr. Seth Floyd, the other two members, hold over.

AUTO KILLS MAN AS HE WALKS ALONG HIGHWAY 66

A man who carried papers bearing the name James Welch was killed last night by an automobile as he was walking along U.S. Highway 66 about two miles south of Hamel, Ill. Driver of the machine was Mrs. Norman W. Merkel, of Edwardsville, sheriff's deputies said.

Welch was pronounced dead at Wood River Memorial Hospital, Wood River. Deputies said Welch had papers in his pocket indicating he was deaf and dumb.

ATTLEE IN SAN FRANCISCO ON WAY HOME FROM TOUR

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Clement Attlee, British Labor party leader and former Prime Minister, arrived today by plane from Honolulu on his way home from Red China.

The flight was made after one false start from Honolulu, in which engine trouble 180 miles out forced the Qantas Airways plane to return.

SEALED PROPOSALS 287

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
DEEP WELL AND PUMPING EQUIPMENT FOR CITY OF FULTON, MISSOURI

Sealed proposals for the furnishing of all labor, tools, equipment and material for construction of new well and the furnishing and installing of a vertical turbine water lubricated pump for the City of Fulton, at Fulton, Missouri, in accordance with the specifications on file in the office of the City Clerk, City Hall, Fulton, Missouri, will be received by the City Clerk in said office until twelve o'clock noon on the 5th day of October, 1954, and will then be publicly opened and read aloud. Proposals which are sent by mail shall be marked WELL PROPOSAL on outside of envelope.

All proposals must be in accordance with the specifications and be made on the proposal form included in the specifications, both of which may be obtained from the office of the City Clerk, City of Fulton, Missouri, for a fee of ten dollars ($10.00).

Each proposal must be accompanied by a proposal guaranty consisting of cash, certified check on a Missouri bank or trust company, or a bidders bond written by an approved corporate surety company, drawn to the order of the City of Fulton, Missouri, in an amount not less than ten percent (10%) of the amount of the proposal. The proposal guaranty will be retained by the City of Fulton, Missouri, until after the contract for the work has been awarded. The proposal guarantees of the unsuccessful bidder will be returned when the signing of the contracts are completed and satisfactory performance bonds furnished.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

The City Council reserves the right to reject any or all proposals, to waive informalities in any bid, and to increase or decrease the amount of any class or portion of the work by twenty percent (20%).

GULF'S COMPLETELY NEW AND DIFFERENT GASOLINE...

ACTUALLY MAKES CARS PERFORM BETTER THAN NEW...

NEW SUPER-REFINED GULF NO-NOX

HIGHER-THAN-NEW HORSEPOWER! BETTER-THAN-NEW ON GASOLINE MILEAGE! AND NOT A SINGLE TRACE OF CARBON KNOCK OR PRE-IGNITION AT ANY TIME—EVEN ON THE STEEPEST MOUNTAIN GRADES!

Instead of trying to fight trouble-making deposits with so-called "miracle-additives"—inside your engine—Gulf believes in preventing them from forming in the first place. That's why Gulf, in making new Super-Refined NO-NOX, refines out the carbon-forming, "dirty-burning tail-end"—more than a cupful in every gallon. Just look at the plates the Gulf scientist is holding in the unretouched photo above, and see what a difference Gulf super refining makes!

Now—Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—the No. 1 troublemaker in high-compression engines. Result: a cleaner-burning super-fuel that gives you thousands of extra miles of full engine power . . . free from knock or pre-ignition.

Starting with your first tankful, this new, super-refined, super-powered fuel will give you these immediate and lasting benefits:

- More complete engine protection than the so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines. Why? Because Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline, the No. 1 troublemaker in high-compression engines—and then treats this new Super-Refined NO-NOX to give it a complete range of protective properties. It protects every part it touches against harmful deposits—carbon, rust, gum.
- Extra gas mileage. Why? Because new NO-NOX is specially blended for the short-trip, stop-and-go driving you do most.
- No knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's super-compression engines. Why? Because the anti-knock power of new NO-NOX has been stepped up to an all-time high.
- Stall-proof smoothness—no more worries about carburetor icing in chilly weather, or vapor lock on warm days. Instant starts, too—and fast, fuel-saving warm-up.

The Role of Chance In Lives of Men

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.

MILITARY operations are supposed to go "according to plan."

But few lives do.

How many people do you know who set a pattern to their life when very young, said "I want such-and-such out of this world, and this is how I'll get it——and were able to achieve their goal as they had planned it?

HAL BOYLE

Such people are the exception. I personally know of none.

Life has a way of upsetting our timetables. We are only partly a product of our own dreams and sense of determination. For we are also, to a great extent, prisoners of such exterior influences as chance, misfortune or a pair of bright eyes.

CHANCE ITSELF — pure blind, haphazard chance—what a strange and terrible power it has to change our whole existence in a universe we like to think of as orderly! How it bends and shapes us in ways unknown to us at the time, ways that become clear to us only after the passage of many years, when we pause and look back and wonder what put us where we are.

Here is how chance entered and affected the careers of some of America's business leaders:

Raymond Loewy, now head of the largest industrial design firm in the world, studied electrical engineering in Paris. At 26 he had no job, little funds.

At his brother's suggestion he decided to come to New York. During the voyage he was asked to contribute something for a shipboard auction for a charitable cause. All Loewy had was his pencil. He made a sketch of a young woman aboard the ship.

The sketch was purchased at the auction by a British diplomat, who was so impressed with Loewy's talent he gave him a letter of introduction to Conde Nast, publisher of Vogue. The letter landed Loewy a job, started him on a fabulous career.

HERBERT L. LAUBE, president of the Remington Corp., manufacturers of room air-conditioners, originally was a construction engineer. He made the drawings for an exhibit hall in San Bernardino, Calif., in 1924. Then he learned he wouldn't be paid until the exhibition opened six months later.

His room rent was overdue. He had less than $2 in his pocket. He went for a walk that evening, feeling pretty blue. During the walk he chanced to meet Herbert C. Parker, manager of an ice machine company. Parker offered him a job.

"I knew nothing about ice machines, and I took the job without even asking what the pay would be," recalled Laube. But he soon had gathered the know-how to become a pioneer in the still-mushrooming field of air-conditioning.

JOHN J. AND JAMES A. FARRELL JR., sons of a former head of the United States Steel Co., now operate the Farrell Ship Lines, which ply to south, east and west Africa.

Chance played an odd role in their family history. Their great-grandfather, Thomas Whalen, was an embattled Irish rebel and a fine whist player. He was so good at whist that English officers who frequented the inn in the town in which he lived enjoyed passing an evening with him at the card table.

One night, before a rubber was finished, a friendly officer arose, and before leaving said loudly:

"Early tomorrow I must serve a royal warrant on Thomas Whalen."

HERBERT HOOVER, now 80, was a 14-year-old orphan when he went to work as an office boy in his uncle's real estate firm in Oregon. A chance conversation with a visiting mining engineer led him to adopt that as his own profession, and started him on the road that led to the White House.

Take a chance? A man has no alternative. Chance surrounds us from cradle to the grave. The fortunate man is the one who knows which chance to take. But there never lived a man who didn't have a chance.

HAILSTORM DAMAGE At top Sandra Spencer holds large hailstone in her right hand, and in her other hand has a paper plate full of hailstones which fell in the vicinity of Jefferson and Lafayette avenues yesterday. At bottom is an example of what happened to electric signs in the central section of the city. Hundreds of bulbs in the Pevely Dairy sign at Grand boulevard and Chouteau avenue were broken. The hail shattered many windows, damaged automobile tops and windshields and injured several persons. Heavy wind and rain accompanied the storm.

Dog of the Week

That looks like a big chain for such a small animal, but this 6-week-old female Dog of the Week will grow up to fit the chain; say attendants at the Humane Society shelter, 1210 Macklind avenue. They have identified the black and white pup as a "farm collie," a name given at the shelter to most any breed that looks as if it has some collie blood. She is available for adoption on application, in person, at the shelter.

FAITHFUL CHURCH MEMBERS Three long-time members were honored yesterday by Bowman Methodist Church, Athlone and Carter avenues, in the church's celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of its organization. Pictured with the pastor, the Rev. J. Ray Trotter (right), are (from left): Mrs. Clara M. Carpenter, who was present when the church was dedicated 73 years ago; Mrs. Edward H. Weitz, a member of the church for 68 years, and Harry H. Kerone, also present at dedication 73 years ago. When first organized, the church was at Twentieth street and Obear avenue, and was known as the Water Tower Methodist Church. The name was changed in 1893 to honor Bishop Thomas Bowman.

Talking Dogs

By Stan Delaplane

SAN FRANCISCO.

THIS will advise all hands that National Dog Week is upon us. During this week, dogs should be treated with consideration.

During this week, we should not lift our voices in exasperation. Nor cry out: "Blast it, get off of that couch!"

STAN DELAPLANE

Dogs should be spoken to gently.

On the other hand, dogs should speak to us gently too.

I offer myself as a qualified witness on dogs and doggy conversation. For a good many years of toiling on the journals, I interviewed talking dogs.

It got so that I thought ALL dogs talked. If it met a dog on the street and he failed to speak, I thought he was sulking. You would be surprised how many talking dogs there are in the world.

Most of them hang around the reception rooms of newspaper offices. Trying to give out statements. They are more persistent than a politician before election time.

I DID NOT BECOME a dog interviewer by choice. For a number of years I was attached by a thin thread of payroll to a dog-loving city editor.

Murders and suicides and frantic affairs rolled across his desk without lighting his glazed eye. But came along a talking dog and he fired up like a juke box.

MOST OF THE TALKING DOGS I interviewed spoke in monosyllables. They had a very dull routine and were not funny at all.

Mostly they said: "Woof."

"Did you hear that?" said the owner. "He said 'Horsemeat,' just as plain."

"Does he care to make a statement on world trade?" I asked.

"I wish you'd been here this morning," said the owner. "Chatter? That dog talked my arm off."

At this point I would phone the city desk. Assuming a hearty attitude.

AT ONE TIME I ventured to fill in the editor. "He didn't say much," I said hopefully. "Maybe we should drop it."

"You probably didn't ask him the right questions," said the editor severely. "You gotta be aggressive."

Once I even confessed slight. He was weeping softly over the talking dog story I had turned in.

"Y'know," I said, "the dog didn't really talk—."

The editor turned on me with a doggy snarl.

"Whadaya mean, he didn't talk?" he said. "You trying to destroy my enthusiasm?"

He didn't speak to me for a week. Just let dogs talk to me.

AFTER A WHILE we got a swing city editor who loved talking cats. Week days I did talking dogs. Weekends I did talking cats. I certainly was in a rut.

And the only reason I mention all this is because it is National Dog Week. And any dog who wishes to cut up old touches may drop in an see me. I have something for him. And it isn't "woof—horsemeat."

Encouraging Report

By Glen R. Shepherd, M.D.

AN encouraging report of mental illness treatment results appeared in a recent issue of the New England Journal of Medicine. It should reassure families struck by mental illness as to the results of modern psychiatric treatment, imperfect as it is.

Drs. J. Sanbourne Bockoven and Herry C. Solomon of the Harvard Medical School and the Boston Psychopathic Hospital checked on what happened to the first 100 patients committed to the Boston Psychopathic Hospital after July 1, 1946.

The patients were traced by the card-index file of the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health. As Dr. Solomon, medical director of the Boston Psychopathic Hospital, wrote: "Each discharge to the community, each transfer from one mental hospital to another and each readmission to a mental hospital, public and private, in Massachusetts was recorded."

THE RESULTS SHOW the possible benefits of modern active treatment of patients early in their mental illness. The number of patients "discharged to the community"—returned to their homes and jobs—might surprise many people.

Almost nine out of 10 psychotic patients committed to the Boston Psychopathic Hospital were discharged to the community. About eight out of 10 were back in the community five years after admission. They had spent an average of six months in mental hospitals.

More than three-fourths of the schizophrenic patients who completed their first hospital treatment (an average of eight months) were back home and to work for good. They didn't have to return to a mental institution in the five years covered by this study.

Drs. Bockoven and Solomon decided that there are three groups of patients: "Those who do not respond to treatment (about one out of 10 patients); those who respond quickly—that is, within an average of 10 weeks, and never return to a mental hospital within a five-year period (about four out of 10 patients); and those who respond more slowly to treatment, have about two relapses in five years and spend about one out of the five years in mental hospitals (about four out of 10 patients)."

ALL VARIETIES of mental illness were included in this follow-up study. Out of the 100 patients, 44 had schizophrenia, popularly called split-personality. Schizophrenia has long been thought a very serious mental illness. This study shows the schizophrenics can recover with active treatment.

The practice, still too common in state mental institutions because of underbudgeting by state legislatures, of simple "detention in the closed wards may well have contributed to the deterioration that was expected in schizophrenia." Drs. Solomon and Bockoven said further: "Modern treatments of the body and attention to emotional needs alleviate many states of fear, depression and excitement, enable patients to resume relations with other people and make possible their discharge to the community."

This report should stimulate such state legislatures to increase the operating budgets and salary scales of their mental hospitals. It shows what can be done.

Retired Need More Than Just a Hobby

By Dr. Paul Popenoe

IF YOU know of an elderly retired man, or perhaps have one in your home, you may have noticed that he has lost interest in some of the hobbies that he formerly liked very much. Perhaps he once was an ardent amateur photographer or gardener, or maybe he enjoyed working in wood. Now these things seem to pall.

The answer is not too difficult. It should be remembered that during a man's active years small hobbies are fine things for relaxation and spare time enjoyment. But they may be unsatisfactory as a full-time occupation. They can't take the place of human associations—and that is what a man misses most in retirement. Therefore, there ought to be a change in the nature of his hobbies, a change to something that brings him into contact with people, as he has been used to.

MRS. McC. observes this need in her own father, who has retired, lost his wife by death and is now coming to live with Mrs. McC. and her family. "We can't have him sitting around the house all day," Mrs. McC. exclaims. "He'd die of boredom. He needs to do something that will bring him into contact with other people. So far the only suggestion he has made is to work on his old stamp collection. That's about the last thing suitable, it seems to me, but I can't think of anything that seems just right."

I agree with you completely, Mrs. McC. Church, politics, lodge or similar organizations are the standard channels for the use of some of this leisure time. Hobbies are important but no one should build his life on hobbies. You want to be useful as well. Psychologist C. M. Morgan studied 500 elderly men and women who were on relief in New York state. Those who were happy were, in general, those who were still doing something productive—whether or not it brought in any money.

MR. A. ran a little store. He didn't make a living out of it, but it kept him alive. Mr. B. did light gardening; Mrs. C., practical nursing; Mrs. D. spent much of her time sewing for her 12 grandchildren; Mr. E. made himself a voluntary first aid man for the neighbors, doing small repairs and odd jobs of all kinds; Mrs. F. volunteered her time several days a week to a Veterans hospital where she read to men and wrote letters for them.

Even when confined to the house, one can still be useful. Mr. G. took part in a telephone campaign to collect clothing for orphans in Korea. Mrs. H. wrote little letters of appreciation to people, of whom she read in the daily paper, who deserved recognition and thanks for something worthwhile they had done. Mr. I does baby-sitting for his married sons and daughters. Many another person has built up a little business of some kind, after supposedly retiring from business.

A free copy of "Activities for Older Persons," will be sent to any reader who encloses a stamped, self-addressed envelope with the request to Dr. Popenoe in care of the Post-Dispatch.

How It Started

By Jean Newton

"Modern" and "Mode."

THE connotation of "modern," as the word is popularly used, is more often than not "the last word." In employing it most persons emphasize the present in the sense of something than which there is nothing newer, though historically of course, the term is inclusive of more than the very recent past.

The fact is that "modern" derives from "measure." We have it directly from the French word, but it goes back to the Latin "modernus," out of "modus," meaning measure. Thus modern is essentially a time "by measure," or just now.

It requires not too much imagination to see the evolution of our word mode, out of the same root. Originally "a measure," the mode in which something was done signified an action in due or proper measure. There was a mode of speaking, the mode of dressing and eventually—need one say more—the customary mode, and therefore the fashion, la mode!

Designing Woman

Wrought-Iron Role

By Elizabeth Hillyer

THAT first spectacular upswing in popularity put wrought iron inside homes as well as on porches and patios. And it's there to stay as a staple material for furniture rather than as a novelty, because good wrought iron lasts a long time and has a place of its own.

It can be the simplest brace and be sturdy and strong — a graceful outline where furniture in other materials must be thicker and bulkier. This counts in the planning of uncrowded small rooms and is good reason for the many types of new pieces of furniture that are shown in wrought iron.

Desks and daybeds are among them. Here a desk with its chair and a daybed solve the persistent problem of finding sleeping room for guests in a room that must be useful all the time for the family. Foam rubber promises comfortable seating and sleeping.

The generous desk top, drawer and shelves provide office-at-home usefulness. But both are so light and airy in their wrought iron framing that there's no look of crowding despite the compact arrangement.

Mrs. V. M. "We have just bought a new crescent-shaped armless sofa. It sits rather high, and at each end the seat is so wide that no one leaning against the back can touch his feet to the floor. This poses quite a problem. Would it be possible to use an ottoman or other sort of footstool at each end of the sofa, or is there another solution? What shape should a lamp table behind this sofa be? The sofa curves around one corner of the room."

To look exactly right, ottomans should be made to fit the sofa curves and the same height as the sofa. Another idea is deep and rather firm pillows to shorten the seat depth. A wedge-shaped, rounded triangular table or even a small round one might do it if it is the right size, or you might have a table made to follow the sofa back curve.

Mrs. W. A. J. "I definitely do not like the brown and beige weave paper that is on my bedroom walls now with the white woodwork. Should the woodwork be painted brown or beige to make it less conspicuous? There's a white Williamsburg spread on the mahogany bed, chests are mahogany and the curtains and throw rugs are yellow."

It would be better to change the wallpaper, for two reasons. You can choose a pattern on a white ground which will smooth the woodwork into the background and a type of pattern that is more harmonious with the spread and furniture than the weave pattern is.

Let's Explore Your Mind

By Dr. Albert E. Wiggam

Answer to Question 1.

FALSE. Dr. Clarence Mills has shown that girls mature one to two years earlier in the temperate United States than in the hot Philippines. He has also found girls in the Carolinas (doubtless in other southern states) mature later than they did 20 years ago. This trend has reached as far north as Ohio—because the whole world is getting warmer.

Answer to Question 2.

True. In cats and dogs care is almost entirely "instinctive"—inborn, unlearned. But monkeys and chimpanzees are often awkward with their infants and improve by experience. Human mothers "instinctively" love their babies, but have to learn many things. Cats and dogs do not care for tenth litters any better than the first.

Answer to Question 3.

Yes. Studies have shown such students do not become maladjusted. Eleven college and universities now admit a few select students with scholarships as high as $1700. Young men can thus do two years of college before military service. Some years ago any boy who could read well and liked to study could start early in the small midwest colleges. This excellent program is now coming back.

Fix It Yourself

By Hubbard Cobb

Furniture Repairs.

ALL sorts of things can happen to the average chair, but the most common failure is a loose rung. A rung will become loose either because it has shrunk so that it is a good deal smaller than the hole in which it is supposed to fit or because the glue has failed.

If a rung is loose just because the glue has failed and it still fits tightly into the hole, simply remove the old glue either with fine sandpaper or warm water and vinegar and apply a fresh coat of glue to both surfaces. Slip the rung back into the hole, wipe off the excess glue that may be forced out when the rung is put into place, and then tie up the works to hold the rung in place until the glue is hard.

When the rung has shrunk so that it fits loosely in the hole, matters are more complicated. If the piece of furniture is not too valuable, you can attach a little metal fastener made for this purpose to the end of the rung. The metal fastener has a barb on it and when the rung is forced back into the hole, the metal barb grabs the side of the hole and helps to hold the rung in place. The end of the rung and the metal barb should be coated with glue before forcing back into the hole. Another good way to expand the end of a shrunk rung is to coat the end with a thin film of glue and then wrap silk thread around over the glue. Coat the surface of the thread with glue and force the rung back into place.

The best, but most difficult, way to expand the rung is to cut a thin slit at the end of the rung about the same depth as the hole into which the rung fits and then drive a thin wood wedge into this slit. Apply the glue after driving in the wedge and slip the expanded rung into the hole.

Right Time For Making Pickles

By Edith M. Barber

WHEN you pass a roadside stand or go to a large market where there are piles of pickling vegetables at bargain prices you can hardly resist stopping. You immediately begin to think of those homemade pickles. We all believe, of course, that these are the best in the world.

Fortunately, many of our friends agree with us and will be delighted to receive a jar or two of green tomato or cucumber pickle as a Christmas remembrance. You know it will not be long before the department stores will be advertising "just so many days before Christmas."

If you have the patience—and it doesn't take much—to slice the vegetables, these pickles are very easy to make. The sliced vegetable should be allowed to stand in salt water or between layers of salt a number of hours before they are drained and rinsed with plenty of fresh cold water. Then more water and vinegar, sugar and spices are added. If whole spices are used, they should be tied in a bag and removed before packing if you are interested in good color.

Sliced Cucumber Pickles.

Ingredients: 12 medium-sized cucumbers, five medium-sized onions, one-half cup salt, two cups water, two cups vinegar, one and one-half cups sugar, one and one-half teaspoons mustard seed, one teaspoon celery seed.

Cut cucumbers in one-eighth-inch slices without paring. Peel onions and cut one-fourth-inch slices. Place layers of sliced vegetables alternately in bowl with salt. Let stand three hours. Drain and rinse well with cold water.

Mix water, vinegar, sugar, and mustard and celery seeds in large kettle. Bring to boiling, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Add drained cucumbers and onions, and boil five minutes. Pour into hot sterilized jars and seal immediately. Yield: About three quarts.

Green Tomato Pickle.

Ingredients: one-half peck green tomatoes (about eight pounds), 12 medium-sized onions, one cup salt, three green peppers, four cups sugar, one quart vinegar, two tablespoons whole cloves, four tablespoons celery seed, four tablespoons mustard seed, one tablespoon peppercorns, three three-inch sticks of cinnamon.

Wash tomatoes and remove stem ends. Slice one-fourth-inch thick. Wash, peel, and slice onions. Place layers of tomatoes and onions in a large bowl alternately with salt and let stand overnight. Drain and rinse thoroughly with plenty of water.

Wash peppers, remove stem ends, seeds, and fibrous white portions, and chop fine. Place vegetables in large kettle, add sugar, vinegar, and mustard and celery seeds. Tie cloves, peppercorns, and cinnamon in cheesecloth, and add to vegetable mixture. Stir over heat until sugar is dissolved. Bring to boiling and cook rapidly 15 minutes. Remove spice bag, pour into hot sterilized jars, and seal. Yield: about seven pints.

Secrets of Charm

How to Sit Gracefully

GRACEFUL comportment is an essential component of charm. It is the outward manifestation of poise.

You can appear poised, and graceful, whether you are sitting in the deepest, most comfortable chair—or on the not-so-cushioned seat of bus or subway.

To appear graceful, you must sit down without "plopping," and remain seated without fidgeting. Forget the idea that perching on the edge of your chair denotes alertness. The edge-of-the-chair pose simply detracts from your look of ease, puts you on a teeter-totter instead of a balanced swing.

START by practicing the "S" curve position that makes every woman's figure appear more sylph-like when seated. In one easy motion, lower your hips firmly against the back, right corner of a chair, placing your thighs at an angle to the front edge of it. Square your shoulders so your waist will look small, and pull your feet as far as possible to the right. This way your feet, too, will appear small. When you stand, push upward with a single motion.

Here is a "tight squeeze" technique for a crowded bus or subway. It is a graceful way of sitting that is practical, comfortable, and still charming to look at.

Get right up to your seat before you about-face. As you turn, be sure your feet are together and the back of your legs touch the seat. Now, using your legs as slow-moving levers, lower yourself easily. To perfect your appearance, make your feet look small and delicate by drawing the right heel into the left instep.

COMPLETE your picture of ease by resting your hands on top of your purse, palms up, the back of one hand in the palm of the other. Keep your head erect, shoulders squared and relaxed, waist pulled out of your hips.

To practice these body and hand positions is to cultivate poise, deliberately. And poise is an invaluable asset in creating an illusion of tranquil beauty.

Martha Carr's OPINION

Dear Martha:

PLEASE tell me what to do. I was transferred to another department in the office where I work, but all the other girls with whom I am supposed to work seem to be resentful and are doing everything they can to keep from cooperating with me. They have a little clique that I can't break into. I guess I wouldn't mind that so much but I know because of their attitude I'm not doing my work as I should. I go home every evening practically in tears. I suppose I could get another job or be transferred back to my former job here but I hate to feel they have run me away. What is your opinion? PEGGY.

If you like your work, don't let anyone run you out. I know it's no fun to be left out of a clique, but it's far more important to make sure the work is done the way the boss wants it, because your loyalty is to him. Don't let anyone draw you into a quarrel and try not to let yourself seem so aloof that the others will have reason to criticize you. If there are certain ones with whom you must work, go right ahead and act as if you expect their co-operation. Of course, if you are actually being hampered in your job by their attitude, you can go to your boss, but it would be far better to work it out yourself than to criticize the rest of the staff to him.

Dear Martha:

I AM A WIDOW 51 YEARS OLD. I have a son who lives with me. About four months ago I met a man whom I care a great deal for and he seems to be in love with me. He wants to marry me but the only trouble is that he and my son don't get along. They quarrel constantly and my son has threatened to break away from me completely if I go ahead and marry. What do you think? WORRIED.

Your son may have a very good reason for not wanting you to marry this man, and one may be that you have known him such a comparatively short time. Surely your son wants you to be happy and wouldn't stand in your way if he felt the marriage would be a wise one. See if you can't discover why he objects so strenuously. Whether it seems to be a valid reason or not, I think you would be smart to postpone your marriage for a time at least until you are sure you are doing the right thing. To marry a man who would be quarreling constantly with your son seems like a dreary outlook.

IN ANSWER TO R.N.W.: During World War II, the custom of giving "proxy" showers was popular as so many young married women were away from home when their children were born. Guests could bring the gifts to the party and after everyone has seen them, they can spend a part of the afternoon wrapping them for the honoree. The hostess then would be responsible for seeing that the presents were mailed. Guests also might telephone the honoree or write her a group letter from the party. I think it would be proper in this case for you to entertain, although as a rule showers are given by friends, not by close relatives.

With the approach of fall, it's not too early to be thinking about plans for your Halloween party. Send for Martha Carr's free Halloween leaflet. Please inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Annoying Habits

By Angelo Patri

TENSIONS are pulls of one sort or another and they are necessary in the life of the body. The tension of muscles holds the body firmly in poise and place. That sort of tension is never bothersome, but there are tensions set up in the mind and the body that annoy us. Lack of exercise causes some, fear causes others, what causes some others nobody knows, but we know they are annoying to children when they rock themselves in their cribs, to others who bite their nails when they are absorbed in reading or watching the screens. Such tensions seem to be relieved by odd habits like rocking, nail biting, hair twisting and the like.

These habits are the children's way of lessening a tension that they scarcely recognize consciously but which is troubling them inwardly. When we try to stop them, the children try to go along with us but as soon as the tension takes hold they once more try to release it by falling back into the practice that eases it.

USUALLY THESE ANNOYING HABITS do no harm. In time, when the children want to drop the habit that they learn is not acceptable, in time, when the tensions have found other and more satisfying outlets, or have disappeared with the maturing of the body and mind, the habits vanish.

Meanwhile, we can help a little if we study the child's way of living. Any happenings that cause him to fear anything or anybody can be adjusted, or he can be helped to adjust himself to them. His clothing can be made more comfortable to him. Many a child is uneasy because his underclothes are too tight, or they have been cut wrong and pull on him. His diet can be adjusted. Here the pediatrician, or the family physician who knows the child and his background, can be of great service.

WHILE THERE IS NO GREAT IMPORTANCE attached to such habits, they are unacceptable, but not dangerous, parents want to banish them and often, in trying to do so, create new tensions in the child and so increase the need for outlets. Being limited in resources of that sort the child falls back on himself and the annoying habits continue.

Try to be patient. Try not to see too much. Try to find ways of making a child happier, so that he will need fewer such comforts as his thumb in his mouth or his nails under his teeth. A good manicure; a warm bath; an unusual expression of affection—these help to release tensions. Time and love do the rest.

Social Problems

By Emily Post

A DIFFICULT problem is discussed by this reader: "About five months ago a woman friend of mine came to this city to take a position. Knowing we had a spare room she wrote and asked if she might occupy it until she found a place to live. I was only too glad to help her out. She has caused no trouble and seems very happy here—two facts which make it difficult to say anything to her about leaving. And yet, we hadn't intended to include an outsider permanently in our family circle. Is there any solution?"

Invite a member of your family to come for a visit and then tell your friend that he or she is coming in about a week for a visit and that you're sorry but you'll need your guest room.

DEAR MRS. POST: In a private house when pastries or ice cream molds come in paper shells, should they be served in these or taken out of them? I mean in a private house, not a restaurant.

Answer: You leave them in because they are intended to be embellishing.

A Shepherd for Americans in Paris

By Art Buchwald

Art Buchwald, columnist for the New York Herald Tribune and St. Louis Post-Dispatch who writes of "Europe's Lighter Side," decided it might be a good idea to try his hand as tour conductor for a group of Americans in Paris. Following is his account of the experience—theirs and his.

PARIS.

ONE of the major factors in the great surge of American tourism in Europe is the all-expense organized tour for a group of people under the guidance of a tour conductor. These tours are arranged in such a way that a person who pays a flat sum in the United States will have all his transportation (land, sea and air), hotel accommodations, meals, tips, theater tickets, and sightseeing expenses taken care of by the tour company. The people travel in groups of from 10 to 30 and while most of them are strangers when they first meet, it does not take long for them to get acquainted. From then on there is no telling what will happen.

We've always had a desire to be a tour conductor and study one of these groups first hand. Fortunately we were able to talk Harvey Mason, vice president of the Olson Travel Organization, into letting us take on the job for four days. Olson's is one of the largest companies in the tour business. It's exacting and at times harrowing work.

Before going out on the job we were briefed by Mason.

"Your position as tour conductor is a position of the greatest importance, trust and responsibility," he said. "You are the only personal contact between the members of your party and the travel organization. We have done everything in the way of careful advance planning. Your job is much more comprehensive than merely carrying tickets, checking hotel reservations and looking after luggage. You are the leader of the group, and as the leader we expect you to lead. There are no set rules, and no set hours to your job.

"Your name as a tour conductor will be Mr. Art. A luxury tour Q. E. 17 is coming in Saturday morning on the Blue Train from Nice. There are 17 women and four men on the tour as well as Vernon Brooks, the tour conductor. It's not the happiest tour we've had and we've already received a couple of reports of trouble-makers. But I'm sure you'll be able to make them happy in Paris. From now, Mr. Art, you're carrying the ball."

We shook hands warmly. Mason turned us over to Dorothy Woodward, who meets trains and acts as shopping and tour adviser in Paris. She went with us to the Gare de Lyon. While we were waiting for the train she gave us some added tips.

"There are several types of people to be careful of on these tours," she told us. "First, there are the R. C.s, or Room Comparers. If they don't get as nice a room as another member of the tour they'll really kick up a storm. Then there are the F. C.s or Food Comparers, who watch what everyone else is eating to make sure they get as much as the next person. If they don't, the tour conductor is the first one to hear about it. Then you have the F.S.G.s, or Front Seat Grabbers. They're always grabbing the seats nearest to the front of the bus.

"But the worst of all are the E. R.s, or Europe Revisited, types. They've been to Europe before and they feel the other members of the group are green and they're going to tell them everything. They beat the tour conductor to every explanation and even tell his jokes for him. By the end of the 50 days the other members are ready to kill this type and it's your job to prevent any homicidal attacks.

"When you meet the train there isn't much for you to do. Just shake hands with everyone, introduce yourself and answer the thousands of questions."

Just then the Blue Train started pulling into the station. On board were our 21 tour members. We straightened our tie, tightened our belt and went out into the cold, rainy Paris morning to greet them. The first person to get off was Brooks, who had taken these people through six countries. Brooks, a former television producer, looked a little haggard.

He was followed by the rest of the group. As each person debarked, we introduced ourself and said we'd be happy to be of service.

"Well, if you're from the Olson office," one of the ladies said, "I have a complaint. One of your busses broke my alarm clock in Lucerne and now it only runs upside down."

We said we'd report it to the office right away.

Another lady said: "I want my coat cleaned right away. Can you do that for me?"

We said we would.

"If my hotel room isn't ready I'm going to write to Mr. Olson," another woman threatened.

Fortunately all the rooms at the Claridge were ready and by 10 o'clock we had everyone checked in.

MISS WOODWARD held a meeting to explain the Paris program to the group. She said they would go to the Flea Market in the morning, eat at the hotel in the afternoon, dine at Maxim's that evening and then go on a tour of the Left Bank. The next day they would go on a tour of Paris, and in the evening they could go to see "Lohengrin," or the nightclub show at the Lido. The following day they would see a fashion show, sightsee at Versailles and then have dinner at the Restaurant Coq Hardi. Tuesday they had the day free to "rest up for the Folies-Bergere" that evening, and then take a tour of Pigalle, winding up at Les Halles for onion soup. Wednesday there would be a champagne party at the Claridge and then dinner at the Tour d'Argent. Thursday they would take the boat-train and go home.

Miss Woodward asked if there were any questions.

"Yeh," asked one of the men. "Where can I get a good hamburger?"

In the morning we took the tour up to the Flea Market to shop for antiques. When we got back to the hotel for lunch we were missing a member. Having been warned never to lose a member of the tour when you're a tour conductor we were quite worried. But she turned up 30 minutes later, quite angry, and accused us of leaving her up there. We reminded her that everyone was supposed to rendezvous at a certain place and she wasn't there.

"Well," she said, "you know what it is when you're trying to cash a traveler's check with foreigners, and you should have waited."

The next day we resumed our tour of Paris. Everyone was supposed to be down in the lobby of the Hotel Claridge at 9:30 sharp, but as usual there were some late-comers. While we were waiting we asked one of the male members if he wanted to see Versailles, and he drawled: "I don't know if I do or not. What is it?"

In order to make sure that the tour doesn't miss anything, Olson hires a professional guide in each city to point out the sights. Our guide, Eric, put us all on the bus at 10 o'clock and we went out to see the city. At the Place de la Concorde, Eric told us that the guillotine used to stand in the place and French royalty lost their heads there during the Revolution.

Eric sounded like a monarchist to us and had some harsh words to say about the revolutionists. He became pretty gory about the whole thing and before he was finished we all could picture the Place de la Concorde as one great lake of blood.

To top it off, Eric asked one of the members whether she would rather be gassed, hanged or guillotined. The lady said gassed, and Eric said: "I'd rather have a good glass of beer." We all laughed heartily at Eric's joke and decided right then and there he was really a jolly good fellow.

At the Place Vendome, Eric told us the Ritz was the most expensive hotel in the world.

"You can't get a room for less than $50 a day," he told us all confidentially. "The Aga Khan stays there for two days, but pays for the whole year. Rita Hayworth used to stay there when she was married to Aly Khan, but now that she's married to Dick Haymes she doesn't stay there any more."

We all laughed at that one, too. Eric was getting funnier all the time.

ERIC also pointed out Elizabeth Arden's establishment and said it cost a woman $20 to have a haircut there. But he got into trouble because one of the members said she had a haircut at Arden's and it cost no such thing.

This threw Eric off balance and he said: "Well, I don't get my hair cut there anyway."

We all laughed again.

At the Louvre, Eric told us he had three things to show us—the Venus de Milo, Winged Victory and Mona Lisa. He did show us the court jewels, though, and asked: "How many millions of francs do you think that diamond is worth?"

No one had any idea.

"I know," said Eric.

"How much?" we asked.

"Millions of francs."

Someone asked Eric what was flying in the background of one of the paintings.

"Jet planes," he replied, and the whole Louvre rocked with laughter.

Eric showed us Mona Lisa, but told us all that he didn't like her smile because it was too cynical for him. "She wasn't a nice girl," he said.

We were delighted and shocked.

WHEN we got to the Venus de Milo, Eric asked us how "you Americans pronounce it?"

A man from Mississippi said: "Pronounce it? Heck I never even heard of it."

"Well, it's pronounced Venus de Melos," Eric said, and that really was a surprise for all of us.

"That Eric sure knows everything," a lady from Colorado whispered.

From the Louvre we went to Napoleon's tomb and after Eric assured several members of the tour that Napoleon was really buried there we went back on the bus to the Pavilion Royal for lunch.

On the way to the restaurant Eric got off a few more jokes which certainly made the trip short. We liked him so much by this time that we had lost our appetite for lunch.

WELL, as it must to all tours, the time came for the Q. E. 17 to go home. As tour conductor, we had mixed feelings on the subject. We were both happy and sad: happy that they were leaving and sad that a new tour would come in the next day.

Q. E. 17 had seen everything there was to see in Paris. They had been to Pigalle, and Montmartre, Montparnasse and St. Germain des Pres. Some of the more wicked ones had even seen the Folies Bergere, and "Lohengrin" at the opera. When they got back home they would have stories to tell that would make the "townfolks'" hair stand on end.

Olson Tours had done all they could for the group's members and although we would have loved to have gone back with them on the Queen Elizabeth, our responsibility ended when they were loaded safely on the boat train.

At the station we said our last goodby. People told us if we ever got to their home town we had to come to their house for dinner. Even the RCs (room comparers) and the FSGs (front-seat grabbers) seemed sorry to be going home.

The whistle blew and, waving our last goodby, we watched the Q. E. 17 roll out of the railroad station.

Back at the office the vice president called us in. "Mr. Art," he said, "we rate all our tour conductors according to the Naval conduct system. Out of a possible 4.0 we are giving you 3.5."

"Three point five?" we said, shocked. "Why not 4.0? What did I do wrong?"

"Five-tenths of a point for that?"

Mason replied: "The penalty wouldn't be so severe except for the fact the member was over 50 years old.

"But please don't think that's bad at all. Olson is proud of you and any time you want to be a tour conductor we'd like to have you."

ART BUCHWALD

TO TOP IT OFF, ERIC ASKED ONE OF THE MEMBERS WHETHER SHE WOULD RATHER BE HANGED, GASSED OR GUILLOTINED. THE LADY SAID GASSED, AND ERIC SAID, "I'D RATHER HAVE A GLASS OF BEER."

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

SOUTH went in for some "partner-trapping" in the bidding of the following hand, but Lady Luck smiled on him and the outcome was very pleasing to his side.

North, dealer.

	♠AK873 ♥Q ♦J642 ♣A53
♠Q10542 ♥7 ♦Q83 ♣QJ107	NORTH WEST EAST SOUTH	♠J9 ♥10954 ♦K1097 ♣862
	♠6 ♥AKJ8632 ♦A5 ♣K94

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1♠	Pass	3♥	Pass
3♠	Pass	4♥	Pass
5♥	Pass	7♥(!)	Pass
Pass	Pass

It is easy to see that South's grand-slam bid was inconsistent. In effect, this bid put North in the anomalous position of having to pass four hearts, thereby missing a laydown small slam, or by bidding five hearts to land in a none too secure grand slam. Incidentally, North showed excellent judgment and enterprise in raising to five hearts on his singleton. He realized what so many players ignore—that the queen of a suit bid so vigorously by partner is a key card that merits great respect, singleton or no.

West opened the queen of clubs, and after carefully surveying the dummy, declarer took this trick in his own hand to conserve dummy's club entry, and then cashed the spade ace and ruffed a low spade. He returned to the heart queen and led another low spade. It was cause for considerable disquiet when East threw off on this round, marking West with an original holding of five spades, but there was still a chance and declarer went out for it. He cashed the rest of his trumps, discarding diamonds from the table, and when all hands were down to four cards, West started to feel the pressure.

Declarer's last four cards were the A-5 of diamonds and the 9-4 of clubs. West had kept two spades and two clubs. Now South laid down the ace of diamonds, and West was through. Obviously, he could not afford to abandon his spade stopper, so he discarded a club on the chance that East could stop that suit. But East could not oblige, and when South, having thrown a spade from dummy, led a club to the ace, the club nine became high.

Jean Beasley Is Married To D. B. Read

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

GROTON, Mass., Sept. 20

ST. JOHN'S CHAPEL at Groton School was the scene yesterday afternoon of the marriage of Miss Jean Edwards Beasley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Storey Beasley, to Donald Bartow Read of Hartford, Conn. The bride's father, headmaster at Mary Institute, and Mrs. Beasley live at 101 North Warson road, Ladue, a St. Louis suburb. They were in the East for their daughter's marriage.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George Peabody and the Rev. John Crocker, headmaster of Groton School, where Mr. Beasley formerly was head of the history department. Later a reception was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Philip Nash. Mrs. Nash is a godmother of the former Miss Beasley.

Miss Elizabeth Slade of St. Paul, Minn., was maid of honor. Miss Slade was the bride's roommate at Vassar College and last spring was in St. Louis for the party at which the Beasleys announced their daughter's engagement. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Louis Frederick Polk Jr. of Cambridge, Mass., the former Miss Sally Lees Boyd of St. Louis; Miss Ellicott Hewes, Avon, Conn.; Miss Alexandra Noble, Groton, and Mr. Read's sister, Mrs. Seymour H. Knox III, Buffalo.

GOWNED IDENTICALLY they wore short copper toned crystallette dresses. The molded bodices had cap sleeves and were banded around the deeply cut necklines with matching velvet which extended in panels down the backs widening toward the hemlines. The waistlines were marked with velvet bows. The wide circular skirts were worn over taffeta and crinoline. Half hats, in a leaf design, softened with short veils were their headpieces. They carried bouquets of autumn blossoms.

The bride's gown in off-white taffeta, featured re-embroidered alencon lace highlighted with iridescent beads and pearls, at the neckline and over the tops of the shoulders. Her short sleeves were shirred and the full skirt appliqued with the lace at front, flared into a fan-shaped train. Her illusion veil was gathered to a stiffened lace brim embroidered with pearls and sequins. She held a nosegay of white flowers.

Mr. Read, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Read, of Purchase, N. Y., and New York City, had as best man Lt. (j.g.) Sidney S. Whelan of New York. Ushers were his three brothers, Roderick Read, Corpus Christi, Tex.; Peter Read, Kisco, N. Y., and Frederick Read, Purchase, N. Y., and Peter Nash, Groton; Robert Whitmer, Greenwich, Conn., and Wayne Allen Schayer, Pittsburgh, Pa.

After a wedding trip around the Gaspe peninsula, Mr. Read and his bride will live in Hartford, where he is associated with the Hartford National Bank and Trust Company. He is an alumnus of St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., and Trinity College, Hartford. The former Miss Beasley was graduated from the Lincoln School, Providence, R. I., and last June from Vassar College. She is a provisional member of the Junior League.

Several parties were given in honor of the pair last weekend. Saturday Miss Elizabeth Peabody, a godmother of the bride, and Miss Margery Peabody were hostesses at a luncheon at their home in Groton and that night the bridegroom's parents gave the rehearsal dinner at the Groton Inn. Yesterday the Rev. and Mrs. John Crocker were host and hostess at a luncheon before the wedding.

To Be Matron of Honor

MRS. HENRY C. HOENER, WHO WILL BE THE HONOR ATTENDANT SATURDAY AT THE WEDDING OF MISS JESSIE MARIE PUTNEY AND HENRY FREDERICK NIEDRINGHAUS III AT WESTMINSTER PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH. MISS PUTNEY IS THE DAUGHTER OF MRS. ELMORE MARTIN PUTNEY.

Sacred Heart School Alumnae Chapters to Sponsor Fall Fair

THIRTY-ONE women are serving as committee chairmen for the annual fall fair to be given by the alumnae of the Academy of the Sacred Heart in St. Charles, Saturday on the academy grounds beginning at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. A buffet supper will be served from 5 to 7:30 o'clock. Proceeds will be used to redecorate the convent.

General chairmen for the fair are Miss Marie Josephine Carr and Mrs. John J. Morris, representing the St. Louis chapter of the alumnae and Mrs. Frank Rauch and Mrs. Albert Kister of the St. Charles alumnae group.

Those from St. Louis who head committees are: Miss Margaret Schottmueller, Mrs. Stephen J. Gavin, Mrs. V. A. Horne, Miss Mary Conroy, Mrs. Walter J. Maffatt, Mrs. Alfred H. Ricker, Mrs. R. Herbert Combs, Mrs. Michael H. Dalton, Mrs. Richard C. Roberts, Mrs. George Preisler, Miss Rosemary McCabe, Miss Mary Ann Burke, Mrs. Jack Zehert, Mrs. Josephine L. Conran, Mrs. Charles J. Daly Jr., and Mrs. William Erker.

Committee chairmen from the St. Charles group include: Mrs. Robert W. Beste, Mrs. Joseph Ohlms, Mrs. Reinhart Stiegemeier, Miss Elizabeth Platte, Mrs. Henry Pieper, Mrs. Oliver Denker, Mrs. Henry H. Sperandio, Mrs. A. M. Olson, Mrs. Joseph B. Wentker, Mrs. Raymond J. Thro, Mrs. Claude S. Tuttle, Miss Kathryn Golden, Mrs. Walter J. Chrismer, Mrs. Roy W. Westerfeld and Miss Mary Duchesne Marheineke.

In addition to the buffet supper and card games, there will be sales of home-made cakes and candy, aprons, novelties, antiques and white elephant gifts. Entertainment for children will be featured.

MISS MARIE ELIZABETH DIEKMANN has set Saturday morning, Oct. 23, as the date for her marriage to R. Curry Paynter at Our Lady of Lourdes Church. Miss Diekmann, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Diekmann, lives with her aunt, Miss Elizabeth Whelan, 7324 Pershing avenue, University City. She will be attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Joseph H. Diekmann Jr.

Mr. Paynter, son of Mrs. James Ralph Paynter, 327 North Taylor avenue, and the late Mr. Paynter, has asked his brother, J. William Paynter, to be best man. The prospective bride's brother, Joseph H. Diekmann Jr., and Mr. Paynter's brothers-in-law, Arthur E. Lottes Jr. and William H. Hann Jr., will be ushers.

Miss Diekmann and Mr. Paynter will be honored at a series of pre-wedding parties. Mr. and Mrs. Lottes gave a barbecue supper Saturday at their home, 9413 Pine avenue, Brentwood; Miss Dorothy Kothoff, 5046 Tholozan avenue, will give a luncheon Sept. 25; Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Done, 616 Lee avenue, Webster Groves, will give a cocktail party Oct. 2; Miss Whelan's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Whelan, 17 Narragansette drive, Ladue Woods, will entertain guests at a cocktail party Oct. 9; Miss Virginia Dubrouillet, sister of Mrs. Whelan, will be hostess at a luncheon Oct. 16 at the Narragansette drive address, and Mr. Paynter's brother and sister-in-law, the J. William Paynters, will give the rehearsal dinner at their home, 855 Wood avenue, Kirkwood, Oct. 21.

My Day

Protest on Freight Rate Legislation

By Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW YORK.

I HAVE before me a copy of a letter sent to the President by a group of people representing business organizations which seem to be very much opposed to Senator Capehart's Bill S-3646, dealing with freight rates. This bill was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary, and at the close of the session was still pending before the subcommittee.

In writing to the President these organizations say: "We know from long and bitter experience that the enactment of the Capehart bill could seriously weaken the Robinson-Patman act. The chiselers, the short-sighted operators, need only one loophole through which they would demand and get destructive price discriminations. We find it hard to believe that in these trying days of economic readjustment, when small business is battling to survive, your Administration, Mr. President, would add a new burden of legalized discriminatory advantages favoring the big and the powerful.

"Such a loophole was in the original Clayton act. Six years of factual investigation by the Congress and by the Federal Trade Commission prior to 1936 made it perfectly clear that this loophole prevented effective enforcement. We had thought that the Robinson-Patman act had closed this loophole permanently."

I AM NO business woman, but the people who sign this letter all seem to be representing business groups such as the National Association of Retail Druggists, the National Association of Retail Grocers and the Co-operative League of the U.S.A. They must know something about business and, particularly, small business concerns and their interests.

I made inquiry and was informed that the announced purpose of the Capehart bill was to clarify the Robinson-Patman act with respect to freight absorption. The opponents consider it simply another proposed loophole through which large manufacturers may stifle competition. Freight absorption means absorbing the cost of freight to distant points in the prices to purchasers at points nearer the shipping manufacturer.

This, of course, permits lowering of prices to meet those of competitors in distant areas. But it also permits prices higher than necessary in areas nearer the manufacturer — where, incidentally, competition has in many instances been eliminated. Obviously this device can be employed to great advantage by big manufacturing concerns.

THE CAPEHART proposal stipulates merely good faith, which means such a practice would be legal even if it is discriminatory to the purchaser in its effects. It would be necessary to prove collusion and conspiracy to fix prices before freight absorption could be ruled out as a form of price discrimination prohibited by the Robinson-Patman act.

Everyone knows how difficult it is to establish legal proof of conspiracy or collusion, so it looks to me as though this was another effort to help the big man and ignore the little one.

International Designer's Pattern

IN her couture establishment on the Place Vendome in Paris, Bruyere turns out models for some of the best-dressed women in continental and international society. This two-piece cocktail dress (unlined) which was one of her big successes is one of the reasons for her popularity. In addition to embodying typical French chic, it has figure flattering lines and some easy to handle but intricate looking detail. The side bodice pieces, inserted under the raglan shoulder are draped and shirred into the waistline with a very flattering effect over the bosom. The hipbone pockets stand out slightly, further accenting the minimized waist. The skirt is slim and straight. Mme. Bruyere suggests making it in crepe, shantung or any of the new winter cottons.

Bust	Waist	Hips		Sizes
34	24	35	inches	10
35	25	36	inches	12
36½	26½	37½	inches	14
38	28	39	inches	16
40	30	41	inches	18

Pattern S-237. Size 12 requires four and three-fourths yards of 36-inch material for dress and five-eighths yard of 35-inch material for lining.

To order a pattern, address International Designer's Patterns, in care of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Post Office Box 993, Department SX-17, G.P.O., New York 1, New York. State size. Send $1. Airmail handling 25 cents extra. Add four cents for handling if paid by check or money order.

Jumbo Molasses Cookies

Ingredients: 3½ cups sifted flour, one teaspoon baking soda, one-half teaspoon salt, one and one-half teaspoons ginger, one-half teaspoon cloves, one-half teaspoon nutmeg, one-fourth teaspoon allspice, one-half cup shortening, one cup sugar, one cup water, one cup dark old-fashioned molasses.

Method: Sift together flour, baking soda, salt, ginger, cloves, nutmeg and allspice. Cream shortening and sugar. Mix water and molasses. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately to creamed mixture with water-molasses, blending well after each addition. Chill in covered bowl in refrigerator overnight. Roll out one-fourth-inch thick on floured board or prepared pastry cloth. Cut into rounds with a four-inch cookie cutter. Place three cookies at a time on greased baking sheet. Bake in moderate (350 degree) oven 10 to 12 minutes. Remove to cookie rack with large spatula to cool. Store in tightly covered container. When cookies are cold, write names on them by forcing decorative frosting through narrow opening of cake decorator. Makes one and one-half dozen cookies.

Tears for the Bride

By ROBERT MARTIN

When the noted sleuth, JIM BENNETT, accepted the invitation of his secretary, SANDY HOLLIS, to join with her family for a week-end of pheasant shooting in rural Ohio, he looked forward to a pleasant, quiet time. But when he met her family and friends, he realized that he was amid a drama of human conflict as tense as anything he'd experienced in his long crime-detection career. Sandy's young war-vet brother, RALPH, had "ditched" the spirited JUDY KIRKLAND for docile EILEEN FORTUNE, and the hate between these two women flew like sparks. But the pheasant hunt proceeds as scheduled, with the Hollis's, Eileen Fortune and her father, JAKE, and Bennett, armed and equipped to bring down birds. On a ridge overlooking the Kirkland property, Ralph Hollis is felled by gun-shot and lies bleeding on the ground. Judy Kirkland, wildly distraught, rushes to his side, admitting that she had been shooting back of the ridge, and that her gun may have accidentally got Ralph. The stricken man is taken to a hospital and the long, agonizing vigil at his bedside begins for the Hollis kin.

CHAPTER NINE

I LIT a cigarette and leaned against the beech tree. At my feet Ralph's blood was now a part of the earth, only a faint darkness on the brown leaves, and I thought, Bennett, you're just a suspicious old fool. This shooting was an accident, pure and simple, and—

A gun cracked, not too far away. The sound rumbled up the ravine in an obscene echo, and splinters of bark sprayed out from the beech tree close beside my head. I jerked away and dropped to the ground, my hand reaching automatically for my inside coat pocket. But my gun wasn't there, of course, not in the bulky new hunting coat. It was in my bag in an upstairs room back at the Hollis farmhouse. I hugged the damp leaves and waited.

I waited maybe five minutes before I began to crawl backward down the side of the ravine. My coat got bunched up beneath my arms and I was covered with burrs and dirt before I reached the bottom. I stood up and gazed upward at the exposed ridge I'd just left. The shot which had struck the beech tree had come from my left, from the general direction of the highway. I walked that way along the bottom of the ravine, but when I emerged on the open fields I saw nothing but the rolling country and the white ribbon of highway beyond.

As I moved across the field toward the Hollis farm house, I wondered if some people in this part of the country hunted pheasants with rifles, because it had surely been a rifle bullet smacking the beech tree beside my head. I decided that most pheasant hunters would use a shotgun—except Rex Bishop who, I remembered suddenly, had carried a musket on his fence-fixing job "down in the bottom." I stopped and looked around, but I didn't know where "the bottom" was located, or even what it was; a flat low place, I had always thought, usually near water, but I could have been wrong.

I WALKED on up to the farm and as I turned the corner of the barn I saw Homer Hollis standing on the back porch filling his pipe. I moved up to him, said, "Hi, Homer."

He regarded me over a lighted match. "Hello, Jim."

I sat down on the porch step. "Sandy still at the hospital?" I asked.

"Yes. She and Mom stayed there. I came on back home. Nothing I can do."

"Any change?"

He shook his head, and we sat in silence for maybe a minute. Then he said, "Jim, I want to thank you for carrying our boy all the way."

"It was nothing."

"I won't forget it. I kind of blame myself for leaving you and Sandy and Ralph. Maybe, if I'd stayed with you . . ."

"No," I said. "We saw Rex, and he suggested we try the ravine. By the way, he said to tell you that he might not get up to the house at noon. He's got some sandwiches with him."

Homer nodded. "He was determined to fix that fence today. It's just as well, I guess; there won't be any womenfolk around to cook."

"I can fry eggs and bacon," I said.

"We'll find something, I reckon. Would you like a drink?"

"No, thanks. Maybe I'd better go back and tell Rex about Ralph?"

"We've got a date to shoot target," I said. "Where's Jake Fortune? I saw Eileen at the hospital."

"Oh, after we left you and got near his place he remembered he had to make a phone call. We waited for him, and when he came back out he said he had to stick around and wait for a cattle man from Cleveland to call him back. Eileen and I hunted a while, and were working our way back here when we saw Judy running to tell us about Ralph. We got Mom and went right to the hospital. I don't know where Judy went. She was pretty cut up about it."

"Yes," I said.

He said suddenly, "That Judy has always been harum-scarum and irresponsible. It seems to me she could have seen Ralph before she shot. . ."

"Accidents happen," I said.

He sighed and nodded gloomily. "I suppose so, but I'm glad that Ralph broke off with her. She would have led him a merry chase. Eileen will make him a better wife, but Judy was sure sweet on him—maybe she still is, for all I know. She shouldn't have come here last night and stirred things up, but she's like all the Kirklands. Trouble-makers, I always said, and downright mean, sometimes. Especially when they're crossed. Her dad had the wildest temper in this county."

"Like Judy?" I asked softly.

HE LOOKED at me quickly, but I avoided his eyes and gazed out over the fields. "Jim," he said quietly, "what were you doing back in the woods?"

I shrugged. "Trying to scare up a bird." Immediately I knew I had slipped.

"You didn't have a gun with you. You went back to where it happened. Did you learn anything?"

"No." I didn't tell him about the bullet hitting the tree. I hadn't fully made up my mind about that yet. "What about this Earl Seltzman, the fellow who left with Eileen last night? Sandy told me that he was in love with Eileen, before she got engaged to Ralph—after Ralph split up with Judy."

"That's right." Homer knocked out his pipe on the edge of the step. "Earl went around with Eileen a long time. He was turned down for the service—sinus trouble, I heard — and after Ralph went away he tried to make hay with Eileen again."

"Did he get anywhere?"

Homer shrugged his spare shoulders. "How can you tell? Maybe Eileen did see Earl while Ralph was gone, but she and Ralph seem to hit it off fine, now that he's home. I know that Jake Fortune was in favor of Eileen marrying Earl. I guess he wanted his girl to marry the Seltzman money, and our Ralph is just a poor farmer boy." He smiled wryly, and added, "I mean, in comparison. This place is paid for, and it'll be Ralph's some day, but Earl Seltzman is really wealthy. His folks owned half of this county, and Earl got it all. I figure that Jake Fortune could use a son-in-law like Earl. Jake's in a bad way—this summer I heard he came out on the short end of a stock gamble, and before that he borrowed money to drill some oil wells north of here. All dry holes. Now Jake is buying cattle on commission, and the bank took over his farm. They're letting him and Eileen live there until it's sold."

"And then what?" I asked.

"Well, Mom says that Ralph and Eileen, after they're married, figure on staying with us for a while. That's all right — we've got plenty of room — but we'll probably have Jake, too."

"Maybe not," I said. "Not if Earl wins Eileen back."

He nodded slowly. "I've thought of that, and it might be a good thing. Ralph's a good boy, but something's bothering him—he's mixed up. After the trouble he had with Judy—whatever it was—he started seeing Eileen right away. It was too fast. And then he was away all that time, and now he's home, and I don't think the boy knows himself what he really feels, or what he wants. You saw what happened last night. I never particularly liked Earl Seltzman — always thought there was something sneaking about him—but I give him credit; he's made his land pay. He has what he calls a 'foreman' on each farm, like a factory, and this year he had some of the finest wheat and corn raised in these parts, and now he's going in for beef."

I said, "Do you suppose Eileen would marry Earl Seltzman, if it weren't for her engagement to Ralph?"

"Maybe," Homer said shortly. "I don't know."

"She might marry Earl," I said, "but not while Ralph is alive?"

He gazed bleakly out over his land and said in his gentle voice, "I wasn't going to say that, Jim."

Autumn will officially begin at 7:56 a.m. Thursday, and Meteorologist Harry F. Wahlgren said "it looks as if hot weather is over—at least for awhile." He predicted partly cloudy skies and occasional showers tomorrow with maximum temperatures near 80.

Wahlgren said fair and cooler weather should prevail Wednesday with a morning low of about 50 and an afternoon high in the upper 70s. The mercury rose at 4 p.m. yesterday to 95, which was .6 of a degree below the record high established for that date in 1925, and dropped to 60 by 11:30 p.m.

The 2.22 inches of rainfall yesterday and last night brought the total for the year to 20.36 inches, a deficiency of 8.39 for the period. Gusts of wind, accompanied by thundershowers and a large hailstorm, were up to 65 miles an hour.

Other heavy rainfalls in the St. Louis area included: 2.64 inches at Belleville, 2.8 at St. Charles, 2.44 at Lambert-St. Louis Field and 2.16 at Webster Groves. Minimum temperatures in the state this morning ranged from 54 at Kirksville to 82 at Joplin. Lowest in the nation was 25 at Elko, Nev.

ON THE ST. LAWRENCE.

HAVING left the harbor of Quebec, I am now on the way to Europe. The first stop will be England.

My thoughts have drifted to the mighty St. Lawrence. Today it is the gateway to Canada, with ocean steamers passing up and down. In a few years it will be several times as important. The St. Lawrence Waterway will make it possible for large ocean liners to reach Toronto, Buffalo, Hamilton, Cleveland and other ports on the Great Lakes.

THE RIVER contains water from the Great Lakes system. Most of its water has tumbled over Niagara Falls. After passing through Lake Ontario, the water forms the St. Lawrence river. Several good-sized rivers, including the Ottawa, enter the St. Lawrence at points east of Lake Ontario.

The ocean liner on which I am a passenger is the Johann Van Oldenbarnevelt. Never before have I ridden in a vessel with such a long name. The name honors a hero in Dutch history, and I suppose there is little hope that it will be shortened.

On either side of the St. Lawrence, passengers can see land, but the river has widened to more than 15 miles. Before long the width will be so great that it may be hard to see even one side.

The river gets to be 90 miles wide by the time it enters the Gulf of St. Lawrence. This gulf, like others, contains salt water.

PASSENGERS NOTICE LITTLE IF ANY SMOKE COMING FROM THE FUNNELS.

IF YOU asked me to tell the length of the St. Lawrence river, I should be somewhat puzzled about the correct answer. From one point of view, the river starts at the eastern end of Lake Ontario, and the figure of 760 miles may cover the length.

From another view point the "greater" St. Lawrence river starts at the western side of Lake Superior, with the St. Louis river in Minnesota as the headstream. If we measure that way, through four of the five Great Lakes, the total length is about 2100 miles.
